Benefit basketball

The United States Marine Corps basketball team will be playing a benefit hoop game with the KYTE radio "Good Guys" at the College next Wednesday night at 8 p.m.

If the service team wins, $150 will go to benefit their Youth Physical Fitness Program. If the Radio team wins, the money will go to a charity of their choice.

Admission to the basketball game will be contribution or donation. The game will be held in Randall Gym.

Art reception

The visual effects of a kaleidoscope compare with Norm Bursheim's art works, which will be exhibited in the Fireside Lounge, Community Center, Nov. 28 through Dec. 3.

Bursheim, chairperson of the art department at the College, said that his works exhibit the universal rhythms of energy and movement.

The exhibition is being sponsored by the College's art advisory committee and Associated Student Government. Food and drinks will be served on opening night, at 7 p.m.

Assassination slides

A slide presentation on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy will be presented Monday, Nov. 21 in the Community Center, room to be announced.

The slides will include the actual motion picture taken in Dallas, Tex., that takes each frame and turns it in to slides, and actual photographs of persons being arrested at the assassination who were allegedly arrested at the Watergate break-in.

The presentation is being sponsored by the Northwest Assassination Research Committee, based in San Francisco. Persons are welcome to bring their cameras and tape recorders. Admission is a $1 donation.

Self-defense tourney

The College's karate club will be participating in the Northwest Championship Tournament of the Oriental Arts of Self Defense Saturday, Nov. 26.

Competition will be held in Tae Kwon Do, Karate and Kung Fu, with demonstrations of these forms of fighting and self defense to be presented after competition.

The tournament will consist of one-on-one, one-on-two and one-on-four fighting.

Competition will begin at noon and the tournament will last until 7 p.m. in the Portland YWCA's downtown gym. Admission will be $2.

Business seminar

Preventing losses due to fraudulent checks and false identification is the topic of a seminar to be presented at the College for retail businesses Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 7 p.m. in McLoughlin, room 119.

John Heidtke, crime resistance agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will present the program sponsored by the college Community Services office and the Clackamas and the County Sheriff's Department.

Manufacture and use of false identification cards, recognition and preservation of evidence, investigation of bad checks and stolen credit cards, laws regarding fraudulent checks and the district attorney's prosecution policy will be discussed. A check alert system used in other business communities will be covered. For more information call 656-2631, ext. 232.

Address changes

Persons receiving Veterans Administration checks and moving at the end of the term should leave their forwarding address and notify the VA office to insure receiving their final checks.

VA checks for GI Bill students' final month of training, or partial month, will be issued on the first day of the following month. Unless the VA and the postal service have received a change of address, the check will be mailed to the address provided by the student during school term.

The Veterans Education and Employment Assistance Act of 1976 eliminated prepayment of monthly VA allowances for VA trainees, effective June 1, 1977. The last prepayment checks were mailed in May.

Changes of address can be reported to the veterans representative on campus or to local VA offices.

Board votes ...

person Anne Nickel read a letter to the board chairpersons urging defeat of the proposed policy, and asking that they in shaping a proposed policy to be at a later date.

Shirley Cressler, president of the College Community College Educational Association, expressed concerns of the board if the policy were put into effect. She said the quality of the instructional staff would suffer in order to obtain good coaching.

Cressler cited the example of an incoming teacher applicant who was not very athletic and said that that person would not be hired.

Dr. John Hakanson, college president, said that these combination positions should not be offered very often as coaching over is low. He said the proposed policy would not set any procedures for implementation.

A bid was accepted from the Xerox Company for $107,540 for six copies of the Alf Lair, director of planning and operations, reported that the machines will save $100,000 over the next seven years.

Lair also said the College had a problem with its contract with Meadowland Dairy. He said the unsatisfactory performance, and working with Carnation, next lowest bidder.

Hakanson intends to bring a recommendation to the December or January board meeting that the architects proceed with the building construction drawings for the building and the proposed Barlow expansion in order that the College may prepare for federal funding.
