

Hansen elected committee chairman

An explanation of the rate-based serial levy by Dr. John Hakanson, College president, and election of key committee chairpersons were main topics at the first meeting of the Citizen's Election Steering Committee on Jan. 26.

Ben Hansen, editor of the Enterprise Courier in Oregon City, was elected chairman at the 7:30 p.m. meeting at West Linn Inn. Hansen was also chairman of the Aug 9 election committee.

Tentative sub-chairmen were also chosen, according to Hansen. They include Harold Juedes, Intermediate Education District (IED) board of directors and former school trustee, education; Anna Payne, recent chairman of the Blue Ribbon Athletic Study Committee, door to door canvassing; Richard Weiss, Associated Student Government (ASG) senator, student campaign; and Dick Brantley, advertising manager of the Enterprise Courier, advertising campaign.

Several professionals were also chosen as sub-chairmen in their prospective fields to appeal to fellow professionals, according to Hansen.

Dr. Jack Chitty, Oregon City physician, physician professionals; Anne Nichol, CCC Board of Education chairperson, attorneys; Kerry Kilbride, Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and president of the CCC Foundation, CPA's; Arnold Thomas, employee at Thomas Hahn Insurance, Oregon City, insurance professionals; Harry Christensen, KYXI radio celebrity, publicity; Jono Hildner, head of Clackamas County Human Resources department, social services;

Frank Philpot, retired tradesman, labor organizations; Rep. Ted Achilles (R-West Linn), Republican campaign; John Danielson, Oregon Education Association government relations consultant, educators; Clackamas County Commissioner Ralph Groener, Democrat campaign; Myra Belle Mayan, retired teacher, senior citizens and educators; Dan Faddis, energy and field service representative for Portland General Electric western division, telephone canvass.

Joe Steinkamp, West Linn merchant, chambers of commerce; and Dr. John Hakanson, College president, newspaper editors of the county and the Oregonian and Journal. Chairpersons yet to be decided are in the real estate field and CCC alumni.

"Dr. Hakanson briefed us on the rate-based serial levy to enable us to answer questions that we might encounter," Hansen said.

"We asked him to present us with two things," Hansen said. "These are major questions and criticisms and exactly what the levy will do and not do."

The next meeting of the Citizen's Election Steering Committee will be Feb. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Clackamas County IED ofices at Marylhurst Learning Center.

Gold Rush skiing contest

The 20 K Gold Rush, sponsored by REI Co-op and KVI Radio, will be held Feb. 12 near Hyak Cross Country Center, Snoqualmie Pass, Wash. The fifth annual 20K Gold Rush will be open to skiers of all ages and abilities.

The 20km. (12.4 mi.) course is not technically difficult and anyone who can ski should be able to finish. Hyak Cross Country Center will prepare the course try Center will prepare the course, which will start in the Gold Creek Valley and finish at the Kingsbergers Ski Club site, near Cabin Creek Road.

Medals will be awarded everyone who finishes within winner's time plus 50 percent. The overall winner will receive a free ski trip to Norway, courtesy of REI Travel.

Entry fee is $5 or $6 on day of the race. Spectators welcome. For more information and entry forms call or write REI Co-op, 1798 Jantzen Beach Center, Portland, 97217, 20K 1300, or write: REI Co-op Gold Rush, P.O. Box C-88126, Seattle, Wash., 98188.

Print staff sends Valentine to heart fund

Staff members of The Print made their contribution to the Valentine cause this week when the results of their campaign for "heart throb" personal messages on campus became final.

Over $150 of personal valentine messages were sold by staff members and appear in today's newspaper on page 12. Half of the money collected will be donated to the Oregon Heart Association by the newspaper.

"This is something we hope will become an annual effort by our newspaper staff members," said Randy Clark, publications adviser. "Perhaps we can vary the organization which receives the donated money each year."

Clark said the idea is something that has been done by the newspapers on the University of Oregon and Oregon State University campuses for the past several years.

"We were shooting to pass the number of ads sold by the Barometer (OSU) and the Emerald (UO) in recent years and we almost made it," Clark said. "The staff would like to thank all of the persons who bought the personal messages."

Happie Thacker, Print editor, sold the most personal messages with a total of 65. Brian Snook, photo editor, was a close second with 64 messages sold.

Bloodmobile

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the College Wednesday, Feb. 15 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Community Center Mall.

OUCH!

Don't get burnt because you didn't get in on the Print's 'Hot Tip News Awards'

The Print is offering a free lunch to the best news tip each week concerning the students, faculty and staff on campus.

Contact 656-2631, ext. 259 for more information.

Ed candidates express views

Candidates for State Superintendent of Public Instruction will be presented various questions submitted by each of the affiliates of the Oregon Vocational Association at a banquet to be held at the Portland Airport Sheraton Inn.

Verne Duncan, Fred Heard and Ruth McFarland will be permitted five to eight minutes to express their viewpoints on vocational and career education.

Questions will also be permitted from the audience.

Reservations for OVA members and spouses are $8 each (includes gratuity) and $10 each for non-members.

Included will be a 6 p.m. no-host cash bar and dinner at 7 p.m.

For a reservation card, contact Howard Fryett at 656-2631, ext. 288.

Crisis center meeting suffers lack of key participation

The Crisis Center meeting of Feb. 1 suffered a great deal from the lack of participation by key persons in relation to funding and staff, according to John Harlan, coordinator of the project.

"We're going ahead, however," he said, "and will extend more energy toward getting these key people to attend meetings and add their positive influence and information."

Persons interested in helping with the forming of a Crisis Center may attend a meeting today at 3:30 p.m. in CC-117. A CETA representative will be available to give a rundown of funding resources and staff available through their organization.

Regular weekly meetings are held on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. Contact John Harlan or Richard Weiss at 656-2631, extension 357 for more information concerning the Crisis Center.

Senator visits

State senator Fred Heard, candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will be visiting the College for a tour of the campus and discussion with the College's staff and students.

Heard's agenda for Thursday Feb. 16, will be: 8:30 to 11 a.m., a tour of the campus with President John Hakanson; a talk with the College staff from 11 a.m. to noon; from noon till 1 p.m. he will talk with students in the Fireside Lounge; and at 1 p.m. he will be eating lunch in the cafeteria.

Hurry! Valentine's Day is Tuesday, February 14!

Send Our FTD

LoveBundle® Bouquet

What could please your Valentine more than a beautiful LoveBundle® Bouquet? Fresh, romantic flowers arranged with a spray of sparkling hearts. We can send it almost anywhere by wire, the FTD way. But hurry... Valentine's Day is almost here. Call or visit us today.

$15.00

We really get around ... for you!

Oregon City Flower Shop
410 High Street
656-2969

Gladstone Florist
140 W. Arlington
656-4898

Erv Lind's House of Flowers
611 Main Street
656-1908

Lloyd Center
281-1181

Printed in U.S.A. © 1977 FLORISTS' TRANSWORLD DELIVERY

