

Spring carnival to raise money occurs tonight

"Spring Around the World," the annual Spring Carnival, will be presented tonight in the new gym from 3:00-9:30. "We have more booths (31) than ever before," according to Kim Patterson, student body vice-president.

"The objective of the carnival is $750 for our American Field Service students. We have failed to meet this goal in the past but this year we'll succeed because the executive council has planned a carnival larger in scope than ever before and one which will provide fun and amusement for everybody," stated John Stuckey, activities director.

Some of the booths and sponsors include a European Food Fair by the German and Latin clubs, Refreshments by IRL, a Gold Fish Toss by Thespians, a Custard Throw by Keglers, a Dart Throw by Photography club and a Coffee House by Gendrills.

Other activities will include a Chess Game booth by Chess club, a Fortune Telling booth by French club, the Jail by G-Note, Telegrams by the senior class, a Shooting Gallery by the junior class, a Lucky Strike Throw by the J.V. and Varsity rally squads, and a Carnation booth by the Girls' league.

The FTA will present Garden Golf, Royal G a Basket Throw, the Russian club a Moon Shot, Quill and Scroll a Balloon Sale, Flying Saucer club a Turtle Race, United Sounds a Fish Pond, Cheques a Fortune Telling Computer and the Wordlers will present a Jar Guess.

In addition, the Clefs will have a Ring Toss, the Spanish NHS plan an Airplane Shot, the Biology club a Rat Race, the freshmen will hold a Cake Walk, PTA a Cake Sale, the NFL a High Striker, and a Camelot Ticket Booth to round out the festivities.

Singing and dancing will also take place tonight when the General Council Hootenany and sophomore class dance get under way. The Hootenany will be held from 7:00-10:00 and the dance from 9:00-11:00.

To clean any spills which may occur, the Girls' league will have girls dressed as janitors.

Junior to attend university course

Southern Illinois university will be the home of Karen Stone, June 19-August 12, while attending the 10th annual Secondary Science Training program.

The program is designed to offer students an opportunity to become acquainted with college level work in the sciences and to expose students to study and research experiences not normally available in high school or beginning college courses.

"I will be taking computer mathematics," stated Karen. This course will be strongly oriented toward the use of applied mathematics and numerical methods in problem solving.

Students were selected for participation in the program chiefly on the basis of the recommendations of their high school teachers and principals, their scholastic averages, their grades in science courses, their I.Q. and other test scores, and their participation in science and academic pursuits.

Rule of Rose Princess Trudy begins

by Janiece Kelley

Traditional screams and congratulations were directed to Trudy Swenson as she was presented by Mike Hoffman, student body president, as the 1967 Rose Festival Princess.

The announcement came at 1:20 p.m. April 20 in front of parents, reporters and photographers, escorts, and Rose Festival officials.

Immediately Trudy was surrounded with questions about future plans, and photographers shouting "look this way" and "over here Trudy."

Comments such as "She certainly is a beautiful girl," and "She is one of the most poised girls I have seen," were expressed by members of the press.

Queen Julia West, the 1966 princess, arrived to give Trudy a congratulatory hug, then posed with the new princess for the cameras.

Thursday evening friends surprised Trudy with a party. They presented her with a cake topped with a large edible rose. She was then taken to dinner at the Hill Villa Restaurant.

Trudy's Friday activities started at 7:45 a.m. when she was taken to KGW television station for an interview with R. H. Peck and Konnie Worth for "Telescope" and another interview with Jim Fenwick for KGW radio. Escorted by a Royal Rosarian, Trudy visited KBPS, Benson's radio station and KOIN-TV's "Hi Neighbor" program.

During the course of the day Princess Trudy had her picture taken at three photographic studios and went to Meier and Frank's for her wardrobe.

"The clothes are really neat," Trudy commented. She continued, "All of the princesses get a three-piece knit suit and a pants and sweater outfit from Jantzen. We also get a dress and coat from Pendleton and a raincoat and shoes to wear with each outfit."

The formals to be worn the night of the coronation are floor length bell-shaped, pastel yellow. "They're just beautiful," Trudy added.

Her festival activities will slow down until the entire court has been selected. The Rose Festival Coronation will be June 5 at the Memorial Coliseum.

Asked about her family's reaction to this honor, Trudy said, "My father couldn't talk." She also received telephone calls from her sisters who live out of the state.

"I received lots of flowers from thoughtful people," exclaimed Trudy.

Not being able to answer the telephone or open any mail are the restrictions on the princesses. This is to protect the girls from pranksters.

Trudy is collecting material of all kinds for her Rose Festival scrapbook. She has already been given many photographs of herself from the presentation assemblies.
