

Speech travel hinges on funds

Frank Harlow, coach of the Clackamas Community College speech team, has requested money to send at least five players to a Nationals tournament.

The request was made at last week's Associated Students Government meeting (Please see article, page four). The total amount needed is $2,900. However, Harlow is only requesting $1,000 from the ASG.

"I still have to talk to President (John) Hakanson about going to the school board," Harlow said. "Last year, I went to the school board, the ASG, and I pitched in my own travel funds . . . I must have hit every source I knew."

The ASG moved the issue to their Ways and Means Committee for consideration. The next Board of Education meeting is Wednesday, Feb. 9.

The speakers who qualified for Nationals are Scott Van Cleave, Teresa Svatos, Linda Perkins, Sue Dumolt and Bob Bales.

To qualify for the national competition, one must "trophy," or place in the top two or three at a tournament of 17 or more schools. Dumolt and Perkins both trophied at a 31-school tourney at Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma.

Four other College speakers may yet qualify, Harlow said. They are Ward Moore, Julie Van Orman, Mel Wright and Lisa Baller.

Nationals will be held in San Antonio, Texas, this year, and will be April 6-12.

"I'm caught right in the middle of a political action with the deans," Harlow said. "They have made a commitment for national travel, but whether or not they will fund us remains to be seen."

Last year, the Board of Presidents for the community colleges of Oregon voted to curtail all national travel for sports events. President Hakanson, and the College's Board of Education, disagreed with the Council and withdrew from the athletic league.

"It would be very disappointing for these people to qualify for nationals and then not be able to go," Harlow said.

"The players deserve it. We could be very competitive," he added. "We would definitely come home with 'hardware (trophies),' if they do what's expected of them."

Harlow said 74 teams from across the nation will compete in San Antonio. "Out of 74 schools, we could be in the top ten," he said.

Jazz ensembles to perform at Harry's

Thursday night the Clackamas Community College music department will take their act on the road.

The rhythm section and Vocal Jazz Ensemble (VJE) will perform at Harry's Mustache Restaurant, 19195 South Molalla Avenue, located less than a mile from the campus. The gig will run from 8:30 p.m. - 12:30 a.m. with no cover charge.

"This was a joint project between Harry's and myself," Choral Director Lonnie Cline said. The Rhythm Section and VJE are the second act from the College to hit Harry's this year. The Theater Projects class performed a one-act show there two weeks ago for the Sunday Open-Mike Night.

"These shows give our students an outlet to do some outside work," Cline said. "It's good for them."

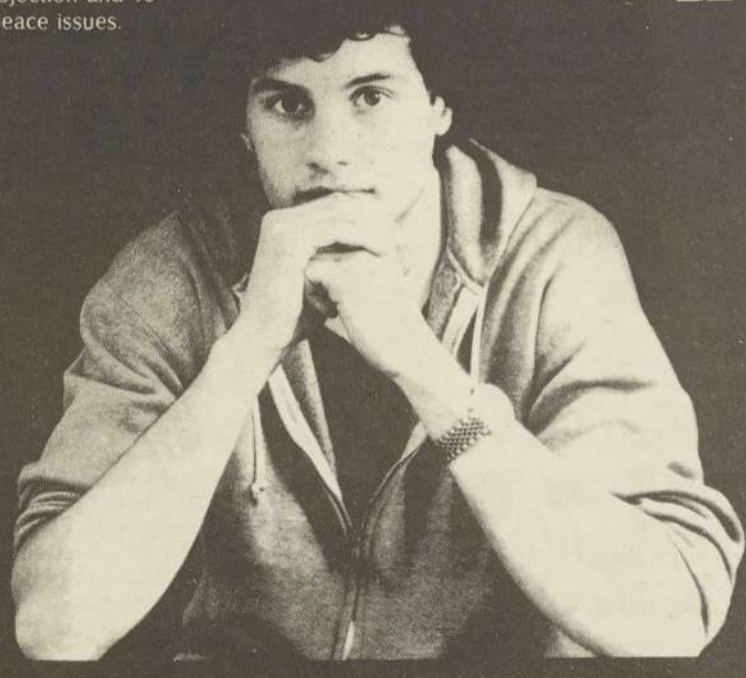

Donations will be accepted, and money raised will go toward travel expenses for the music department. Future trips include a festival at the University of California, Berkeley, to which the VJE and the Instrumental Jazz Ensemble (IJE) have been invited, a competition in Pasco, Washington for the IJE, and a trip to Victoria, British Columbia for the Chorale and Brass Band.

LISTEN TO THIS:

There IS an alternative to compulsory military service. If you have moral, ethical, or religious objections to participation in any war or military training, you can be a conscientious objector. One can be a CO regardless of one's religion: an agnostic or atheist can make a CO claim based on deeply held, personal beliefs. The Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors is an organization engaged in a nation-wide effort to inform people about Conscientious objection and related peace issues.

We are also registering conscientious objectors with our CO card. This card simply states: "Because of my beliefs about war, I am opposed to participation in the military." Should the draft be reinstated, and this is becoming increasingly likely, a CO card could provide important documentation of your status as an objector. For more information, write to:
