

Cindermen take few places but set records

The men's track team was not quite as successful as the women's team in the National meet held last week in Champaign, Ill.

Two personal records were set and two fourth place finishes were recorded by the men.

Kelly Britz and Randy Bolliger both placed fourth for the men's team. Britz ran a 1:51.2 while Bolliger put the shot 50-9½ for his place.

Dave Reed set a new school and personal record with a 47-2 triple jump in the qualifying flight. Reed managed to place fifth in the meet but could not repeat his record jump.

Mark Nugen, the college's decathlon representative scored 6,349 points to place tenth and set a new personal record.

The event was won by Mike Gardner of Ricks Community College with a new meet record high of 7,220 points.

Area college students studying various styles of karate got a chance to use their skills at Lewis and Clark College last Saturday. A Tae Kwon Do Tournament was held in the college's gym and a few students from Clackamas were among the participants. Showing the form that won him fourth place in men's lightweight full-contact white belt division, Brian Snook throws a spinning buck kick at opponent's head.

Fiskum new defensive coach

Former defensive coach for the College's football team, Paul Fiskum received an extension on his coaching career last week when he signed with Mt. Hood Community College as the defensive coordinator for the Saints.

"The whole thing started a couple of weeks ago when I went over to Mt. Hood and talked with Marv Hiebert (Mt. Hood's head football coach), about some of our players who were planning to transfer there," Fiskum said.

"He said at that time that his defensive coordinator was planning to retire and that I should keep the job in mind," he said.

"So he called back about a week ago and asked if I wanted the job. I said yes I did, and that's all there is to it."

"The good thing about this set-up is that my schedule will allow me to remain at Clackamas and run the Community Recreation program. I have also applied to run the Intramural program, because I see that as being right up my alley in Community recreation," Fiskum said.

Mt. Hood has a great team and a lot of good personnel. There are six or seven returning defensive players. Marty Pinz, a Clackamas standout will also be there.

"I do have some ideas of areas in the defensive that we need to work on and perhaps change," Fiskum said.

"Everyone seems to like him." Mt. Hood sophomore defensive players, Mike Cartwright said. "He has introduced new training techniques that are really helpful after a six-month layoff."

Kelly Britz took fourth place with a 1:15.2 800-meter time. Britz competed in the national championships in Champaign, Ill.
