Sewing Week

An event in which we display our newest arrivals in fabrics for fall and winter wear

This early display affords the home sewer an opportunity to anticipate her wardrobe's requirements and then when seasonable weather arrives she is prepared with completed garments.

Our early showing this season is more complete than for some seasons past and we welcome you to come shopping even if you are not ready to buy. You will find the new patterns and colorings extremely interesting, we are sure.

Silks are popular as usual—especially in the designs being shown in this carefully selected array. You will have no difficulty in choosing to meet your needs, for our stock is ample in both variety and prices.

GRO DE LONDRE—A new and popular silk for fall frocks, shown in plain shades and changeable color combinations, the yard—

25 Are Prisoners in Jail.
 With the incarceration of five youngful tourist burglars the county jail now has 25 inmates, the largest number accommodated at one time in the history of the county, according to Deputy Sheriff George Croner, who is an old timer in the sheriff's office.

 The jail is badly crowded and if crime continues at the present rate a new jail or a large addition soon will be necessary.
