Vol. XVI, No. 5

Voters OK Atiyeh, Smith, nix Measure 3

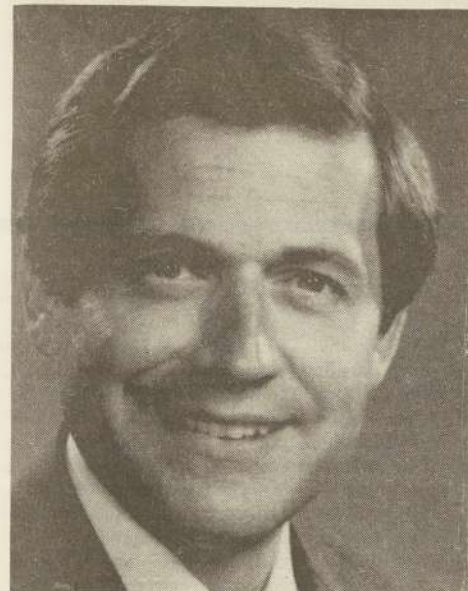

By Doug Vaughan
Of The Print

Oregonians chose to stay the course yesterday as they re-elected Victor Atiyeh for governor and Denny Smith for Congress.

The Governor will serve his second term as he beat out Libertarian Paul J. Cleveland and Democrat Ted Kulonowski.

Prior governmental experience for Atiyeh included his membership in Oregon Legislature for 20 years. From 1959 to 1965 he served in Oregon's House of Representatives. Thereafter he was a member of the State Senate for 13 years. During those 20 years he was the House Republican Floor Leader, Senate Republican Floor Leader and Senate Republican Leader.

During the campaign Atiyeh pledged no radical schemes, no wild plans and no irresponsible actions to Oregonians. In his past term as governor, Atiyeh controlled state spending, reformed Oregon's welfare system and devised a business approach for economic development and jobs. He is also setting up an anti-crime program that will increase the certainty of criminals being caught, convicted and punished.

Also holding his ground was Republican candidate for Congress Denny Smith. Smith was re-elected to serve his second term in Congress by edging out Democratic opposition Ruth McFarland. Prior to his first term in Congress, he was the chairman of Eagle Press Newspapers, a string of community newspapers in the Northwest. He was also a co-pilot and engineer for Pan American World Airways.

Smith served his first term in Oregon's first district. He is now the representative for the newly formed fifth district.

Smith kept his pledge to stay in touch with Oregonians by holding nearly 60 town meetings. His present goal is to work for a balanced budget and preserve the integrity of Social Security.

Tax limitation bill beaten

By Kristi Blackman
Of The Print

The Tennis match between 'yes' and 'no' on Ballot Measure 3 ended yesterday at the polls when the public voted against the passage of that bill with a very close victory margin.

Oregon's education system slid past the risk of losing special programs that would have been axed by budget cuts had this bill passed.

Additional budget reductions would have been a major blow to Clackamas Community College who at the present state has been forced to continue operating on a low budget and also serve the community at the same standards.

"We have problems with property tax relief. We have to do something about it . . ."

Governor Atiyeh

Clackamas Community College is grateful to the many voters who, by voting no recognized the potential harm passage of Ballot Measure No. 3 would have created on the delivery of important public services to the community. The college appreciates the trust the voters have placed in its ability to serve the community.

Clackamas is a valuable resource in the district. To many it represents a chance for personal growth and success. The college is committed to preserving that atmosphere of hope by providing programs in the most cost efficient manner available.

The College will not have to eliminate programs that are outside of the essentials which would endanger the survival of the college.
