

ARCADE THEATER WEEKLY PROGRAM

Fri.—Lew Cody in "A Dangerous Pastime." A powerful drama crammed with whirlwind action, thrills romance and suspense through the entire five reels.

"Diamond Queen" chapter fourteen.

Sat.—William Russell in "Bare Knuckles." A typical western, one you will enjoy seeing.

A Sunshine comedy, "The Hayseed."

Sun.—Enid Bennett in "Keeping Up With Lizzie." "Keeping Up With Lizzie" kept them on the jump ahead of the sheriff. See what happened to a little American village when they tried "Keeping Up With Lizzie." She went away to college, came back, and oh what a difference. Dan staid at home and raised crops, and Lizzie raised the dickens.

Mon.—Tues.—"What Women Will Do," by Anna Q. Nilson. Do you know what "Women Will Do?" Seek and find out what women will do. A picture of interest to all men. The most spectacular horse race ever screened. A sensational high dive from a flying trapeze. A hair raising spiritualistic seance. A girl plunging into the murky waters of New York harbor.

A Century comedy, "For Sale."

Wed.—Ethel Clayton in "Crooked Streets," with Jack Holt and Clyde Filmore. A tale of the Mystic East. Lured by the land of the joss and mandarin, she sailed as the aide of a yankee collector of art. See a picture filled with a hundred thrills, and the opium smugglers in the underworld of Shanghai.

Thurs.—Fri.—"Man of the Forest." Zane's latest story. By Robert McKim and Claire Adams. "Man of the Forest" is a typical western and outdoor picture. It is a story of the great outdoors and in its unfolding many of the most exciting events that Zane Grey's brain has ever conceived are flashed upon the silver screen.

Harold Lloyd in one of his famous two reel comedies.

Stanfield Has Free Seeds.

Senator Stanfield writes that, whether the policy is wise or not, he has been allotted for distribution a quantity of vegetable seeds (five kinds) and a few flower seeds. He says:

"In that the government is spending good money for these seeds I do not want to see them wasted and do not want to distribute them indiscriminately, but I shall be glad to send them to anyone in Oregon desiring them for use."

University Faculty Members Visit.

Dean Eric W. Allen, of the journalism department of the University of Oregon, and W. G. Thacher, of the commerce department of the same institution, were business visitors in the city Tuesday. Their visit here was in connection with the arrangement of the program for the annual meeting of the Oregon Newspaper conference, to be held at the university in January.

Zane Grey's popular story The Man of the Forest

A MASSIVE TALE OF LOVE AND ADVENTURE,
WITH AN ALL STAR CAST, INCLUDING

Robert McKim, Claire Adams
Carl Gantvoort

CRASH! BANG! Before the irresistible blows of the huge log the heavy door gave way! The pack of wolf-like desperadoes poured into the little cabin—eager to get their hands on the one man who was threatening to upset their crooked plans—Milt Dale—"The Man of the Forest."

No one but Zane Grey could have written such a story. It's a tale of the red-blooded West—a tale of fighting men for the love of a girl. It will grip and hold you as has no other picture.

AFTER THAT BIG THANKSGIVING DINNER, SEE ZANE GREY'S LATEST PICTURE.

Mrs. S. M. Yoran Passes.

Mrs. S. M. Yoran, resident of Eugene for 38 years, died last week, after a long illness. She had been in declining health for a number of years. Besides the husband, Mrs. Yoran is survived by three sons, Colonel George O. Yoran, William C. Yoran and Darwin E. Yoran, and a daughter, Mrs. Louise Whitton, wife of C. A. E. Whitton, all of Eugene.

BUDGET LAW DISREGARDED BY LANE ROAD DISTRICTS

Acting upon the advice of Clyde N. Johnson, district attorney, the Lane county court has instructed the taxpayers of the various road districts to proceed as usual with their special tax levies, disregarding the new budget law, which includes within its provisions all road districts. The district attorney has given it as his opinion that the law as it now exists does not apply to special road tax levies.

Without these special district levies, road work next year would have been neglected in some of the districts and the program mapped out by the county court would have been curtailed to a large extent.

COTTAGE GROVE EGG POOL NETS PRODUCERS BIG PROFIT

Those who stored their eggs during the period of low prices have just sold out their pool at a large profit over the price current when they were put into storage. About $4000 was netted to the members of the pool above what they would have received with out storing. The producers are well pleased and J. E. Spray, who manipulated the pool, is highly elated with the success of the plan. He says, "The gods help those who help themselves."
