

ARCADE THEATER WEEKLY PROGRAM

Fri.—"Sky Eye." Special cast.

"The Diamond Queen," chapter No. 2. Eileen Sedgwick. The star walks across the narrow plank between two buildings 11 stories above the street, she stumbles and the weight of her body breaks the plank and she plunges to her doom. See how she is rescued.

Sat.—Buster Keaton in "The Saphire."

"Money to Burn," by Snub Pollard.

"Live Stock and Dairying in Canada."

Sun.—"The Mistress of Shenstone," by Pauline Frederick and Roy Stewart. An unusual love story, different from anything told before, and in which a titled English woman falls in love with the man responsible for her husband's death.

Comedy, "His Wife's Caller."

Mon.—Tues.—"The Furnace," Agnes Ayres, Theodore Roberts, Milton Sills and others of notable character. Are you considering matrimony? Before you take the plunge, see "The Furnace." It is a picture every man and woman should see. It portrays some of the most vital problems in life. Every person will be better for seeing this picture.

Wed.—Dorothy Gish in "Remodeling Her Husband." She married a flirt with an eye for a "skirt." Her friends warned her that he was a devil among the girls, but—well you know that pretty tale about "marry to reform."

Comedy, "Food for Thought."

Thurs.—"The Law of The Yukon," special cast. "The Law of The Yukon" is a story of the gold rush. It is based on Robert W. Service's famous poem. Get aboard the dog sled and take a trip to the Klondyke. See its picturesque men and women in action. Picture a country where gold is cheap and honor is precious.

SOCIETY

Portland Telegram, August 15: An interesting wedding of this morning was that of Miss Anna O'Brien, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, of Cottage Grove, and Arvin Hankins, of Cottage Grove, which was solemnized at the parsonage of St. Mary's cathedral, the Rev. Father Campbell officiating. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Briggs in Carter lane. Mr. Hankins served during the war with the rank of major. Mr. and Mrs. Hankins will be at home in Seattle after September 1. They were in the city briefly the latter part of last week while on their honeymoon trip.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Chestnut entertained Thursday evening of last week in honor of the birthday anniversary of their son Ralph, about 20 of his friends being the guests.

Mrs. Susannah Gardner entertained Saturday in her tent on the camping grounds in honor of her seventy-third birthday anniversary. Her three daughters, Mrs. L. B. Bennett, of Salem; Mrs. Ansel Wood, of Marshfield; and Mrs. M. Morgan, of this city, were all present.

Members of the M. P. G. club and their husbands motored up the Coast for Friday evening of last week and enjoyed a delightful picnic.

Milton Woodson, of this city, and Miss Edith Scholz, of Eugene, were married Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. They have gone to Newport on their honeymoon. Mr. Woodson is the youngest of the Woodson brothers and well known in business circles of the city.

Miss Rose Elliott, of Pittsburg, who is visiting at the Mrs. Catherine Bader home, entertained a number of her friends Tuesday afternoon. Indoor and outdoor games were played and delicious refreshments served. Those present were Thelma Ken, May Osmond, Hilda Favor, Rachel Galloway, Dorothy Eads and Dolly Fitcher.

The Roy E. Short, J. T. Smith, H. W. Titus, Karl K. Mills and C. C. Cruson families were entertained at six o'clock dinner Wednesday at the Chas. Adams home, the occasion being Mrs. Cruson's birthday anniversary.

Silk Creek Society.

The W. J. Murphy home was the scene of a festive occasion on Aug. 15, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Murphy's sister, Mrs. Esther Carlsted. Friends brought good things to eat in abundance, the affair being a surprise. Dinner was spread in the nearby woods and the afternoon was spent with games and in social chat. One very interesting feature of the entertainment was the climbing of a fir tree by M. F. Babcock to the height of about 60 feet. He was closely followed by E. W. Garner. Both are white haired men. They amused themselves by breaking branches off and dropping them upon the heads of the admiring audience. There were 33 present.

Row River Society.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vaughn was the scene of a delightful party last Friday evening. Music and games were enjoyed until a late hour, when dainty refreshments were served by the Mesdames Alice Thron, Genevieve Poquette, Elsie Pleuard and Mabel Mosby. Forty-five were present.

AMBITIOUS STUDENTS EARN THEIR EDUCATION

No Honorable Employment Too Lowly for Those Wishing to Complete Studies.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Aug. 15.—(Special)—That practically every University of Oregon student is engaged in some kind of work this summer to help pay expenses for the next college year is revealed by a survey of their occupations. The kind of work being done varies from salmon fishing in Alaska to flying with the aerial forest patrol in Oregon.

A large number of the men are working in the harvest fields of the state. Not a few of the women, too, are engaged in some sort of agricultural work. One girl is running a tractor on her father's farm and says it is fun. Others are cooking for harvest hands, picking berries and working in orchards.

Logging camps furnish work for a number of the men, although it is not thought that as many found employment at this work as during previous vacations. Sawmills also have a considerable number of university men in their employ this summer. Various kinds of construction camps claim their quota of workers from the student body as well.

About equal numbers of men and women are working in offices. These include offices of banks, stores, doctors, state departments and general businesses. There are also a number of clerks among the workers. Salesmanship is another profession which recruits a good following from among University of Oregon students.

Nearly all the major students in the school of journalism are working on newspapers for the summer. Some are just starting out in their chosen profession as cub reporters and others are acting in editorial capacities. The department of physical education for women has a group of women students acting as playground directors for the summer. The great function of this school is to train physical education instructors and graduates of it have little difficulty in securing positions.

In the forestry service are a number of men and women acting in various capacities. Five men are engaged in the work of the aerial forest patrol, one being liaison officer at the Eugene headquarters and the other four observers. Two university women are acting as lookouts for forest fires from peaks in the Cascade mountains. Others of the group are acting as rangers, fire wardens and other forestry workers.

Carpenter work is being done by several men and a few are working in blacksmith shops. Mechanical work, painting, garage work, railroad employment, truck driving, surveying and road work are some of the other manual occupations of the university men for the vacation period. Several men have gone to sea for the summer. It is estimated that 70 per cent of the students at the University of Oregon earn their own way either wholly or partly. Many find employment during the school year as well as in vacation time and in this way are able to pay their entire expenses. A free employment bureau is maintained by the campus Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of finding work for the students. The Y. W. C. A. also cooperates with the women students in finding positions.
