TWELVE CARS OVER GRADE AT GRANTS PASS IN ONE DAY

Twelve cars over the grade at one spot in one day is the report reaching here in a letter from R. E. Walker, who is on a motor trip into California to spend the winter. The spot where the twelve cars went over the grade was near Grants Pass. Clay had moved down onto the paving from a nearby bank and had made it very slippery. The editor of The Sentinel passed over this spot after dark one night last week but safely negotiated it by throwing into low gear as soon as the wheels started to skid. He did not note the steep embankment over which he might have gone until returning the following day. Another car, which had passed the spot a few moments before, skidded around until crosswise of the paving before coming to a stop. Mr. Walker reports seeing a Ford which had gone over the grade in the Sacramento valley. The car was standing unconcernedly right side up with care and did not seem to be greatly damaged. The address of the Walkers is now Santa Cruz.

About the most embarrassing position imaginable is to get caught by a six-year-old son doing something you have spanked him for doing. The reason the most of us despise the egotistic bore is because he doesn't give us a chance to get in a word about ourselves.

The Story of Our States

VII.—MARYLAND

INDIAN arrows played an important part in the founding of Maryland. Lord Baltimore had been interested in the London company which was financially responsible for the settlement of Virginia. He became so enthusiastic over the possibilities in the new colonies that he desired to found a colony himself. After exploring the country just north of the Potomac he persuaded King Charles I to grant him this territory. In honor of the queen, Henrietta Maria, this new colony was called Maryland.

The payment for this grant was specified as two Indian arrows a year, together with a fifth part of all precious metals which might be mined. As the colony produced no gold or silver the cost of Maryland amounted to only the two arrows each year, and Lord Baltimore became to all intents and purposes an independent sovereign. As a matter of fact the charter was not issued until just after the death of Lord Baltimore, but as the deed was hereditary it descended to the second Lord Baltimore, under whom the first settlement was made at St. Mary's in 1634. This hereditary monarchy continued in force until, under the sixth Lord Baltimore, the Declaration of Independence in 1776 brought it to an end.

In 1788 Maryland adopted the Constitution and took its place as the seventh state in the Union. Its area totals 12,327 square miles, and it is thickly populated, so that Maryland is entitled to eight presidential electors.

Wanted rates—The minimum price on a wanted is 35c. Three insertions for the price of two. Bookkeeping charge of 25c unless paid for in advance.

A wanted costs little and usually gets you what you want.

VIII.—SOUTH CAROLINA

AS MARYLAND had been made a proprietary government, in like manner the territory extending from Virginia to Florida was granted by Charles II in 1663 to eight gentlemen as a reward for their efforts in his behalf. The name Carolina comes from the Latin, Carolus, meaning Charles. It was not really named after Charles II, but originally in honor of Charles IX, king of France, by Huguenots who built a fort near Beaufort in 1562.

The fact that the Carolinas became later two distinct colonies was due to chance. It happened that the earliest settlements located at points far removed from each other. The first permanent settlements in South Carolina were about Charleston, while those in North Carolina were around Albemarle sound. The life in the two sections also was quite different. South Carolina was largely devoted to the cultivation of rice and indigo and the planters soon grew very rich with their large estates on which the labor was performed by slaves. In fact, just before the Revolution the population showed twice as many blacks as whites.

In 1729 the government of the Carolinas was turned back by the lord proprietors to the king and there was then formed the two separate provinces.

South Carolina was the eighth state to adopt the Constitution, the vote of ratification being passed in May, 1788. The Palmetto state, as South Carolina is sometimes called, extends over 30,989 square miles, and it participates in the presidential election to the extent of nine electors.

Your home newspaper is first entitled to your support. No use to worry. Try a wanted and let your troubles disappear.

The person who never gets fooled can't have much else to do but to figure out what's going to be sprung on him next.

Probably the reason some people don't pocket their pride is because they don't want their clothes to bulge so.

GO TO THE RESCUE

Don't Wait Till It's Too Late—Follow the Example of a Cottage Grove Citizen.

Rescue the aching back. If it keeps on aching, trouble may come.

Often it indicates kidney weakness. If you neglect the kidneys' warning, look out for urinary disorders. This Cottage Grove citizen will show you how to go to the rescue.

Mrs. George Young, 404 2nd St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for several years and consider them a good remedy. My kidneys were weak and I had attacks of backache and a soreness over my kidneys. My kidneys acted irregularly, too. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them as directed. They benefited me by strengthening my back and kidneys."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Young had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
