

Basketball season begins for girls with Park League

After playing the freshman team and several out-of-school teams as practice, the girls' varsity basketball team will soon enter Park league competition.

Team members defeated the frosh team, under the direction of Miss Carolyn Fitzwater, 16-8.

Park league competition will begin at the end of this month. The girls will play at either the Girls' Polytechnic or Laurelhurst grade school gymnasiums. Competition will be with other girls' varsity teams from Portland area high schools.

"We lost a lot of seniors last year, and didn't gain any frosh this year because of the new freshman teams. But we play well together and look forward to Park league games," commented senior Gwen Stone.

WRESTLING HIS Cleveland opponent, Chuck Kerns fights towards a victory for his team. The final score of the meet was 23-21, leaving the Generals undefeated.

Varsity wrestlers challenged; Madison mat-men meet G-men

"Pin - Pin - Pin - Pin" were strains of yells that were heard at last Friday's wrestling meet against Cleveland.

Defeating Cleveland was an important goal for the Generals as it made the team undefeated in the league with a 4-0 score.

Cliff Rose, wrestling heavy-weight, broke Cleveland's score of 21-20 and won the match for the Generals with a score of 23-21. Rose beat Roger Smith of Cleveland with a score of 6-2.

The match Tuesday afternoon should prove to be one of the toughest of the season as the Generals meet the Wilson Trojans. Both schools have a 4-0 record according to Coach Shewbert.

"In the last three years there is a total difference of eight points between Grant and Wilson," stated Coach Shewbert.

Tonight's match with Madison will be a tough one as the grapplers meet here at 8 p.m. in an attempt to keep first place

At the first of the season Madison was rated in first place in the city, however, they have lost three and won only one match so far this season.

It will be necessary for Randy Boone, Wayne Crawford and Chuck Kerns, who are all undefeated, to win their matches tonight to help pull the team to victory.

Gymnasts prepare for competition; meet next Friday against Jefferson

The gymnastics class, meeting during fourth period, has worked up to the point of entering competitions, according to Coach Dennis Sullivan.

This year's gymnastic team is the first team that the school has had. Wilson, however, has had from four to eight years of gymnastic teams while Jackson is also just beginning.

During competitions the gymnasts will meet with four other schools. The schools that the gymnastic team will meet during the season are Roosevelt, Jefferson,

Generals meet Madison tonight as basketball enters second half

by Mike Hoffman

As the second half basketball season action begins, the Generals will face their toughest week, hosting tall Madison tonight, invading speedy Washington Tuesday, and first half champ Jefferson Friday.

Led by 6'6" Gary Koethe, Madison toppled 8 of its first 9 opponents. Both Madison and Jefferson were rated fifth in pre-season balloting.

Defeating the Generals 66-45 in the first half, Madison is led by Koethe, Gary Johnson, Bob Hoffman, Steve Kebbe, Terry Houck and Jon Gustafson.

Washington blasted the Generals, 88-62, in their first meeting. The second rated Colts dropped games to Jefferson and Madison to wind up third in the first half.

There is little question of the Colonials' devastatingly fast break, that rolled for 99 points against Benson and 106 at Franklin to set a new league record.

Willie Staudamire has led the Washington scorers, and recently tied the school record with 40 points against Franklin. His brother Charlie added 27 to that total.

Other starters and high scorers are Bob Lundahl, who hit 31 against the Generals, Jackie Smith, and Don Matthews.

Several disappointing losses marred the Generals' first half, but probably the biggest upset was the 59-55 loss to Roosevelt, the first loss to a Teddie team since March, 1954.

JV Coach Amaya leads strong team in basketball games

New junior varsity coach Julian Amaya has built a team that has defeated Jefferson and Washington and sports a 6-5 record.

"They're just a lot of guts," commented Coach Amaya. "They play real well; work real hard."

Others who see considerable action include Greg Walsh, Glenn Butherus, Bill Flowers, Dick Paulson, Dave Edwards, Ed Geist, Doug Munhall and injured Bill McConauey.

Rounding out the junior varsity squad are Kevin Corbett, Ken Kuzmack and Brian Pierson.

The junior varsity plays 22 games, following the varsity schedule.

In a school that appreciates Grantonian endorsements, it seems only fitting that at mid-season we endorse a few basketball teams of state championship quality.

To start off with a little conflict, North Eugene, rated first at early season, will not get the title nod. The pollsters are now voting for the Klamath Falls Pelicans, and they will be state champs.

Seldom does a high school team possess the talent of the Pelicans, who boast Rick and Greg Brosterhous, the Southern conference's answer to the Staudamires of Washington, and high scoring Mike Keck, son of K-Falls coach Al Keck. Greg, a junior, scored 40 in a recent 83-49 win over Medford.

Another team that looks like title material is the Parkrose Broncos, with experienced players Bill Sturgill, Steve Jones, Steve Davies and Dick Kraus.

Jefferson, led by a high jumping Ladd, Gary that is, certainly must rate high. Jeff also boasts Don Shepherd, Jim Tims, Don Bussey, and a transfer named Melvin Farris, who had 17 rebounds against Lincoln.

Midwestern teams North Eugene, Marshfield and Thurston have shown that they are good, but maybe not as good as Madison or Washington, which has two losses but is still the fastest team in the league in years.

Klamath Falls should win the state title, but year after year teams like Baker steal the limelight, and in the end it depends on attitude, ability and a great deal of luck.
