

Photos by Duffy Coffman
Story by J. Dana Haynes

Opposite page: The Respite Center provides care for the kids and a rest for their parents.

Top: Deborah Williams runs the bi-weekly center, and was a guiding force behind its creation. "I don't know any other program in the U.S. that's a group respite center."

Middle Left: Moses is 13 years old, tracheotomized, and bright. He will never walk.

Middle Right: The center combines recreation and education for the children. CCC provides the Orchard Center, food, films and playthings.

Bottom: "Our one real need is VOLUNTEERS!" said Williams.

