Teams run at invitational

Both the men's and women's cross country teams were in Eugene over the weekend participating in the Gary Franklin Memorial Invitational. The men used the meet to gain much needed experience for their all-freshman squad. Jim Colgan was the top CCC runner, while Tony Lahti and Dave Boone turned in recordable performances.

Coach Buck Monroe commented on this season's team, their lack of experience and some injury problems noting, "Mark Sanford has not been here only been with us for about a week. Consequently we have not been able to have a complete team in any of our meets so far."

Monroe's hopefuls this year include Jim Colgan, Tony Lahti, David Boone and Neil Ousterhut. These Cougar runners have but a little time to "get their act together" as the state and regional tournaments, to be held at Bend, Nov. 3, are just around the corner.

For women, Nancy Reynolds remains the lone performer on the team but again running with the team for a week due to a sore knee, and Jim Hardy and Chris Merritt turned in an outstanding performance. She was the first woman on the community college level to cross the finish line.

First-year Coach Marilyn Lensenmeyer said, "We're pretty proud of Nancy. I felt Nancy ran very comfortably." The rookie coach is pleased with Reynolds' training even though she is only a freshman.

Reynolds will be competing in the Clackamas Cross Country Classic as will the men Saturday at McIver Park. Meet time is scheduled for noon.

Bowling team dropped

The 1979 version of the CCC bowling team will not even get a chance to roll a single ball this year as the team has been unable to draw enough participation, and has had to drop the program for this year.

Apparently the participation problem has been developing for some time now, as the team has been hurting for players for the past several years. This year, six men turned out for the squad but no women bowlers came out for the team, which left the school with no alternative but to disband the team.

One of the bowling team coordinators, Debbie Baker, has not totally given up on the situation, and hopes to refurbish the bowling team through the intramural program. Baker commented, "The best thing to do this year was to start an intramural bowling program for both men and women, and hopefully gain enough support to organize a team in a couple of years."

Baker also mentioned that, "we might have been going about this sort of backwards, as most other school start from an intramural program and then develop into a regular school team."

Baker will meet with bowling team coach Sev Harkson from Tri-City Bowl and intramural coordinator, Loren Swivel, on Friday to discuss adding bowling to the intramural program.

Over weekend Booters win pair

The Cougar's men's soccer team opened their 1979 league season in a rather impressive fashion when they gained a pair of lopsided victories over OISA opponents in games over the weekend.

On Saturday, it was the Oregon Institute of Technology who fell to the Cougs by a score of 6-1. Coach Rich Taylor praised his defense in the contest noting, "our defense played especially well. We allowed only four shots on goal all day." Taylor credited his fullbacks Mark Losson, Ken Froescher, Andy Didzen and Steve Davy, for their work as they allowed only minimal threats by the OIT front line.

Supplying the Cougar's offensive punch in Saturday's win over OIT were center midfielder, Cleve Nyberg, and center forward Ron Thomas. Nyberg was able to score three goals on the afternoon, giving CCC midfielder a hat-trick for his day's work. Not to be outdone by Nyberg's performance, Thomas also scored a hat-trick with two goals of his own and an assist on another.

Sunday, the Cougar booters played host to Southern Oregon State College and the results were basically the same, with CCC gaining a 4-1 victory.

Coach Rich Taylor called Southern Oregon "a very physical team who were especially good with their heads." Taylor awarded his team's success to the fact that, "We were able to beat them to the ball and take advantage of some defensive mistakes which gave us the victory."

Taylor again praised his defense for their work as they denied SOSOC the opportunity to score, continually turning them away without a goal.

trick with three goals of the day. Cleve Nyberg also added a goal for the Cougs while Ron Thomas assisted on two of the Cougar scores.

Coach Taylor has a very optimistic outlook on the season and tags Portland Community as the team to beat. "In the first two games, we have already scored more than in all league games last year," Taylor said. "We have all ready doubled our number of wins from a year ago."

The Cougars will be put to the test this week with two tough matches scheduled. On Thursday, the Cougs will host last year's OISA champs, Portland Community College, in a non-league contest at 4 p.m. and will then come back on Saturday for a league game against Oregon State, also on the Cougar field. Game time is 2 p.m.

V-ballers win

The women's volleyball team opened their 1979 campaign in impressive fashion Monday, blanking Warner Pacific 15-5, 15-8, 15-11, at Randall Gym.

The win marks the coaching debut of first-year Coach Loren Swivel who moved to Oregon during the summer from Maryland. "We played pretty good defense in places and showed signs of being a good defensive team," said Swivel. "But we did not get into as powerful an offense as I would have liked."

Swivel is optimistic in viewing her 1979 squad, but still demands that this is a "building year." Swivel expressed some concern over the physical size of her squad, but noted, "They are very enthusiastic and possess a good deal of individual talent."

The women will be back in action on Wednesday when they travel to Mt. Hood Community College for 3:30 p.m. match.

Intramural deadline

Anyone wishing to participate in either intramural flag-football or tennis has until 5 p.m. Friday to submit registration forms to Randall Hall, room 003.

Signup sheets are available in both Randall and the Community Center. Organizational meetings will be held next week, with the football meeting scheduled for noon Tuesday and tennis the following day at the same time.

If you have any questions concerning the intra-mural program, contact Loren Swivel at ext. 294 or in Randall 003
