Serious Charge Made.
Edward Francis was brought before Justice of the Peace Young yesterday upon a charge of indecent exposure preferred by Albert Woodard. Francis was put under bonds of $200 and the hearing set for November 18.

If you see what you want, help yourself.

Singing is said to be an excellent tonic for the morals of young people. Its effect on the neighbors will probably preserve the balance, however.

REFUSED TO TAKE CHANCES

Fortune Teller's Prediction Caused Crews of Two Vessels to Desert the Boats at Quebec.

From time immemorial superstitions of sailors, with few exceptions, have naturally been associated with things of the sea, notably the belief which marks departure from port on Friday as a certain omen of bad luck. St. Elmo's fire, the bo'sun fish, whistling for the wind in a calm, the presence of a priest on board ship, all these deal with actual elements of sea life that played a great part among such legends. The Flying Dutchman legend was also born of the sea; likewise the ghostly crew coming from the wreck of a sunken ship to haunt the crew of the vessel which caused their loss.

A more annoying variety of superstition was revealed the other day by the action of the crews of two American tugs who deserted their boats at Quebec. Before these two boats left Detroit bound for New York a fortune teller predicted the doom of one of the boats before it finished its voyage. This prophecy so worked on the sensibilities of the members of the two crews that they struck on reaching Quebec. Old salts might sniff at such a prophecy as this as being of the fresh-water brand and not worthy to be enrolled in the ancient and honorable company of deep-sea superstitions, but the prophecy worked its evil upon the tug owners. The loss of their crews made a real thing of it.

ALUMINUM TO REPLACE WOOD

Increased Production of the Metal Will Relieve Drain Upon the Country's Vanishing Forests.

One of the greatest consumers of wood is the shipping box. For this purpose no fewer than 6,000,000 cords were used last year. Viewed from any standpoint, it is a gigantic draft upon our forest resources.

Unquestionably before long metal will largely take the place of wood for the making of shipping cases. Which means, of course, aluminum, or an alloy thereof. Aluminum, relatively speaking, is a cheap metal now, but it is destined to be vastly cheaper.

When one considers that aluminum constitutes more than 7 per cent of the entire crust of the earth, it seems absurd that there should be lack of it for any and all purposes useful to mankind.

The next generation may live in apartment houses built wholly of aluminum and travel in aluminum trains and steamships. But the matter of most immediate importance is the relief which cheap aluminum may give to the drain upon our vanishing forests.

Self-Luminous Animals.

Not less than 36 different orders of animals are self-luminous, we are told by the new work of E. Newton Harvey on "The Nature of Animal Light." These include many forms of protozoa, hydroids, jellyfish, bryozoa, polychaete and oligochaete worms, brittle stars, crustaceans, myriapods, insects, mollusks, primitive chordates and fishes. None of the luminous species inhabit fresh water, all being terrestrial or marine. The luminosity is sometimes shown by both larvae and adults, and in a few instances by eggs. In experiments made, two substances have been isolated—luciferase, an enzyme, and luciferin, a protein—and the light appears to result from bringing these together in the presence of oxygen and water.

Recovered Coin After Fifty Years.

Fifty years ago when the foundations were being laid for the Washington statue in front of Independence hall, in Philadelphia, John Nash, then a policeman, threw a 2-cent piece into the hole being dug for the foundations. Recently when some changes were being made to the statue, Nash recalled the incident and stirred up the dirt and uncovered the coin. It will be hung in Independence hall. Incidentally, Mr. Nash recalled that 2 cents had a buying capacity at that time treble that of today.

Smoke Injures Galvanized Iron.

Galvanized iron has been found by a German chemist to be unsuitable for roofing much exposed to smoke. Sulphur dioxide, though having little effect when dry, causes rapid deterioration in presence of moisture, and a mixture of sulphur and carbon dioxide is very corrosive, though moist carbon dioxide alone has slight action. The microscope shows in the corroded galvanized iron minute cavities and sulphate containing ferric oxide, due to galvanic action of actual solution of the zinc coating.

EX-SERVICE MEN ASKED TO PRESENT THEIR CLAIMS

The cleanup squad of the U. S. veterans' bureau, which is covering the state to personally reach ex-service men who have claims, will be in Cottage Grove Thursday, November 17, at American Legion hall. The visit of the squad here is part of a nationwide campaign of the U. S. veterans' bureau to find and place in process of adjustment ex-service men's claims of every kind, including claims for compensation, hospitalization, vocational training, insurance, allotments, travel pay, back pay, etc.

A. C. Kinley, advance agent of the claims squad, who was in Cottage Grove last week, said: "If any ex-service man is not in as good physical condition as when entering the service and believes his condition to be due to his service, he should meet the cleanup squad upon its visit to the city. We are especially desirous, of course, of reaching the disabled veterans whose claims have not been paid."

TWO ACCIDENTS WITHIN FEW DAYS FOR SALLEE

Star, Ore., Nov. 2.—(Special to The Sentinel.)—Arthur Sallee barely escaped serious injuries Tuesday morning when one of the cedar poles which he was loading onto a car fell and struck him on the head. He jumped from the car when he saw the pole falling and escaped the full force of the blow, his injuries being not dangerous.

A few days before Mr. Sallee fell upon a saw and three of the teeth penetrated the fleshy part of the right arm near the shoulder.

MARY LAYNG SUSTAINS INJURIES IN USING AX

Mount View, Nov. 2.—(Special to The Sentinel.)—Mary Layng narrowly escaped what might have been serious injury to her left hand Saturday afternoon when in holding a stick of wood, preparatory to chopping it, the ax handle struck against the wall of the woodshed, near which Miss Layng was standing, knocking the handle smartly against her head, while the blade of the ax fell upon her hand, cutting two fingers quite badly. She was taken to Cottage Grove for medical attention. It was found that the ligaments had not been severed, as was at first feared.

Sunshade at Woodson Garage.

A covering is being erected over the oil and gasoline service pumps at the Woodson Brothers garage. O. E. Woodson says that the proper name for the improvement is a sunshade, but it is understood that it will also protect from rain.

Some of the most interesting reading in the paper is in the wantads.
