This week's top five

1 LINCOLN CITY — Tomb it may concern, tickets are now available for the creepiest living history experience you ever will see, as A Tour to Die For returns to the Taft Pioneer Cemetery for two weekends of tales from beyond the grave.

See page 16

2 GARIBALDI — You can see some of the coast from Highway 101, but the only way to truly get the flavor of the area is to grab tickets for Crave the Coast, a celebration of bounty ranging from fresh oysters to locally distilled whisky and everything in-between.

See page 14

3 LINCOLN CITY — If the thought of running for office sends a chill up your spine, spare a thought for the members of Lincoln City Council, who are stepping up to a different type of service — hosting the Haunted Taft ghost tours for one night only.

See page 22

4 PACIFIC CITY — There's no ignoring the tremendous, monolithic rock that sits just offshore from this picturesque surf town, so it's fitting that the community welcomes harvest season with Roktoberfest. Rok on.

See page 8

5 TILLAMOOK/NEWPORT — Whether its music teachers supporting their students in Newport or Nuevo Americana star Chris Arellano helping raise funds for Tillamook's new park, there are plenty of places to soak up great music while helping a worthy cause this weekend.
