

PREPARING HIMSELF for math tournaments is Neil Jacobsen with Mr. Ronald Sobottka, math instructor prompting.

Kathleen Bennett, Neil Jacobsen among top math students in city

"It was fun, but just a little hard," commented Neil Jacobsen, speaking on the final test given by the Math Association of America.

The tests began in early March with the first being held in the library, with three juniors and three seniors winning places for the city-wide test on March 30.

The city-wide test was held at Washington high school with six students representing each city high school.

"The test lasted all morning, with the first elimination to 16 seniors and juniors and the second to five seniors and four juniors," stated Neil.

Kathleen Bennett and Neil Jacobsen were chosen from Grant.

Last Saturday, another test was held at Washington high school. "Nine people were present taking the test," commented Neil. "It lasted three hours, and had a total of eight questions. I don't really think anybody finished, but we worked right up to the last minute."

Dad's Club set audition date of annual show

You still have time! Auditions for the Dad's Club show have been postponed until April 17 at 7:00 p.m. in the auditorium in order to give more students a chance to perfect their acts.

"Four Blocks Off Broadway" has been selected as the title of the annual fund-raising event to be held May 10-11.

According to Ray Feves, Dad's Club vice-president in charge of publicity, a new feature has been added, "On April 24-25 from 7:00-10:00 p.m. the PTA will assist members of the Dad's Club in phoning every Grant parent. This will be done in order to find out how many tickets each family will want and will enable the Dads to have the tickets in the mail by the next day."

Using switchboards of the Hollywood branches of the US and First National banks, up to 20 phone calls can be made at one time.

'Pot luck' success, club plans picnic

"It was really fun. Everyone that came had such a good time that we're planning another get-together on April 21," commented Sterling Bennett on the German students' recent banquet.

Organized by Inga Burger, foreign exchange student from Austria and Janet Jump, her American sister, the dinner was a pot-luck lasting from 6:00-10:00 p.m.

"Now we're planning a picnic for a week from Sunday," added Sterling. "We're all going to meet at the Jumps' house and then proceed to Mt. Tabor park."

"At the first dinner everyone was supposed to speak in German only. It was really fun trying to think of the right words and understand everyone else," commented Inese Bruins. "Finally, though, everyone broke down and did use some English."

Beautification conference delegates participate in discussion, planning

A delegation of fifteen students will attend the Portland Youth Conference on Beautification and Litter Prevention tomorrow in the Multnomah County library.

Forensic members win at District, enter State meet

"We did really well, and I'm proud of them all," commented Mrs. Opal Hamilton, speech instructor, speaking on the State district tournament which was held at University of Portland last weekend.

The winners in this meet are the future representatives for the upcoming state tournament April 18-20, at University of Oregon.

Taking first place trophies were: John Luik and Jim Winkler, Oxford Debate; Bob Helfond, Humorous; Tim Kehoe, After Dinner, and Jim Winkler, Extemporaneous and Impromptu.

Second place winners were: Jane Nichols, Serious; Bob Helfond, Oratory; John Luik, Extemporaneous and Impromptu. Other winners were: Loz Klonoff for Lincoln-Douglas Debate and Tim Kehoe, Humorous.

Receiving honorable mention were: Teri Jones, Norm Curry and Dave Hytowitz.

The large display of the trophies won by the Speech department can be seen in the show windows in center hall.

Cafeteria adds new food display cases

"After several years of nagging, we finally got new food display cases in the cafeteria," beamed Mrs. Viola Runyon, cafeteria manager.

Five new stainless-steel and glass display cases were installed in the cafeteria this week, thanks to the persistent requests of the cafeteria staff.

Made according to specifications by the school district, the total cost of the five cabinets is over $500.

Marc Mooney, Kathy Fifield, Greg Walsh, Teri Jones, David Alexander, Mike Jenkins, Karolyn Karoll, Barb Gould, Dan Aiken, Gary Stroud and Gaylen Kiltow will take part in round table discussions. Watching movies, a cola break and a free drawing are also scheduled for the conference to be attended by area students.

According to Portland Beautification association; Clean and Beautiful, Inc., and the Izaak Walton league the purpose of the meetings and seminars is to convey to senior high students the importance of beautification and litter prevention in their everyday life, relative to their schools, community and state.

Any student or student group with permission from the principal may attend the conference.
