College Wa-jo-thon raises $1,000 plus

By Duane Hiersche Of The Print

While most people were basking in the summer sun last Saturday, the Senior Job Center sponsored their second annual Wa-jo-thon with 17 walkers

The five-mile event brought participants ranging from six to 78 years together with over 1,000 dollars being raised for the job center.

Prizes were given out, in-cluding McDonald's Chicken McNuggets, baskets of food,

Dr. John Hakanson

ski lift tickets and a ride over Mount St. Helens

Brett Carver finished the event with the time of 1:10. "His strategy was to run the whole thing, I told him no, but he tried," fellow participant Tom Bartel commented. Bartel met Carver through the Big Brother program.

College President John Hakanson also participated in the event, "It's a good way to get a little exercise," Dr. a little exercise," Hakanson said.

The winner of the helicopter ride and honorary walker, Almo Skiple, com-mented at the end of the two hour walk, "I could have walked five more miles, but I wouldn't like to."

Results of the event were as follows: youngest walker, Andrea LaDouceur, oldest walker, Violet LaMont. Largest single pledge, Jean Sulliven, most pledges, Mary Zink, second-most pledges Roberta Cooper and the second largest amount of money went to Gene Richardson, who receiv-ed a free ski lift ticket from Timberline Lodge.

CHECK POST NUMBER five. Lucille Skiple, 78, a part of the five-mile trek for Bowles marks off Honorary Walker Almo the Senior Job Center's Wa-jo-thon. Photos by Duane Hiersche

College Foundation provides 18 scholarships School

Eighteen local students, including three from Clackamas Community Colfrom lege, received scholarship awards from the College Foundation at its seventh annual awards banquet May 12. David Allen of Sherwood

High School, and Marilyn Kosel of Clackamas High School received the Albert E. Jones Scholarship for second year fire sciences students. The award is one year of tuition paid at the College. Both are currently students here. Teri Schaffer, Canby High School, received the Early Ford V8 Club Columbia River Regional Group Scholarship ($500) for second year automotive students at the College

Milwaukie High School student Hung Tran won the Home Builders Association of Metropolitan Portland Auxiliary Scholarship for students entering a construction-related field such as drafting or engineering. Brett Davis, Oregon City High School, and Darren Tuor, West Linn High School, won the Don Issacson Scholarship for the top two students in an annual automotive skills contest. The pair received one terms' tuition each.

Area high school students receiving one year tuition scholarships include: Teresa J Madeira, Canby High School; Kimberly R. Anderson, Clackamas High School; Kelly J. Kirgbarm, Colton High School; Angela L. Bair, Estacada High School; Patrick E. Preble, Gladstone High School; Stacie Kolln, LaSalle High School; Annamarie Adams, Milwaukie High School; Kenneth Ledbetter, Jr., Molalla High School; Kelli A. Gates, North Clackamas Christian High School; Tamara J. Koedoot, Oregon City High School; Michael A. Jarmer, Rex Putnam High School; Jim Zivney, West Linn High proximately $600,000 would go toward Pell Grants if the amendment is passed by both houses. "That money is directed specifically for low in-come students," Murdock said.

Before the amendment was presented, many people anticipated a decrease in educational funds, Murdock said. "The Scholarship Committee would have had to go before the legislation for money," she said. If the amendment passes, "we would be looking at a pretty good year in financial aid," she added.

OCCA is a statewide lobbying organization, represen-ting all 13 Oregon community

Etta Fielek, a representative from Senator Packwood's office, said the original amendment called for an increase of 1.5 billion. It was later changed to 1 billion.

houses.

colleges.

The

Clackamas Community College Foundation was established by a group of interested citizens in 1967 to provide a scholarship program for district high school students.

The role of the Foundation has grown steadily over the years as the College has come to depend more and more on private financial support to maintain the quality and variety of its programs

Petition circulated here

A petition calling for an end to war and the stockpiling of weaponry obtained approximately 43 signatures Tuesday, May 24, Karen Lever, coordinator for Women's Special Programs reported.

The petition, sponsored by a group of women students and staff members, was mailed to Clackamas Community College by Richard Koss. Koss is chairperson of the petition drive and retired from his job to put all of his time into the cause, supporter Pam Williams said.

Williams said the petition will be kept another week, so it can be taken around by sup-porters in the hopes of gaining more signatures from various organizations. Eventually the petition will be mailed to Koss in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Williams said she was disappointed with the number of signatures the number of signatures received Tuesday for the petition, but she expects it will become more well-known soon. "You're just beginning to see and hear about it," she CCC STUDENTS These specials are for you on- ly. Please show copy of this ad and your student body card for these prices.

Jog Suit	JASON EMPIRE $29.95 Value	$14.99
Backpack Rod	ZEBCO $16.95 Value	$5.00
Athletic Shoes	All In Stock	10% OFF
Steelhead Reel	SHAKESPEARE Spin $31.95 Value	$18.00
Ski Parkas	Mens-Ladies In Bsmt. Your Choice	50% OFF
LARRYS SPORT CENTER ORE GON CETTY SHOPPING CLINTIR ORE GON CETTY SHOPPING CLINTIR

Billion dollar increase seen for education in federal plan

Oregon Senators Mark O. Hatfield and Bob Packwood both voted for the Stafford Hollings budget amendment last week, which would increase general education funds by one billion dollars.

Later this week, the Senate and Congress will meet to discuss the subject.

The educational funding amendment is seen as impor-tant by both of Oregon's senators, as well as the Oregon Community College Associa-tion. "It is great," OCCA Staff Associate Debbi Murdock said of the amendment. "There is some need for increase in funding for education.

According to OCCA, ap-

You can get college credit and some great experience. All you have to do is write stories for The Print. Call 657-8400, ext. 309.

Page 5