Pep Band featured attraction at upcoming basketball game

For the first time, the Pep Band, under the direction of Dan Ellis, will be billed as the featured half time entertainment at a basketball game. The game is scheduled here, January 19th.

"We'll be doing some really swinging stuff," Dan commented on the music. Pieces included will be Riff Riders, One Last Kiss and Tijuana Taxi. One Last Kiss was transcribed especially for the group by Dan.

"The purpose of this show is to shed some light on the abilities of this year's wailin' Pep Band. Previously the Pep Band had been a pretty obscure group, but this year it really goes," said Dan in his modern speech patterns.

For the show, the band will be situated on the gym floor. Pep Band members include Ron Marrs, Nick Castillo, Kathy Bennett, Rick Hibbs, Wes Aanderud, Mike Garnet, Tom Winters, Paul Esselston, Chuck Dustin, Victor Chan, Stevie Ryley, Ken Dahl, Rick Durland, Scott Swope, Hoyt Walker, Timmy Lawrence, Kem Sypher, and Brenda Pettit.

The band is also formulating plans for a possible Pep Band assembly in the early spring.

Aussie Vicki Sparks gives books to school

"I hope these books will be put to proper use and will be enjoyed by everyone," said exchange student Vicki Sparks as she presented two books about Australia to the student body.

The titles of the two books are The Australians; and Australia '67, the Colourful Continent. All the aspects of Australian life and culture from the aborigines to cosmopolitan Australia are described in these books.

The books will be available for student use in the library as soon as they are processed. According to Vicki the books are "something to remember my country by."

Portland State College to present professional plays to students, public

by Marilyn Leonard

"Skin of Our Teeth" and "The Adding Machine" will be performed by the American Theater Company, January 15 to February 24, at the Portland State Playhouse, "Old Main."

The productions are open to the public at matinee and evening performances. Students who have signed up to see these plays through their English teachers, will be admitted at no charge at the matinee performances January 30 and February 20.

In a combined effort to bring the live and professional theater to the public, Dr. Asher Willso, drama department chairman at PSC, and Dr. Tom Hill, director of the company, have been soliciting the support they need to start a regular, professional theater in Portland.

The two men also wanted to bring more American plays into the theatre. They feel that American plays would be well accepted because they present problems we face.

"Skin of Our Teeth" was written by Thornton Wilder, author of "Our Town." The play is an overall look at man from prehistoric life to the present times, and how we escaped catastrophe by the "skin of our teeth."

Elmer Rice was the author of "The Adding Machine" which revolves around a clerk who dies and goes to heaven.
