INDOMITABLE SPIRITS WIN.

What a few earnest spirits can accomplish when they set their hearts and energies to an appointed task has been well illustrated in the successful establishment of a rest room for Cottage Grove.

Two women decided that the city should wait no longer for this convenience. Their efforts were disparaged by some who had seen similar moves fail, but before many days these determined spirits had secured the cooperation of a number of others and had actually secured a suitable room under such conditions that the financial problem became greatly simplified.

Support of the chamber of commerce followed.
Women's clubs came forward with offers of cooperation.
Churches came forward with offers of cooperation.

Individual citizens offered cooperation.
Difficulties were presented only to be solved by the determined, indomitable spirits, which had become quite formidable in number.

A mothers' club was formed.
Possible failure of the movement not being given consideration, the rest room was named and by-laws adopted for its conduct.

Things moved rapidly.
Some method must be devised to raise money for equipment and maintenance. A bazaar being proposed as the best way to raise it quickly, a bazaar was announced.

Things moved more rapidly.
Cooperation came from every side.
The bazaar became a community affair—an inter-community affair. It was a grand and glorious and profitable success.

The rest room is an established institution.
And two women with determined and earnest spirits started the move only two months ago.

Incidentally it may be mentioned that membership in the Mothers' club, which sponsors the rest room, is but $1 the year and the only other requirement for membership is interest in the social and moral welfare of the community.

VEHICLES NEED LIGHTS.

A great deal has been said, and a great deal has been done, about the regulation of motor vehicles upon the public highways.

A great deal has been said, and little has been done, about the regulation of other vehicles when traveling upon the public highways.

The law requires all vehicles to carry lights after dark. The number of vehicles outside of motor vehicles which do is infinitesimal, but the law should be enforced—not so much for the convenience of rapidly moving motor vehicles as for the safety of the slower moving vehicles.

That more horse drawn vehicles are not demolished by collisions with motor vehicles is a miracle. Did drivers of other vehicles know the many narrow escapes they have from being struck and being sued for damages to the vehicles which strike them, it is likely that more of them would carry lights without waiting for police officials to act.

Only those who have driven motor vehicles upon the highways know the chances the unlighted vehicle takes.

MARSHFIELD NEWSPAPER FIELD.

The Daily News at Marshfield has been revived by Earl Murphy, recently of The Telegram, Portland. The newspaper situation in Marshfield is a peculiar one. The Coos bay country seems to have a magnificent opportunity for development, awaiting only the right kind of publicity. A newspaper which could put over the publicity which would enable that section to cash in on the future which nature has made possible, should make a tremendous business success. Such a paper must be one which considers the welfare of the whole Coos bay section and it must have an editor with vision, with energy and of business acumen. The people and press of the state will watch with interest the work of the new publisher, whose path has not been strewn with flowers, if the advertising support he is getting be used as a criterion.

THINGS WE THINK

Things Others Think and What We Think of the Things Others Think

The man who gives a $5 bill without any sentiment attached does more material good than the person who gives sympathy in big gobs and stops there.

The undertaker is about the only person you will let put you in a hole without your kicking.

Many men mean well who do not do well.

The lazy man always has hard luck.

Sudden popularity ruins fully as many men as sudden prosperity.

The best title a girl can get when she marries is just plain Mrs.

There is some touch of sadness to every joy—if it is no more than that there are a lot of other people who can't enjoy it.

Some folks, if their prayers were answered, would think the goblins were after them sure.

"Lame duck" politicians have their rendezvous up Salt creek.

Some folks who delight in laying bare the sorrows of others claim to be Christians.

Revised golden rule: Others should do to us as they would that we should do to them.

Don't insist on your daughter playing for your visitors. Be more considerate of her—and of them.

We expect our friends to comment upon the good points about us while we are commenting upon the bad points about them.

It is very much better to do one good thing today than to put a dozen off until tomorrow.

LUMBER CENTER OF U. S. MAY BE IN LANE

As Bulk of Timber Is Here, Predominant Position Likely to Be Maintained.

For the first time in the history of the lumbering industry in the United States, Oregon during the year 1920 showed the second largest cut in the country, Washington being first, according to figures just received at the office of N. F. Macduff, supervisor of the Cascade National forest. Washington's cut shows an increase of 11 per cent over that of 1919 while the cut in Oregon increased 29 per cent. The cut of Washington for 1920 was 5,325,000,000 feet board measure while Oregon's was 3,317,000,000 feet. Louisiana ranked third and California fifth.

The lumber cut of the United States as a whole in 1920 was 33,798,800,000 feet, which is 2.2 per cent less than in 1919, and 27 per cent less than the peak in 1907.

In view of the fact that Oregon has more standing timber than any other state in the union and Lane county contains more than any other county in the state, Supervisor Macduff makes the prediction that Lane county will within a decade from now become the lumbering center of the United States. Oregon is expected soon to be producing more lumber than any other state, said Mr. Macduff, as it is the history of the industry that no one state holds the top position in this regard for any great length of time, Washington having held it for a number of years past.

The figures on lumber production in the United States show that the states which increased their cut are all in the Pacific coast group and the Rocky mountains. Oregon attains second place for the first time, displacing Louisiana from a position held for 15 years, while California takes rank among the first five, displacing another southern yellow pine state. In 1920 the Pacific and Rocky mountain groups of states, combined, produced 35.6 per cent of the cut. The eight states of the southern pine group produced 34 per cent, while all of the rest of the United States produced 30.4 per cent.

The combined production of Douglas fir and western yellow pine, which in 1919 was less than 60 per cent of the amount of southern yellow pine cut, in 1920 became 83 per cent. This relative increase in the western species arises in part from the decrease in southern pine production, which amounted to 15 per cent. The conditions reported by southern operators, arising directly or indirectly from the world war, were so adverse that the southern pine was expected to recover part of the lost ground during the next few years. But the indications of the statistics are that the supremacy in lumber production held by the southern pine states has passed the zenith and is moving faster yearly to the west.

SHY HUNTINGTON, FAMOUS U. OF O. COACH, TO WED MISS HALLIE HILLS

The University of Oregon's Christmas football excursion to Hawaii will have a double significance for Shy Huntington, head coach and himself a famous Oregon gridiron warrior, for on that trip Shy will take his bride. Announcement has been made of his approaching marriage to Miss Hallie Hills, of Oakridge, whose service during the war as fire lookout in the Cascade national forest has spread her fame nearly as far as that of her husband-to-be. The exact date of the wedding has not been made public.

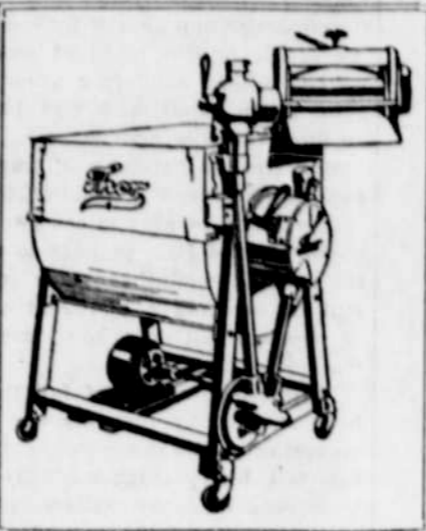

Miss Hills is a daughter of Jap Hills, famous hunter and guide, and is a niece of Mrs. LaSells Stewart, of Row River.

Swiss Beets.

Boil six or eight young beets. Peel and when cool dice them. Take half a cupful each of water and vinegar, add the juice of an onion, pepper and salt, a dessertspoonful each of butter and of sugar, and when melted together thicken with a teaspoonful of cornstarch dissolved in a little of the water the beets were boiled in. When creamy, add the beets. Serve hot.

All hypocrites are sinners, and most sinners are hypocrites.

It is no serious drawback to be young. Anyone will get over it sooner or later.

McKeen Is Accused Again.
H. M. McKeen, Alvadore blacksmith, who was acquitted by a jury in circuit court last week on a charge of manslaughter in killing Otis Pitney, of Junction City, mistaking him for a deer while out hunting, was served with a warrant a few days later charging him with hunting without an alien's gun license. Mr. McKeen is a citizen of Canada and it was alleged that he failed to obtain an alien's license before he started on the fatal hunting trip last August.
