mentary

Apathy hunters goad students

Coleman

test White Apathy Hunters came the fog bearing microphones.

eigh noon Tuesday (or close to it) began setting up. Some of the diners in the Community Center tegan casting nervous glances to the difference of the control of the contr

/e on to us," the glances seemed to fourse they were too apathetic to most hung their eyes and noses tow-syrofoam soupbowls and hunkered the tongue-lashing.

a fairly gentle introduction by mar Mitch Newton, second-term ad Student Government senator, a griarge jumped up and shouted:

mean you're just here to take what get? You mean you don't care moutanything back into this school shelping you? I think that's really prickered and quite a few tried to the insult, but Dick Bonwell's neck and he began shouting from where adheaded towards the mike.

sok of this rhetoric about apathy," "I'm here to get my education and to here. There do seem to be a lot of here for the social activities or what-some. And there attoot me, And there are a lot of other here like me, who just want to acon their business and get out."

whow can you talk about apathy bof the teachers and administration note in the last levy election? Phi and did a study - and it's true," he wich you expect your programs to people 15 years my senior and 15 mjunior?" asked Mike Day, business withink anyone has the right to call wate," Day said. "You can't judge the basis of silence or complacency."

I, who is in the proximity of the Collinean age group of 27, feels that the sponsored rock concerts and pool tournlinean of for him — or for a lot of other sommunity college's working educalines, would like to see more scholasticallyknally-oriented programs," he said that't we have potential gubernatorial that or a debate between Straub and be or hear some of the other dynamic of our country or state? I'd love to to debate," enten was pleased with this suggestion.

E all," he noted, "we need to feel the an this campus. We as senators need to anta the students are interested in doth their money."

kiton has manned more than one this Bitches" tables around the campus takeard some juicy complaints.

ing the suggestions which bombarded its pathy table were:

that the tic money to build a swimming better commuter transportation for fort spend so much school money on Audents need lockers for their gear in interesting lecturers.

food prices in the school cafeteria are

Community College

-- More time is needed between classes and not just for handicapped students.

--Instructors should be more willing to discuss and answer questions.

Mitch Newton leads student gripe session in the CCC cafeteria.

--State senators and Department of Education members are wanted for seminars.

--Funds for extra-curricular activities should be more evenly distributed.

--Nursing students are displeased with most everything — instructors, books, heat, curriculum and activities.

--Better lounge activities — fix the radio.

--Students should have a 'rap mike' at ASG meetings, and open discussion afterwards.

--There should be an Emergency Board to deal with student emergencies such as counseling, food, money, a bed or clothing.

Day called many of the bitches very petty. "You simply can't please all the people all the time," he said.

Next Tuesday, Newton said, the soap box will be available to those who have something good to say about Clackamas.

