ASG elections

Controversy haunts voting

By J. Dana Haynes Of The Print

Controversy has arisen over last week's Associated Student Government elections Presidential candidate Don Porter was accused of elections violations by members of the

Paul Nastari

Despite the controversy the ASG unanimously voted to accept the election results.

Porter did not win the presidential race. The new ASG president for 1983-84 will be John Sagoe (Please see article, front page).

The alleged election violations were discussed at last week's ASG meeting. According to several members of student government, Porter and his running mate, vice presidential candidate Tim Sytsma, were in the Community Center Mall during the three days of voting and actively en-couraged people to vote for

"There is no doubt that Don (Porter) was up there campaigning every day," Paul Nastari, this year's ASG president said. The elections were held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Nastari explained that can-didates cannot be in or around the voting area while the voting booths are open. Also, the can-didates' election posters and pamphlets must not be in the area during that time

Nastari said Porter was warned about campaigning in the Community Center. President-elect Sagoe agreed. "We were all made aware that it was not right to campaign (in the Community Center)," Sagoe

No action was taken during the elections, due to an oversight in the ASG constitution, Nastari said. The current constitution does not deal with the area of illegal campaigning, nor the proper procedures the ASG should take in the event of election violations.

Porter also mentioned an oversight, "The constitution is vague," he said. "It says there will be no campaigning near

'the polls,' and that doesn't say

The student government voted to accept the election decisions, despite the con-troversy. However, Nastari said the outcome of the elections had something to do with that vote. "(Porter) didn't win. If he had won, that would be a different story," Nastari said. This year's president also said there was a problem with campaign fliers near the voting area. "It is the candidates' responsibility to see those fliers don't get there," he said.

Porter denies having anything to do with his literature being found near the ASG office, the site of the voting. "Members of the opposition put my brochures by the poles, and I heard someone who supported me put (Sagoe's) brochures by poles. But you always get that kind of pettiness in an election," Porter said.

Last week, Porter express-ed concern over the fairness of the elections. Two members of the current ASG executive cabinet were members of the committee to elect Sagoe. They were President Nastari and Assistant to the President Steve Vohs, as well as Brian Gardner, the chairperson of CCOSAC (Community Colleges of Oregon Student Associations and Commissional allaborate arguments) sions), a lobbying organization consisting of the 13 Oregon colleges

Tim Sytsma, Porter's run-ning mate, said he felt Gardner was actively campaigning in the Community Center on behalf of Sagoe.

Vohs defended his actions on the Sagoe committee, as well as the entire elections. "Despite rumors and allega-tions that the elections were rigged, I think it went well," Vohs

However, in referring to the actions of Porter, Vohs said, "I think (Porter) was flirting with danger and pushing (the ASG) to see how far he could go

Steelhead Rod

Athletic Shoes

Steelhead Reel

Skis Hot Waxed

Bus serves students en route to Molalla

There's a new shuttle service operated by the Clackamas County TRAM called the Molalla Shuttle. The TRAM is a transportation system designed for colderly and bandings and called the state of the colderly and bandings are serviced by the Clackamas Country TRAM called the Molalla Shuttle. elderly and handicapped citizens

The Molalla Shuttle, which has been in effect since Jan. 3, 1983, was especially designed to provide the elderly and handicapped with a better bus service between Molalla and Oregon City. The shuttle is easily accessible to the general public as well. The shuttle makes five runs daily between 8:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. and riders can transfer to the regular Tri-Met at these transfer points: Second and Tumwater, the Oregon City Senior Center, Willamette Falls Hospital, Clackamas Community College and the Molalla Library.

The shuttle service is divided into two zones, Oregon City and Molalla, with Leland Road as the boundary line. For more information on the Molalla Shuttle Service call 655-8726 or buy a Transportation Guide & Map, which is available at most branches of Far West Federal Savings and the Tri-Met Customer Assistance Office in downtown

Follow-through planned for Take Charge project

Clackamas Community College will sponsor continuing "Take Charge" activities like the April 16 job preparedness and self-help program which attracted 550 registered participants and some 200 community and staff volunteers.

A series of free job search and career assessment oppor-tunities will begin May 4 with a $10.00

$1.00

10% OFF

$18.00

CCC STUDENTS These specials are for you on-ly. Please show copy of this ad and your student body card for these prices.

"Coping with Unemployment" workshop from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Community Center, room An all-day seminar featur-117. An all-day seminar featuring "Coping with Unemployment," "Career and Skill Assessment," "Who Will Hire Me?" and "How Do I Get Hired?" also will be held May 18 at Holly Farm Mall, Oak Grove, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In addition, the College will sponsor continuing "Living on Less" and self-employment programs in an effort to aid county residents in need of budget-stretching tips.

"Bootstrap Business"
---how to start a business at home---is one of the offerings on campus Saturdays beginning April 30 and continuing through June 4 from 9 a.m. to noon in Randall Gym. "Getting By," a Saturday class featuring ways to make the best of the reduced income will be offered from April 30 to May 14, 1 to 3 p.m. And, "Make It From Scratch," a class showing the how-to of making glue, soap, cleansers and lotions at home will be Saturdays from 1 to 3 p.m. May 21 to June 4.

For registration information, call 657-8400, ext. 208, 213 or 445.

Mens - Ladies Ski Parkas 50% OFF LARRYS & SKI HAUS OREGON CITY SHOPPING CENTER OPEN 9-9 DAILY

8½ ft. GARCIA $24.95 Value

$5.00 Value

All in stock

While You Wait

Shakespeare, Spin $31.95 Value

Clackamas Community College

1 2 3 4 5 5 6 7 8 9 10 11.(A) 1 30.12 55.43 48.57 44.28 55.56 70.00 0.33.13 59.90 52.24 97.06 120.22 2 30.12 48.51 4.34 -13.0 942 53.34 34.26 11.34 48.55 7.04 0.867 2 12.24 18.11 4.34 -13.0 942 53.34 34.26 11.34 48.55 7.04 0.867 2 15.07 18.77 22.39 22.28 22.44 0.35 58.60 46.07 18.51 1.13 0.23