

feedback

Improved productivity

To the Editor:

For the past six months I've been involved in the ASG. My first assignment was working with Mitch Newton (ASG Presidential Aide) on the Apathy Committee. At that time, I'm sorry to say, ASG as a group was lacking in communication and not very productive.

However, I received, (and I'm sure many other senators also have received) a great deal of support, assistance and knowledge from Mike McCarty.

In the areas that I'm particularly concerned with i.e. the high prices at the cafeteria, collective bargaining, the school budget, organizational and communications skills, student and community services Mike was more than helpful.

If we all take a good look at the student government today and compare it to the ASG of late October, November and December I'm sure we'll discover a tremendous amount has changed in the areas of productivity, and communications. These changes were definitely the result of Mike's extra time input, concern and organizational skills.

I've found that Mike McCarty sees his projects, duties as ASG president and commitments through with efficiency and a great amount of ease that enables him to communicate and educate other individuals that are concerned with the community and school.

These individuals had the energy and ability to contribute a great deal but were lacking in fundamental governmental knowledge and communication skills.

There have been innumerable instances where Mike has taken time to explain why certain things are the way they are.

Just yesterday afternoon, Mike and I were in the cafeteria having coffee and I made a comment about the high prices of the food. Mike immediately intervened with a five minute explanation of why the prices are high, and how the administration and the cafeteria have their hands tied.

These are the reasons why Mike is so effective and productive. He is in touch with things that pertain directly to the students, he is knowledgeable in areas where I'm sure time, precious time, would be lost if another person were to be elected because it would take so long to educate another person in these areas.

He is also concerned with the future of the college and the community--his seemingly tireless input is proof of that.

Phillip Boitnott
ASG senator

cont. from Page 6

The old man, Guy Henry Turner, was arrested for selling one-half a joint to an acquaintance. The grand jury has refused to prosecute even though the elderly man admits to using the weed to relieve his asthma. "To hell with their laws," said the 90-year-old farmer.

THE HIGH PRICE OF STEAK NOWADAYS

PBB is a poisonous fire retardant chemical. In 1973, PBB was accidentally mixed with animal feed in Michigan. Although the mistake led to the destruction of over 30,000 animals, scientists have found that some of the contaminated meat was unloaded at 15 cents a pound to hamburger joints and baby food companies.

PBB poisoning produces neurological abnormalities, memory loss, muscular weakness, headaches and sleep disorders.

One farmer kept misplacing his tools, including his tractor. Another man was forced to give up his job because he couldn't remember which turn off to take to get there. At least one scientist predicts that this disaster will rank with those at Japan's Minimata mercury poisonings or the Sevesco chemical accident in Italy as major ecological disasters of the 20th century.

Boycott Coors Beer

Would you want to take a lie detector test and be asked questions such as have you ever committed an undetected crime or smoked marijuana in order to get a job?

Well, if you wanted to work for the Adolf Coors Brewing Company you would have to through this routine and more.

Coors is repeatedly cited for discrimination in its hiring practices and claims the right to fire anyone for "offending the morals of the company," bad mouthing Coors beer, or failing to submit to search and seizure. Joseph Coors has also poured millions of dollars into the John Birch Society, and the "stop ERA" forces. His money--but you pay for it.

The problem in Oregon is small, since Coors is not sold here. Yet, the Coors mystique runs strong everywhere and many numbers of uncourt cases come back across Oregon borders. Turn down Coors beer. Your protest can be heard.

THE HEN HOUSE
BEAUTY SHOP

485 PORTLAND AVENUE
GLADSTONE, OREGON

97027      655-9277

Other viewpoints

Possibility of American holocaust discussed

Editor's note: This editorial is a reprint of one appearing in the April 26 issue of the Courier 4, Chemeketa Community College's student newspaper.

Last week's film on NBC-TV, "Holocaust," brings back memories of the world's largest massacre, the attempted annihilation of the Jewish people.

After viewing the four-part series, it makes one wonder if such an atrocious thing could occur in this country and what the affect would be upon a people who have learned to live the soft and easy life.

Concern has dominated the minds of many in the past few years as America and the world has seen a pronounced increase in Nazi activity.

By closing our minds to this possibility, we also close our minds to the legal and political aspects of our government which could eventually destroy the very freedom thousands of our people have died to protect.

In recalling some of the events which led up to the holocaust of World War II, we might take a closer look at Adolph Hitler's stand on gun control, for example.

One of the prime topics in politics today is gun control in America, a direct parallel to laws established in Nazi Germany prior to World War II.

Could our lackadaisical attitude towards voting when election time arrives influence our future for us?

How much power does the Federal Court have in passing laws without the sanction of the majority of our population?

Will a future president have the money and the ability to develop a dictatorship in this country for the good of an apathetic society?

How will the numerous militant groups in this country react to such an event?

We have the My Lai massacre to think about, and a wealthy Mr. Calley sitting in Florida living a life of ease, whereas Nazi officers guilty of the same crime were hanged after World War II.

Where are we as a nation of people with changing values and morals going?

In an era where atheism, the occult, keeping up with the Joneses, commercialism, lack of a national pride, sky-rocketing divorce rates, loss of the family, punk rock and other such valueless ideals are supported, it doesn't seem that an American holocaust would have much difficulty in becoming a reality.

the print

19600 S. Molalla Avenue, Oregon City, Oregon 97045
Offices: Trailer B -- Telephone: 656-2631, ext. 259 or 278

editor Happie Thacker * news editor Cyndi Bacon * arts editor Lisa Chitty * sports editor Ann Breyne * copy editor Scott Starnes * photo editor Brian Snook * staff writers Randy Frank, Jim McCaffrey, Mary Madeland, Shawn Parkhurst * photographers Sam Baer, Ted McKenna * assistant photo editor Lorraine Stratton * production manager Mary Cuddy * business manager Paul Byers * professional advisor Randy Clark * office personnel Crystal Tompkins, Tommi Davidson

The Print, a member of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association, aims to be a fair and impartial journalistic medium covering the campus community as thoroughly as possible. We encourage participation through letters, free lance articles and story ideas and suggestions. Deadlines are the Friday of the week prior to the Wednesday publication date.

Buy Better Books

Deke's Book Shop

615 7th St.
Oregon City

Hrs. 9-5
Closed Thursday

Phone 655-2060

"We wanted Bible that's why we came to Multnomah..."

You come too, if it's Bible you want

You choose from four courses of study. Diploma. Degree course. 1-yr. Grad. Two Master's programs. Each majors in Bible. Accredited AABC. See Catalog

Multnomah School of the Bible

8435 N.E. Glisan, Portland, Oregon, 97220

Clackamas Community College

