PROSPERITY UNEQUALLED IN STORE, CAMPBELL

Boasting Overflowing Community Gathering Almost Becomes Grand Revival Meeting.

Prosperity unparalleled in the history of the coast, to be upon us within a year, was predicted by President P. L. Campbell, of the University of Oregon, who addressed a monster community mass meeting here Friday night. His address was a most stirring one and a most optimistic one. He recited the changes he had seen come over Oregon since his arrival here by ox team in the modern mode of transportation through the air. If other portions of the world properly survive, Oregon is bound to prosper, he said. "For no other place is there the natural resources that are here and in a few years the only great stands of saw timber will be in the three Pacific coast states. The present will be forgotten in the great prosperity that is ours in the very immediate future."

President Campbell's address was made at the first community gathering in the reorganization campaign of the chamber of commerce under the American City Bureau plan. The high school auditorium was jammed and overflowed during the war was there a community gathering that came as near being an old-fashioned revival. The band played lively and stirring airs, the audience joined in community singing led by Rev. Carlson, of the Christian church and even the children put on stunts. The president of the high school student body, Wilbur Spray, was one of the principal speakers. J. J. Kern, retiring president of the chamber of commerce, was also a speaker. Mr. Miller laid stress upon his belief that the building of a business community lies largely with those conducting the business houses and industries, who owe it to their communities to sell such goods manufacture such products, and give such service as will make the home dollar seek a job at home. Mr. Kern said that the growing generation can only be kept here by building a community which will induce them to want to remain at home.

Major L. W. Deputz, of the American City Bureau, made the real pep talk and more to come, already announced. The program was concluded with refreshments served by members of the domestic science class in charge of their instructor, Miss Maud Lamson.

C. OF C. LUNCHEON PROVES SPLENDID SUCCESS

Major and captains of the chamber of commerce reorganization teams met at Bartlett Hotel Tuesday, June 14, at the first luncheon of business men ever held in Cottage Grove in the interest of civic-commercial organization work, and held a rousing and enthusiastic meeting. The service, fund committee held another yesterday at the same place, and will lunch there again tomorrow.

Many people doubted that the luncheon could be utilized in Cottage Grove but now it is a proved success and simply shows what proper organization can do. A member of the committee, when approached as to the benefit of these luncheons, said he thought it was the best medium possible for saving time and getting results in bringing together all the elements of our community for real advancement.

These luncheons last for one hour and a nominal charge is made to the individuals taking part. There are out of town speakers and musical programs. Business is transacted, thus saving time for the business man. Every one conceded that the first of this kind was a huge success. It is hoped that when the organization of our new chamber of commerce is completed that we will have as high as a hundred people in attendance in regular weekly luncheons. This system is being followed at other points in towns all over the United States.

STRAWBERRIES IN SIZE GREATLY RESEMBLE YOUNG APPLES

Strawberries that look like young apples were picked a few days ago from the F. W. Hawkins garden. A gullion of the berries were picked from a patch hardly big enough to give room to sit the peal down. Some of them were as much as three inches in circumference. Mr. Hawkins says he does not know the variety and does not care.

WOODROW WILSON

In these times commercial organizations should not decrease their activities. On the other hand they should continue to work along their usual lines, and, if possible, increase their activities and spheres of influence. There is greater need now than ever before for cooperative activity and systematized organization.—Woodrow Wilson.

ONLY 68 ATTEND FIRST ANNUAL VEATCH PICNIC

Members of the Veatch family enjoyed a delightful reunion and picnic dinner in the park Sunday, initiating what they propose to make an annual event hereafter, to be celebrated on the second Sunday in June. According to Hamilton Veatch, only 68 were present, but he said that next year he hopes the whole family would be there. The oldest members of the family present were "Uncle" George Veatch, 93; "Aunt" Harriett Wallace, 80; J. P. Veatch, 82; Ann Sears, 77. Others of the family were J. C. Wallace, and Wallace, L. H. Veatch, May Veatch, Oliver Veatch, Mrs. Lucinda Veatch, Sam Veatch, R. W. Veatch, Florence Veatch, George Veatch, Martin, John Martin, Dora Martin, J. G. Willits, Minnie Willits, Mrs. D. Norris, Halie Willits, Leland Willits, H. F. Wynne, Mrs. Alice Veatch Wynne, Naomi Wynne, Edie Wallace, Mrs. Charlie Wallace, Walter Wallace, Curtis Veatch, Mrs. Lena Veatch, End Veatch, Wanda Veatch, Phine Veatch Mosby, George Mosby, Darrel Mosby, Adolph Beuter, Mrs. Euphonia Veatch Beuter, Kaye Beuter, B. A. Trask, Mrs. Dove Trask, George Scott, Mrs. Lottie Scott, Vera Scott, Chester Scott, Betty Ben Scott, E. S. Smith, Mrs. Mabel Veatch Smith, Mary Jane Smith, Roy Short, Mrs. Blanche Veatch Short, Margaret Short, Frank Veatch.

CIVIC DINNER MONDAY IS TO BE EVENT

What is expected to be quite the biggest event of its kind that Cottage Grove has ever had is the civic dinner to be given at 7 o'clock Monday evening in Moose hall as a part of the chamber of commerce reorganization campaign. Only 200 plates will be sold and the larger number of those already have been spoken for. Formal invitations have been issued by the arrangements committee to the citizens generally and their families.

It is expected that representatives from the principal cities of the valley will be here for the occasion. Among the prominent speakers who will be on the program is J. D. Allen, of San Francisco. Mr. Allen is an overseas chaplain, since the war, has identified himself with community organization work with the American City Bureau, and who is said to have a message with a kick in every word.

Real home cooking, a plentiful supply of dairy, cleaning services assured all who attend, for practically the entire population of women in the community are working to give Cottage Grove the biggest and best community banquet it has ever had. It is considered an idle warning of all who wish to attend the dinner get their reservations in just as soon as possible. The dinner itself would be sufficient to draw a capacity crowd of men, without the high class program which will follow.

Thirty women of the community met at the chamber of commerce headquarters Saturday and had plans for the dinner, which they will prepare service, and appointed the following committees:—

Menu—Mrs. Chas. Beidler, Mrs. T. C. Wheeler, Mrs. A. W. Kime.

Purchasing—Mrs. S. L. Mackin, Mrs. A. E. Phelps, Mrs. C. A. Bartlett.

Decorations—Mrs. U. C. Dyott, Miss Myrtle Potts, Mrs. C. J. Kern, Mrs. Raymond Grabe, Mrs. O. H. Heine, Mrs. George Matthews.

Service—Mrs. L. R. Long, she to select her workers.

Dishes—Mrs. G. B. Pitzer, Mrs. E. W. Ames, Mrs. Geo. O. Knowles, Mrs. H. B. Griggs.

The purpose of the dinner is to further acquaint the people of Cottage Grove with the Chamber of Commerce reorganization plans. No solicitations will be made.

COTTAGE GROVE TO HAVE A GREAT CELEBRATION

Cottage Grove has a reputation for never doing by halves anything she undertakes. She is going to maintain that reputation this year in the Fourth of July celebration.

In the past she has had some memorable times, but old timers on the committee say that this year will surpass all the past years.

Questions Are Asked and Answered

Convincing Reasons Are Given Why Cottage Grove Should Have Chamber of Commerce and What It Can Do for the City

Among the many questions asked of the men who are promoting the expansion and reorganization of the Cottage Grove Chamber of Commerce, five seem to be uppermost in the minds of the citizens. They are:

1. Why should Cottage Grove have a Chamber of Commerce?
2. What can the Cottage Grove Chamber of Commerce do?
3. Who is going to run the Cottage Grove Chamber of Commerce?
4. How will the Cottage Grove Chamber of Commerce be financed?
5. What about the permanence of the Cottage Grove Chamber of Commerce?

Members of the executive committee have prepared answers to these questions which will be published in the Sentinel. The first two answers are published herewith and the others will appear in the following issue.

1. Why should Cottage Grove have a Chamber of Commerce?

Every city needs an organization of the chamber of commerce. Every city needs an organization of the chamber of commerce. Every city needs an organization of the chamber of commerce. Every city needs an organization of the chamber of commerce.

2. What can the Cottage Grove Chamber of Commerce do?

It can do anything upon which the thought and energy of the community have been centered as needed to be done. It can do anything upon which the thought and energy of the community have been centered as needed to be done.

3. Who is going to run the Cottage Grove Chamber of Commerce?

What it will do depends entirely upon the membership. Every member will have an equal voice in saying what it should do and the doing of those things will then become a matter of uniting the whole chamber to that end.

4. How will the Cottage Grove Chamber of Commerce be financed?

Putting the question another way, suppose it is asked: Who is going to say what the chamber of commerce should do? The president? No. The directors? No. The committees? No. The members? Yes.

5. What about the permanence of the Cottage Grove Chamber of Commerce?

In a word, it is the referendum. Two questions will be asked of every member immediately after the week of the intensive campaign:

1. What, as a citizen, do you think is the thing of first importance for the Chamber of Commerce to undertake for the good of the city of Cottage Grove?

2. What, in your opinion, is the first thing that should be undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce to improve conditions and opportunities in your own line of business?

In securing answers to these two questions, reliance will not be placed on mail replies. Group meetings and conferences will be held, discussions invited and other methods employed, all intended to obtain from every member a candid and earnest expression of opinion or suggestions.

It has been the experience in other cities that the answers to these questions, though coming from 400 to 3000 members of commerce members, classified themselves under a comparatively few important headings. These subjects, thus broadly defined, represent the planks in the platform of the expanded chamber.

It is clearly seen that to the program of the work as thus developed, the whole membership is pledged, and it is the duty of the officers to concentrate their whole effort in carrying this program through. The program will cover a period of at least three years of activity.

Having learned the interests of the individual members, it is possible for the directors to call into committee service the men who are interested in certain projects. The signed answers to the questions will disclose who are the men most interested in various matters. By putting such men on special committees, the directors insure a careful study of projects and their completion by interested groups of citizens.

It is by giving the individual member the opportunity to work on the thing he is particularly anxious to have done that the whole membership is kept alive and active.

An important plank in the platform will be publicity for Cottage Grove, the adoption of methods to advertise the city, its attractions and opportunities, and to create and maintain a favorable opinion of the city throughout the country.

A city's good will is its reputation.

Ice Plant in Operation

The Cottage Grove ice plant commenced operations Monday and is now serving its customers. It is located across the alley in the rear of the City meat market and is owned by Hubbell & Bartels.

THOMPSON CUTOFF IS GIVEN UP BY COURT

A long controversy over the location of a portion of the Cottage Grove-Lorane highway through the Silk creek valley was settled Friday by the county court when it decided in favor of the old route in preference to the new route as surveyed and previously decided upon.

The new route was designed to cut off a job in the highway extending through the Humphrey farm and shortening the distance between Cottage Grove and Lorane 1100 feet. Many more farmers reside on the old route than on the cutoff and this was a strong factor in the court's decision to abandon the cutoff plan.

Seventeen families are served by the old road which it was planned to abandon as a through highway and a strong fight was put up by them to be left on the main thoroughfare.

P. M. Morse, county engineer, says that while the route of the old road is longer, the cost of the two projects is practically the same.

Injured in Jumping from Car

Mrs. Fred Guggenberg is suffering from injuries sustained when she became frightened while learning to drive a car and jumped from it while the car was moving at a high rate of speed. She was on her way from the north in a car belonging to her husband's father. Her sleeve accidentally caught upon and advanced the gas pedal and the speed with which the car began to move so frightened her that she jumped. The senior Guggenberg brought the car to a stop, picked up the injured woman and brought her here for medical attention. Her injuries are not dangerous. The Guggenbergs live two miles east of the city.

COTTAGE GROVE WOMEN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Miss Edna Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. George Hodel, her brother-in-law and sister, are lying in a hospital at Turlock, Calif., suffering from dangerous injuries sustained when their car was wrecked in Oakland by a street car some time the first of last week. Mrs. Hodel is the most seriously injured. One of her hips is fractured in two places and she sustained serious bruises. Her body is in a plaster cast and her condition is grave. Miss Edna sustained a broken nose, her jaw was fractured in two places, her teeth were all knocked out and her face badly cut and bruised. Mr. Hodel sustained a broken leg and several flying glass, and was badly cut by the wheels.

Particulars of the accident further than these have not been received. Mrs. W. A. Garoutte and Harold Dugan left here Saturday and reached Turlock Sunday, and Mrs. Garoutte wired her husband these facts, since when no further news has been received. It is understood, however that both Miss Johnson and Mr. Hodel are out of danger.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Johnson left here last week by motor. They reached Turlock Sunday, and Mrs. Garoutte wired her husband these facts, since when no further news has been received. It is understood, however that both Miss Johnson and Mr. Hodel are out of danger.

Mr. Hodel is the proprietor of a laundry at Turlock. Miss Edna had been there but a few weeks.

EUGENE IS DRUBBED TO A FARE-YOU-WELL

Cottage Grove Champs Have Batting Eye; 13 Hits, 13 Scores and but One Error.

The Cottage Grove champs were in old-time form Sunday and took a game from Eugene, making a game each for these teams. The visitors were not strong as a week before, while the locals batted the horseshoe all over the field and Cellers, in the box, sent 'em down regular by the strikeout route. The score was 13 to 2, the worst drubbing given a team here this year.

"Fat" Smith had his batting eye with him, garnering four hits, one of them being stretched into a home run when it hit the fence at a point where there wasn't any fence. This brought in two scores besides his own. Hans got credit for three hits. Cellers, who pitched a remarkable game and was twice started the batting, came next with two hits. Thirteen hits were recorded for the locals, with exactly the same number of runs.

"General" King was behind the bat for seven innings before changing the lineup to give others a chance for a little practice and the way he approached those who attempted petit larceny on the bases almost gave the fans a Vitus dance. "Icky" Arthur was in old-time form in the field. The locals made but one error, while six were chalked against the visitors and most of these were serious while Cottage Grove's did no harm.

The visitors garnered their two scores in the first inning and were goose-egged for the rest of the game.

AGED PEOPLE ENJOY FLOWER MISSION DAY

The W. C. T. U. entertained Friday, June 10, flower mission day, the occasion being greatly enjoyed by more than a hundred guests, many of whom are of advanced age, and some shut-ins who are seldom able to leave their homes. Roses predominated in the decorations and beautiful bouquets were presented to the guests at the close of the afternoon. A splendid program and a delicious luncheon were enjoyed.

Among the oldest of the guests were Mrs. M. C. Willis, 95; William Hemesway, 90; Mrs. J. K. Barrett and Mrs. Bangham, 82; Miss Woods, 80, and a large number whose ages ranged from 60 to 80 years.

It is President Titus Now.

Dr. H. W. Titus, of this city, is now president of the Lane County Dental society, he having been honored with election to this office at the association's annual picnic held Saturday at Bear creek falls, 20 miles northwest of Eugene.

WM HOWARD TAFT

Today chambers of commerce are centers for civic activities, the means by which the interests of the community are put under the supervision and criticism of the leading men in the community, the men whose activity and power should be organized. You must infuse into yourselves and your chamber of commerce a spirit of cooperation if you would make the chamber of commerce useful to the public.—William H. Taft.

Planning for the Better Things

If you will look upon your community as an uncompleted product—a rough floor plan of a greater and more wonderful town to come—there will be intensified ambition to do things.

A city is never quite finished. Additions here and improvements there are absolutely essential. And every citizen is, in a sense, one of the architects of the city's success. His suggestions, plans, collaboration and genius are indispensable.

For one thing a town is as progressive as the facilities it affords to its workmen. We now have greater competition than ever with other cities that are organized. There will be new business enterprises of all sorts established if we use the proper system to get them.

It is within the province of the local chamber of commerce, among many other projects, to look ahead to the home comfort and welfare of the new generation of workers. Right now this city should be giving serious consideration to industrial housing developments—that is, picturesque, livable, even beautiful layouts for the future.

Industrial progress requires that workers shall live comfortably, happily, and under as ideal conditions as possible. City planning has grown to be a wide national movement. Are you backing your chamber of commerce in this important matter?
