Nancy Mikleton has her work cut out. With a relatively young and inexperienced women's tennis team it might be a long season for the first-year coach.

On the recent Washington road trip Mikleton's crew went 0-for-2, taking on Bellevue and Green River Community Colleges. Match scores were 4-5 and 0-9.

Number one team member Mary Imper lost in straight sets 4-6 and 3-6 at Bellevue. "Mary is just that close to being there," Mikleton said.

Freshman Carla Ziegenbein collected a singles victory, 6-2, 0-6 and 7-5. Darla Reed and Shelly Horne were each credited with victories via default.

Imper and Ziegenbein posted an impressive doubles win at Bellevue by a score of 6-0, 6-2.

Mikleton calls Sheryl Dischner, "probably my most consistent player right now." Although she dropped both matches, she was "in both of them," Mikleton said. Dischner lost heartbreakers, 4-6, 6-7, and 6-3, 3-6 and 5-7.

Clackamas' record dropped to 1-7. Their next match is scheduled for today at 2:00 against Clark College.

Gogl leads Cougars

The Clackamas Community College men's Cross Country team, which placed second in the nation in 1982, finished first in the classroom and was awarded as the nation's top Junior College cross country team academically.

Freshman Brian Abshire, who placed seventh in the nation in 1982, led the team in GPA with a 3.85 average. Tony Macey, Steve Gogl and Kevin MacDermott, who placed sixth, eighth and 142nd respectively, were awarded for the second straight year.

Ken Valasquez (30th in the national meet), John Hansen (33rd), Jeff Franklin (65th), were all honored for the first time.

"Our goal for the year was to win the national title," Coach Kelly Sullivan said. "We were runner-up in the field, but academically, we won it. This proves to me that we're not only strong as an athletic group, but we're getting the kind of student athletes the school wants," Sullivan said.

Women score 18 Inland Empire hosts meet

There weren't any world records set.

Spokane Community College did their best to make Bellevue and Clackamas feel right at home. Friday night the athletes were welcomed to town with a lasagna dinner, and on the menu for Saturday was rain!

The Clackamas women spent a good part of the afternoon trying to stay afloat, while Bellevue and Spokane splashed it out by themselves. Bellevue ended the day on top with 79 points, followed by Spokane's 59, and Clackamas' 18.

The meet, billed as the "First Annual Tartan Cup," a meet which Spokane coaches hope becomes "one of the best in the nation," didn't see a flood of outstanding performances from the lone Oregon representative.

The one strength that the Clackamas women do have, at the moment, is their supremacy in the javelin. Throwing without school record holder Sheri Hilton, the Cougars placed second through fifth. Sue Frank, Debbie Koffel, and Terri Kelly all qualified for Nationals with throws of 147, 142, and 134, respectively. Karen Barr was fifth with a respectable toss of 125 feet.

One athlete who has been able to survive the Wynia "Iron Women" training regimen is Suzi Thompson. The Silverton grad took fourth in the 800 meters with a time of 2:23.67. "She did exceptional in the 800, running it for only the second time in her life, and considering she hasn't really trained for it," Wynia commented.

The next meet for the Cougar women is Saturday, April 16 at the University of Portland. Western Oregon, Portland State, and Puget Sound are also tentatively scheduled to compete.

Linksters impress Coach

With the 1983 golf season in full swing, Coach Jim Hudson looks to the Cougar linksters for a very successful season.

This year's roster after initial qualifying rounds has Dave Reichert and Todd Frederichs in a close battle for first man, followed by Dave Stephens, Tom Thompson, Andy Goodard, and Brad Gustafson.

Coach Hudson commented on the 1983 squad: "The team looks really good this year. The highest 72 hole qualifying average was 75 and everyone on the team turned in excellent scores."

The first part of this season has gone quite well for the Cougars as they won two out of their first three matches and established themselves as the team to beat. The golf team won their first match at home, beating Lower Columbia College with Dave Stephens earning medalist honors.

In their second match the Cougars beat Grays Harbor and Lower Columbia College at Longview with Brad Gustafson as the medalist.

It was in the Cougars' third and most recent match that they were dealt their first loss. In Tacoma, against Tacoma Community College and Grays Harbor, Hudson and company took an early lead in the first round, only to be shocked and consequently beaten by Tacoma's astounding second round play.

The Cougars' fourth match was the Mt. Hood Community College Invitational scheduled for April 6. However, they did not play because the coaches from the other teams wouldn't let them, Hudson explained. "The other community colleges competing in the tournament wouldn't let us play because the College's teams are in the National Junior College Athletics Association and compete with the big four-year schools," Hudson said.
