Sonya Manning

Are you running for a student body office because of sincere interest in the betterment of the school or for your personal improvement?

Because I keep my three "A's" with me in everything I do—alert, active, and ambitious—I feel I carry the necessary qualifications for the office of secretary. I have held the office of secretary in many organizations and clubs in my previous years. Now I feel that the time has come that Grant needs an alert, active and ambitious secretary to report facts and keep up the modern trend of efficiency.

Debby Rengo

—Sonya Manning

The only work I've done for the school was through art staff and this is observed by only a few. Maybe an office in Executive council could help make it possible for me to service the school through working for the student body. I believe that to "qualify" for an office a person needs only determination and a sense of responsibility—these other "qualifying" elements apply only to those seeking positions to help build their social status and personal ego.

—Debby Rengo

I am running for the office of student body secretary not just for personal improvement, but also because of sincere interest in the betterment of Grant. By fulfilling the duties of secretary, I would hope to keep Grant up to its present high standard of student government. I would also hope to improve myself by gaining some knowledge of student government and learning to work with fellow students.

Reasons for running given

League secretary post attracts girls

Jill Bergman

Why are you running for this office?

I am running for this office because I feel that now, more than ever before, there is a real need for unity, love, and respect for one another. I think Girls' league can help to accomplish this.

Each girl is unique and can contribute very special ideas if given the opportunity. It is the job of Girls' league to supply the opportunity and spark the enthusiasm that will make more want to participate.

—Jill Bergman

Girls' league gives all girls a chance to get involved in school activities. It's a lot of fun and a lot of work. I would like to meet this challenge and work with the president in getting other girls involved. By being Girls' league secretary I would be able to work for the community and the school. I think everyone should get involved in Girls' league and this is the way I can be involved.

Barbara Gould

—Barb Gould

Girls' league has proved to be a very successful and worthwhile organization here at Grant. I'm very interested in helping improve and maintain these high standards. Working as Junior Girls' league vice-president, I feel I know the workings of this office and what it entails. The secretary is responsible for informing the girls of league activities.

Karen Zidell

Candidates' opinions on necessity of athletic representatives post differ

Do you feel that student government could operate efficiently if your office was eliminated?

The responsibilities of this office are very limited. They include such things as: publicity of all athletic events, being in charge of sports letters, engraving of trophies, keeping sports pictures up to date, and organizing and supervising intramural athletics.

This responsibility could very well be done away with and our school would probably suffer little. However, I feel that if the person elected to that office is willing to give a little more of himself than specified his work would be well done.

—Bill Flowers

Mike Reinecker

I definitely feel that the office of athletic rep is one of importance and could not be eliminated. Many duties are required of this officer, such as keeping the athletic bulletin board up to date and making sure that all events are publicized in the morning announcements. I would like to fulfill these obligations.

—Mike Reinecker

Assistant treasurer's job told; responsibility importance high

What are the duties and responsibilities of the office?

The duties and responsibilities of assistant treasurer are to work with the treasurer in any fund raising activity such as the Red Cross drive, UGN, and other various campaigns.

If I am elected to this office I will not only learn the importance of student responsibility but the importance of student government as well, which I am very eager to participate in.

—Cindy Lehl

The job of assistant treasurer is a stepping stone to the office of treasurer; therefore a candidate must think of both jobs and how she can make her terms successful. The duties are to assist the treasurer by running errands and helping to keep the record of incoming and outgoing money, therefore, learning more about the office. This will help to make her term successful as treasurer.

—Barbara Leonard

The duties of the assistant treasurer are to learn from the treasurer as best he can the most effective and easiest ways of handling the treasury. As an officer I think it is his responsibility to conduct himself, remembering that he is looked upon as an example of, and for the student body. A very important part is bringing forth ideas to the Executive council that would help bring variety into student activities.

—Julie Lind

Being in charge of fund raising projects and other money making campaigns are some of the jobs that the assistant treasurer has.

The most important job for the assistant treasurer is to be alert to the duties of the office to which he or she will succeed. The more obvious duty is to assist the treasurer in all her jobs and to become a responsible member of the Executive council.

—Cathy Radford

The assistant treasurer must help with the sale of student body cards and actively participate not only in the sales put on by the Executive council, but in all the activities that the Executive council undertakes during the year. The assistant treasurer must represent the Executive council and Grant high school the best way she knows how, and this I will do.
