Greenfingers

Registration is open for this year's Green Fingers Community Garden Project at the College.

The project will have 216 gardens this year, each approximately 700 square feet. There is a $2 fee per garden. The College will provide space and irrigation, also some fertilizer and possibly some seeds.

For more information, call 656-2631, ext. 232.

Open house

Music drama, artwork, auto emission testing, blood pressure tests, tours of classroom and laboratory facilities and many other activities are all part of the College's Open House this week.

The public is invited to visit with college staff and students today, from 7 to 10 p.m.; Friday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Sunday, from 1 to 5 p.m. Visitors can learn about college classes, special programs and student activities.

Information is available by phoning 656-2631, extension 216.

Western gardeners

"Survey of Western Gardens", an eight-week course taught by Gerald Hermann is for those students interested in landscape design and plant studies.

Each Saturday, from 1 to 4 p.m., a different garden in the area will be visited and reviewed. Specific on-site studies will include landscape design techniques, plant identification and plant usage for the home gardener.

Some of the gardens to be visited are Crystal Springs Gardens, Tryon Creek State Park, and the Camassia Wilderness Area.

Information about the class is available from the college community education office, 656-2631.

Scholarship

The College is offering four full-tuition scholarships for the 1978-79 academic year to area high school seniors with an interest in journalism.

The awards are made available by Journalism/Publications at the College. The only stipulation is that winning students participate in student publications during the school year. Deadline for the applications is April 10.

Students interested may gain more information and applications from their high school counselors or by calling the financial aid office at the College, 656-2631, ext. 251.

Electricity class

State Industrial Maintenance Electrical exam preparation and information about school electric systems will be covered by two classes offered by the College spring term.

Clinton Barnett, Horton Electric Co., will teach "Industrial Maintenance Electrical License Preparation" from 7 to 10 p.m. on Wednesday at Milwaukie High School, room 102.

The course should be of particular interest to those who have had past experience in the electrical field or related education.

"School Electric Systems" will be taught by Bob Harris Thursdays 7 to 10 p.m. in Trailer D at the College.

The course is designed primarily for school custodians and will explore school electrical systems and ways to check out minor electrical problems.

Information about the classes is available from the college's Job Skill Improvement office, 656-2631, extension 341.

Art show

Five tuition waivers will be given to the winners of an art competition for area high school students to be sponsored by the College's art department April 3 through 7.

The tuition waivers will be awarded for excellence in painting and drawing, crafts, jewelry and sculpture and ceramics, said Les Tipton, art instructor at the College.

"The main purpose of the show is to encourage better high school art students to come and look at the campus and to give them a place to exhibit their work," said Norm Bursheim, art instructor.

According to Bursheim, the exhibit will be handled like a professional art show and will feature a lecturer and a reception.

The reception will start at 7 p.m. Monday and is open to the public. Food will be served.

The Art Advisory Committee has selected Jim McCarton, architect, and Jerry Miller, graphic artist, to lecture on how art and architecture interact during the reception.

The art will be on exhibit in the Community Center for several weeks following the completion of the show.

Bingo!

A benefit Bingo Night will be held at the Oregon City Armory, Saturday, April 1, at 7:30 p.m., with all proceeds going to the Clackamas Community College Foundation.

There will be cash prizes for the winners and refreshments available for those attending the fund-raising event for the Foundation.

The Foundation provides annual scholarships for College students and funds the College's levy election campaigns.

Home improvement

A series of seven Home Improvement workshops will be offered by the College beginning Tuesday, April 4, at 7 p.m.

The series is designed so that persons will be able to take all or individual parts of the program which will cover gardening on April 4, decks on April 12; front yards on April 19; back yards April 26; landscaping May 3; painting May 10; and wall coverings on May 17.

Estimating costs, fencing, lighting, walkways, soil preparation and many other home improvement details will be discussed by experts during the series.

Information about the workshops is available from the College community education office, 656-2631, extension 320.

Modern writers

Hemingway, Bellow, Faulkner, Updike, Wolfe and Frost are a few of the writers whose contemporary literature will be studied this term in a College credit class to be offered at West Linn High School, Mondays, 7 to 10 p.m.

Oregon Literature will also be taught on Wednesdays, 7 to 10 p.m., at West Linn High School.

Information about the classes is available from the College counseling department or the English department.

Library amnesty

Overdue library material can be returned without a fine Monday, April 3, through Saturday, April 8, in celebration of National Library Week, at the Ledding Library located at 10660 S.E. 21st Avenue, Milwaukie.

"You can help us reduce time spent handling fine notices by returning all overdue books, magazines, records, pictures, and other materials during this amnesty week," Marilyn Thompson, library director, said.

Library hours are 10 a.m. to 8:55 p.m., Monday through Wednesday; 10 a.m. to 5:55 p.m., Thursday and Friday; and 10 a.m. to 5:25 p.m., Saturday.

Construction

The College will offer several classes this term for persons working in the building trades and "do-it-yourselfers".

"Building Trades Drawing" will be offered Monday and Wednesdays through June 7. The class begins at 7 P.M. in Barlow Hall, room 254. This class will also be offered Wednesday and Thursday nights at West Linn High School.

Other classes scheduled are: "Building Trades Print Reading", Tuesday nights, Barlow Hall, room 254; "Fire Sprinkler Design", Wednesdays, 7 p.m., Barlow Hall, room 253; and "Construction Estimating" Thursdays, 7 to 10 p.m., Barlow Hall, room 253.

Information about the classes is available from the counseling

Dance offered

The College is offering modern dance classes this spring quarter at the Oregon Martial Arts Center, 17012 S.E. McLoughlin Blvd.

Body conditioning will be achieved through stretching, body alignment and muscle toning. Taught by Jane Rickenbaugh, the 11-week course will cost $17.

The beginner's class will meet Mondays and Wednesdays, from 3 to 4:30 p.m., and the intermediate and advance class will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 12:30 to 2 p.m.

Information is available by calling 656-2631, ext. 266.

Bureaucracy

A course dealing with the handling of bureaucracy on the local, state and federal levels began last night in the McLoughlin Hall Theatre, at 7 p.m.

The course will feature members of the College's political science department and guest speakers and will be led by instructor Joe Uris.

More information may be obtained by contacting 656-2631, ext. 347 or 232.

Public meeting

Three public meetings in Milwaukie and Oregon City have been set by the College architects, Reddaway/ROMA, to discuss planning and development of the College campus.

The first meeting will be in Milwaukie City Hall, Wednesday, March 29, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The second meeting will be held on the College campus at the Community Center Building from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., March 30.

The final meeting will be April 3, from 7 to 9 p.m. in Oregon City Hall.

During the meetings, the architects will summarize construction planning to date, provide for future enrollments and city needs and answer questions by the public.

The program will include slide presentation.

Information about the meetings is available from the college planning office.

Hydraulics

Dave Miller, a hydraulic specialist for 20 years, will teach Basic Principles of Fluid Mechanics at the College spring term.

The Tuesday night class is designed for maintenance personnel and others who work with or around hydraulic equipment and will be offered to the first 18 persons to register.

Information about the class is available from the college counseling office.

Baby talk

"Living With Your Baby" is the title of two courses offered at the College this spring term.

The first course will be a formal discussion group designed to cover how babies grow, develop, toys and play, discipline, safety, and what newborn babies are like. The course will be held in Barlow Hall, room 252, on Tuesdays from 9 to 9 p.m.

The second course is "Time for Baby" and will be held on Tuesdays at the West Linn Presbyterian Church from 9 to 11 a.m.

Instructor Sue Aronson, a Pediatric Nurse Practitioner, encourages both parents and babies to attend each class.

Additional information is available by contacting 656-2631, ext. 286.

Wendell John

Singer Wendell John will perform at the College, Wednesday, April 5, in the Community Center Hall Fireside Lounge from 11:30 a.m.

John, who also plays the guitar, performs bluegrass to jazz. He has performed at many local nightspots and colleges.

The free coffee house performance is sponsored by Associated Student Government.
