Cougar offense scoring; Cougar soccer winning

By Tracy Sumner

The Clackamas Community College soccer team finally began doing what Coach Janos Szanto had said they would and the result was a two-win southern Oregon road-trip for the Cougars last weekend.

What the Cougars started doing was producing on both ends of the soccer field. The defense of the Cougars has been excellent all season, but until the last two league games, they had been nearly non-existent as a goal-scoring unit.

The team managed three goals in each of the two games, not unusually high scoring, but Clackamas continued playing their stifling defense, allowing just one goal for the weekend.

Brian Gorsek scored two goals and Rick Townsend added one counter to give Clackamas its first league win of the season, a come-from-behind 3-1 victory over Oregon Institute of Technology in Klamath Falls last Saturday.

OIT struck early for the 1-0 lead, but Gorsek tied the game and scored what proved to be the game-winner before the first half ended. Townsend's goal came in the second half to account for the final score.

The Cougar's second league win was a relatively easy 3-0 shut-out of Southern Oregon State College Sunday in Ashland. Townsend had two goals for the game, giving him three for the weekend.

Clackamas struck quickly for the game-winner. SOSC had possession to start the game, but the Cougars stole the ball and Townsend scored with less than 20 seconds gone in the first half.

"It's very bad for a team to be scored on like that," Szanto said. "After that, they fell apart."

Jamie Keough scored about 20 minutes later on a penalty kick to give this team a 2-0 lead. Townsend's third goal of the weekend gave his team a 3-0 lead and an opportunity for Szanto to play reserve players in the second half.

Szanto expressed confidence in his team's newfound scoring attack and believes that the team will continue to score and win games.

"We're finally scoring goals," he said. "I knew it was coming. Now we've got our confidence back. We're playing together. It seems everybody has the will to win."

Clackamas now holds a 2-1-1 league record and trails first place Portland Community College by one point in league standings. The two teams meet here at 3 o'clock this afternoon for a clash that will give the winner undisputed first place in the standings. Szanto expressed confidence in his team's ability to beat the first-place PCC.

"PCC dug themselves a hole in Ashland (Portland lost to SOSC there last Saturday), Wednesday, we're going to help bury them," Szanto said.

Cougar Tales--Clackamas lost a non-league game to Warner Pacific here last Wednesday by a 3-1 count. Szanto said that the Cougs had 25 shots-on-goal in the second half alone.

"We hit the crossbar, the goalposts . . . we just couldn't score," said Szanto. What Szanto calls a "revenge game" is scheduled with Warner Pacific later this season.

Volleyballers take fourth with erratic play

The Cougar women's volleyball team took fourth place last weekend at the Western Baptist Invitational Tournament in Salem. Coach Loren Swivel was none too disappointed, however; Clackamas Community was the only junior college participating.

The two-day tourney held last Friday and Saturday, was highlighted by feast or famine play by the Cougars. "We played very well in spots," Swivel said. "Then we'd lose our intensity and people would gain on us."

The Friday matches were played "very, very well, with good combination of offense and defense," Swivel said. The first match went to Clackamas with scores of 15-9 and 15-11 over Judson Baptist of The Dalles. Later that night, the Cougars swept past Concordia 15-8 and 15-2.

Saturday's competition was another matter. "We had mental lapses," Swivel explained. "We'd be ahead by five points, then let them get the lead."

The first match of the day was against Northwest Nazarene College of Nampa, Idaho. Clackamas dropped the first game 10-15, won the second 19-17, and lost the third 9-15.

The next heat went better for the women from the College, as they went up against the Oregon Institute of Technology (Ashland) and eased through the first game 15-10, lost the next 12-15 and returned to win the third 15-13.

Next came the first game of the single elimination bracket. Clackamas took on Western Baptist. After losing the first bout 8-15, the Cougars blitzed the next two 15-2, 15-3.

The next match was against Judson Baptist again. However, the fates were with Judson this time, as the Cougars dropped both games 13-15, and 12-15.

"It's not as bad as it sounds," Swivel feels. "Judson is packed with Juniors and Seniors, who've played together for three or four years." The Cougar team has only two Sophomores and 10 Freshman. "Our people had to talk to each other and concentrate to take the place of Judson's experience," she said.

The last match of the day for the Cougars was against Northwest Nazarene. By that time, fatigue had joined forces with inexperience to hand the Clackamas women losses of 6-14, 5-15, and 2-15.

"It was terrible. We were up 8-0, and the next thing I knew they came back and won," Swivel said. "I'm not sure what happened. It may have been the pressure, but we've played well under pressure before."
