Ed Mock and Angela Lee discuss their different dance techniques after class at the Oregon Martial Arts Center last Tuesday.

Guest dance artists demonstrate ballet, jazz and modern techniques

Several guest artists will be instructing the modern dance classes being offered at the College.

Ed Mock, founder and artistic director of the West Coast Dance Works in San Francisco, Calif., demonstrated such dance forms as ballet, jazz, boogie, West Indian dances and improvisation last night.

Angela Lee, of the Oregon Light Opera Company's production of "Brigadoon", will demonstrate dance techniques from musical.

Judy Masee, director of the Dancer's Workshop in Portland will demonstrate early modern dance.

Mock performed Tuesday, Feb. 7, Lee will perform Thursday, Feb. 16 and Masee will perform on Thursday, March 1.

For additional information contact Jane Rickenbach, College dance instructor, at 656-2631, ext. 350.

Astronomy

There will be an astronomy field trip to Mt. Hood Community College's planetarium Thursday, Feb. 9.

Any interested students are invited to attend. The bus will leave Orchard Center at 9:35 a.m. and return at 12:30 p.m. The trip is free.

Anyone interested should call 656-2631, ext. 230 and leave their name.

Krieger

Dr. Dolores Krieger, internationally known nurse and professor at New York University, will present a program on Therapeutic Touch at the College Friday, Feb. 17, at 7:30 p.m.

The program will be held in the College's Community Center building and is sponsored by the College nursing department and the Oregon Nursing Association.

Dr. Krieger will also present a two day workshop on Saturday and Sunday at the college.

Information is available from Pat Krumm by calling 656-2631.

Hot tip news

In an attempt to solicit better news coverage of the College, The Print is sponsoring a weekly "Hot Tip News" award.

A free lunch will be awarded for the best news tip of the week to a student, faculty or staff member about a campus event or individual happening concerning the students and faculty at the College.

If you see something, or hear of something unusual -- or maybe not so unusual -- call The Print at 656-2631, ext. 259 or 278.

Roles workshop

Various workshops designed to promote exchange and mutual support among women are being sponsored by the Sisters of the Holy Child Jesus.

"The Family and the Changing Role of Women," will offer such workshops as balancing roles, children and divorce, the single parent, family and neighborhood resources, women and urban problems and body, planet and cost-conscious cooking this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Westminster Presbyterian Church, 16th and NE Hancock.

For additional information, contact Jeanne Adams, Sisters of the Holy Child Jesus, 288-2996.

King Tut tour

Tours to see the treasure of the Egyptian king Tutankhamun exhibited in Seattle have been scheduled by the College's Community Services in conjunction with the Oregon City Travel Bureau.
