

Memoirs issued tomorrow

Memoirs will be delivered May 22. "The books will be distributed during reg," explained Willard Mohn, Memoirs advisor. "The yearbooks can be picked up after 8:00, and taken to the regs. The students are asked to sign the 'received list' so accurate records may be kept. At 9:00, teachers are asked to return the list and all unclaimed books to Room 207. Students who didn't get books in reg may pick them up after 3:00 only in Room 207, or the next week after 3:00 only in Room 207.

"A few extra books may be available, but won't go on sale until after the majority of the books have been accounted for," Mr.

Mohn continued.

Because of Spring delivery, Spring activities excluded were: baseball, track, tennis, Junior and Senior Proms, Carnival, Commencement and Spring Show.

Next year, yearbooks will cost $5.00 with a student body card, and $5.50 without. "This is considerably cheaper than in other parts of the city," Mr. Mohn said. Bruce Luzader Studios will be school photographer; seniors will have their pictures taken there, or their pictures will not be included in the yearbook.

Underclassmen will have their pictures taken September 29-30.

An optional color pack may be obtained for $3.00, payable at the time the photograph is taken.

1970-71 Memoirs staff includes returnees Betsey Turner, Charlotte Becker and Nancy Thompson. Joining the staff will be seniors Margaret Froes, Barb

Dunn, Janice Taggard, Michelle Burton, Sharon Bibb, and Sally Wirtz. Juniors will be Steve Twedt, Sue Dinihanian, Janet Wynkoop, Dwight McFadden, Dana Weinstein, Mike Jordan and Steve Harwood.

Plastic covers, especially made to fit the yearbook, will be on sale in Center Hall during fourth and fifth lunches for 35 cents. Buy a cover, and protect the lasting beauty of your Memoirs.

Junior Achievers given four honors at banquet

Awards and Scholarships, two of the things most on the minds of many seniors, were presented Tuesday night to 21 students at a special banquet held by Junior Achievement.

Approximately 800 people gathered at the Hilton Hotel for this annual event. Four Grant members of Junior Achievement were given scholarships or awards.

Susan Bradley, a junior, was judged as winner in the Best Annual Report to Stockholders contest. Susan's company is Peace-Co, which is counseled by the Hyster Company. The report is judged on a narrative account of the company's activities and financial report.

Shakespeare fans plan Ashland trip; July tour date set

Embarking June 30 on a four-day trip to Ashland and the Shakespearean Festival will be a small group of juniors and seniors under the supervision of English teacher Mr. Gerald Merriam.

Among those signed up for the excursion are current Shakespeare students Holli Armstrong, Eric Moore, John Henley, Chris Robison, Jane Oliver, and Rosemary Bloom.

Also planning to be present on the trip are Jayne Wood, Virginia Carter, Jan Dorman, Rosalie Taylor, and Becky Michel.

Leaving Grant June 30, the group will travel to Ashland by bus to arrive at the dormitory where they will Southern Oregon College be rooming.

Tuesday evening the schedule of play viewing begins with Shakespeare's The Comedy of Errors. Dramatic action highlights Wednesday's itinerary as the students attend a matinee of The Merchant of Venice and the evening performance of Julius Caesar.

Thursday, a change of pace will be provided by the production of Rosencrantz and Guildenstern and Dead, a modern play by Tom Stoppard based on two characters from Hamlet. Last in the series of dramas to be seen by the group of students will be Richard II, performed Thursday evening.

The students leave Ashland July 3 on the return trip to Grant.

Discussing his previous experiences on tours, Mr. Merryman said, "I've taken two tours before and they've been completely delightful."

Another junior was also honored as Dena Hamling was announced as the winner of the Vice-President-Manufacturing of the Year award.

Recipient of the Arthur Andersen and Company Scholarship was Rick Grimshaw, a senior, of the Student Enterprises Unlimited Company, which is sponsored by the Owens-Illinois Corporation.

A Junior Achievement Cash Scholarship was awarded to Senior Kelly Slocum of EMCA Enterprises, which is counseled by The Bank of California.

MEMBERS OF the newly-formed Grant High Black Gospel Choir perform before the student body in a recent assembly. The group was formed as "a goal to reach for."

New group introduced

Black Gospel Choir 'just happened'

by Janice Egger

Presented during Black Culture Week this year, a new choir has come into view. The Black Gospel choir just happened: black students decided they wanted a singing group and the choir evolved. As Artie Wilson said: "We needed to give them a goal to reach for."

Since the assembly when the choir was presented to the student body they have had many different engagements throughout the city. They performed at a Youth Convention in Vancouver May 20th, and will be at an anniversary at New Hope Church May 24th and will be performing in a Gospel singout to be held in the Grant auditorium next Saturday, May 30th, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students and can be purchased from any Gospel Choir member. Junior Johnson, Artie Wilson, or Mrs. Cora Johnson.

Reverend Wendal Wallace, who was speaker at the B.S.U. assembly, will be master of ceremonies.

A proposal sent to Dr. Roy O. Malo to make the choir a class next year may go into effect, so that students may receive a credit for being in the choir. This is still very tentative though.

Fifty-four members make up the group, five are seniors, the rest are juniors, sophomores and freshmen.

The parents of the students help get the engagements for the choir because they feel their children are doing something worthwhile.

Artie Wilson said he was "surprised and happy to see all the enthusiasm and the large audiences at each performance."

As of now the choir wears black and white outfits, but they are saving for robes next year.

After years of service

Mrs. Opal Hamilton honored

In appreciation for her 32 years as speech teacher at Grant, a dinner will be held May 28 for Mrs. Opal Hamilton. The evening's festivities will begin at 7:00 p.m. at the Thunderbird Restaurant and is sponsored by the National Forensics League. Quite an attendance is planned with a variation of entertainment.

Mr. Ben Padrow of "High Q" fame will speak, attributing Mrs. Hamilton. An invitation was sent to Senator Wayne Morse, who was unable to come, but did send a letter, which will be read. A film of tape from Senator Robert Packwood will be presented. Mr. Frank Case, Dr. Harold Kleiner and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Graham are among those attending along with the Royal Blues.

Anyone can come to the dinner and should contact Linda Donin for invitations. "It's really an honor doing this for Mrs. Hamilton, she's done so much for me and all the other students," Linda sincerely stated. "This is the least we can do for her."

Much preparation has gone into the dinner with plans starting last October. Trophies and ribbons won in the past speech tournaments by Mrs. Hamilton's students will serve as decorations.

In her years of teaching, Mrs. Hamilton has successfully coached students winning a total of about 17,000 awards.

Closing activities reviewed; seniors' 'week' recounted

Senior week has taken place this week with Senior Administration Day on Wednesday, the Senior Assembly on Thursday and the Senior Prom tomorrow night. The National Forensics League will have their assembly on Tuesday with the "B" and "C" Awards being held that evening in the cafeteria.

The "A" Awards will be presented Thursday to those who lettered in varsity sports. Friday makes the final day for Seniors and the day for yearbook distribution. The Memorial Day Assembly will also take place on Friday.

On June 3 the third assembly for the Seniors will be presented, and caps and gowns will be distributed. A commencement rehearsal will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday at the Coliseum. Any seniors who do not attend will be unable to participate in the commencement.

June 8 will be the Rose Festival Coronation. Your representation is needed in the Grant section to support our princess. June 9 will be the final day for underclassmen. The format of the day is up to individual teachers.

Prom highlight of senior activities; year almost over

"A Time for Us," is an appropriate theme chosen for the 1970 Senior Prom. The night of the 23 will be one of the last times that the class will be together. The Town Hall has been reserved for the prom from 8:00-11:00 p.m. with a supper room serving refreshments. Entertainment provided by Jerry Van Hoomison and His Orchestra comes well recommended, having played at Senior Proms in previous years.

"The Senior Prom is always traditional," commented Mr. George Galati, activities director. "This is an opportunity for everyone to say good-bye to all of the friends that were made throughout the four years."

The Town Hall is well decorated in itself and flowers and candles are being added to the old-fashioned decor.

When asked about a Senior Prom queen of some sort, chairman Mike Soule said, "The seniors consider Cindy Walden as their queen as she is the Rose Festival Princess."

Many people have given a lot of time and attention to the prom, and hope it will be a great success. Mike summed it up by saying, "I hope it proves to be 'A Time For Us' to remember!"

Baccalaureate 'reborn'— Campus Life to sponsor services open to everyone

Just recently a group of interested students took it upon themselves to decide on having a Baccalaureate, out of school, because they felt that it was really needed.

Central Lutheran Church will be the place where Baccalaureate is going to be held on June 3 at 7:30, although in-school services were voted down by many of the seniors because they felt that they weren't needed.

One of the reasons that these students wanted Baccalaureate was that they felt that it was a traditional and needed part of Graduation, even though not everyone will attend.

At the service there will be only one guest speaker in the program, instead of many, as in the past. Roland Boyce, advisor for Campus Life, is the speaker.
