LOST BOY WADES TO DEATH IN MCKENZIE

After wandering for two days, without food or shelter in the Cascade mountains near Belknap springs, George Emerson Miller, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, residing near Santa Clara on the river road, and who had been missing from the camp of his parents since Friday afternoon, was drowned in the McKenzie Sunday when he attempted to wade across the stream to a fisherman, who was perhaps the first person he had seen since he lost his way in the timber.

The lad evidently did not know of the treacherous waters of the stream, or in his anxiety to obtain help disregarded the danger, as he paid no attention to the warning calls of the fisherman, but continued to wade out into the river until the swift current caught him and carried him down. His body was found a short distance from where he entered the water, having lodged against a log. A man with a strong rope about him to save him from the rushing water, waded out and recovered the body.

The boy, who had been camping with his parents near the springs for several days, wandered off Friday afternoon about four o'clock and at nightfall when he did not return a large searching party of campers covered the neighboring woods for hours but without finding any trace of him. The search continued Saturday and Sunday. It was two o'clock Sunday when he had reached the McKenzie and attempted to cross.

WAR IS TO BE PUSHED ON CANADA THISTLE

The question of enforcement of the thistle law was the subject of a prolonged conference between the county court and a committee from the county agricultural council Monday afternoon. There was some debate as to the best method of procedure under the law, which provides ten days of grace after notice has been served. The penalty for non-compliance is $10 to $50 for the first offense and from $50 to $250 for each subsequent offense. The fact was brought out that the attorney general has ruled that the notice runs continuously against any farmer whose land is infested with thistles—that is, he must re-cut the thistles if they make a second growth during the season; so that the plea that the thistles were cut once in response to a notice will not relieve him from action under the law.

In the meantime the fruit inspector has been advised to get out complaints from the justice office against all those who have wilfully neglected to comply with the law, assuming that they will be proceeded against in due form, since the statute expressly states that both municipal and county authorities must act in the matter, such failure to act being punishable by a fine of from $50 to $500.

COTTAGE GROVE PICNIC IS HELD IN CALIFORNIA

The Sentinel has received news of a Cottage Grove picnic held on the Fourth of July in Griffith park, Los Angeles. The conversation centered on past incidents in Cottage Grove and many a wish was expressed that all could drop into the pretty little Willamette valley city for the day. The cooking for the occasion is said to have been as good as could be expected from former Cottage Grove cooks working under the disadvantage of a California climate. Those present were Frank Wheeler and his wife, Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, now president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Southern California, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hoxie, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Venske and a sister and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Thomas and children, Georgetta and Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Thompson and little son, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sherwood, Miss Fern Holcomb, Miss Hildred Hall, Mrs. Eleanor Wheeler Topham, George Hall and Harold Venske. Those unable to be present because of previous engagements were Mr. Topham, Miss Jessie Berg, Mrs. Berg, Mr. and Mrs. Will Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waggoner, Miss Ethel Moore and Ralph Baker.

FOREST RANGERS WILL GO WITHOUT "SMOKES"

Realizing the danger of forest fires from burning tobacco even when used in the woods by forest officers, District Forester Geo. H. Cecil has just called upon the field men of the national forests of Oregon and Washington to refrain voluntarily from smoking during the next few months of extreme fire danger.

To date the fire season in the north Pacific district has been favorable. The period of high hazard is now here, however, and forest officers are hoping that the part of the public that uses the national forests will be more careful this year than ever before and that the percentage of man-caused fires may be cut down from the high figure of 70 per cent that has held for many years.

Car Thieves Taken to Roseburg.

The four men captured here by Deputy Sheriff Pitcher with a stolen Cole car and stolen parts of other cars were taken to Roseburg Friday by Deputy Sheriff Dillard, of Roseburg, the Maxwell motor and the battery accompanying them. The motor had been stolen from a wrecked car found along the road in Douglas county and the battery had been lifted from a Roseburg garage. The Cole is still here awaiting claim by its owner. The men, who gave their names as Ray Keith, Bruce Avery, Eugene O'Brien and Emory McKarran, were apprehended here Thursday of last week when Pitcher's suspicions were aroused by the appearance of the men in the car and the parts of cars being carried as freight.

Codling Moth Spray Due.

The next codling moth spray will be due in western Oregon from July 29 to July 25, is the advice of the Oregon agricultural experiment station, Professor Lovett, entomologist at the station, says: "The activities of the codling moth have been particularly difficult to follow this season and the broods as yet are not clearly defined. Based on careful observation, however, it is advised that generally the July spray goes on about the twentieth, although where pressing work interferes it would appear that the application may be delayed until the twenty-fifth with safety."

Road Bids Called For.

The county court will soon call for bids on the contract for grading a four-mile stretch of road between Lorange and Hadleyville, this being in reality an extension of the ten-mile contract recently let to A. C. Mathews. It is stated that the entire distance was not included in the first contract for the reason that the court did not have in sight sufficient funds to cover the entire project. At a later date, according to Surveyor P. M. Morse, contracts will be let for surfacing the entire route with macadam.

Rescue Home Appeals for Food.

The Pacific Coast Rescue and Protective society makes an appeal for canned fruit and vegetables for the use of the Louise Home for Girls and the Kerr Nursery for Children maintained by the organization at Portland. The plea is made particularly to church societies and similar organizations and the society states that it will pay freightage on the return of the cans and jars.

NEW SEWER GOING IN FIRST ALLEY SOUTH

Further street improvements have been added to the already extensive program for the city for the year. The city council has ordered the improvement of Whiteaker avenue, between Fifth and Ninth streets with hard surface. The contract for laying a larger sewer in First alley south has been let to S. L. Godard and H. J. Jorgensen. Their bid was $1059.50 and the only other bid, by W. L. Hubbell, was $1100. Godard and Jorgensen have already started the work.

PAVING COMPANY REPAIRS DAMAGE TO HIGHWAY

The damage to Pacific highway through the west side of the city will be repaired by Blake-Compton company at their own expense, according to agreement made with the city council Monday night, this being the understanding when the city permitted the company to use the highway for the transportation of its road building material from Saganaw to the road work south of the city. The city will allow the paving company to use the asphalt which the city has on hand.

Urge Early Building of Bridge.

Eugene Register: E. W. Miller, of the Cottage Grove chamber of commerce, was in the city Tuesday in company with S. L. Godard, a contractor, looking after the matter of a new bridge on the highway between that city and Latham. Blue prints have been made for the structure, which is to be of timber with 150 foot span. The Cottage Grove men urged that work upon this be commenced at once, for it was pointed out that if it was delayed any longer the false work would be in danger from the high water during the fall rains.

Will Boost Lane County Fair.

A trip through the county country planned for this week by George Taylor, president of the Lane County Fair association; W. A. Ayres, secretary, and Ira P. Whitney, county agricultural agent, to create interest in the coming exhibition. Meetings with the farmers of that section will be arranged to talk over exhibition plans.

Twin Cherries on Single Stem.

Perhaps the most luscious sample of the Cottage Grove cherry crop that has been left at The Sentinel office this season was brought into the office Monday by Mrs. David Sterling. In the lot was a freak in the form of two perfect cherries, both full size, growing upon a single stem. They are of the Lambert variety.

Grocers and Butchers to Picnic.

Grocers and butchers of Lane county will hold a picnic at Hendricks bridge, 14 miles up the McKenzie from Eugene on August 11. A program of novel stunts and athletic contests has been arranged to make the day a lively and long to be remembered one.

Union Services Sunday.

The Presbyterian and Christian churches will hold union services Sunday evening in the city park. Rev. Spearow, of the Presbyterian church, will deliver the sermon.

Building Concrete Wing at Dam.

The Cottage Grove flour mills are building a concrete wing in their dam on the Coast fork to do away with a leakage on the west side at the intake of the race.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nixon and the Hinshaw family are leaving tomorrow for a week's stay at Newport.

A Seattle burglar stole a kiss from a sleeping member of the household and, as usual, overlooked a large package of the same kind of valuables.

A man who pins too much faith to human nature often gets stuck for some account he has guaranteed.

It seems as if it takes a streak of hard luck to make some people believe in religion.

There is an excuse for everything, but we don't know what the one is for writing this.
