A silent auction will be conducted in the Community Center from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on May 31. The auction is coordinated by Friends of Clackamas Community College, a non-profit organization that serves as a support group for the College. Proceeds from the group's fundraisers go toward functions such as helping during elections, Kim Faddis, secretary to dean of student services, said.

Winning bidders will be announced that evening at the beginning of the dinner theater scheduled for 7 p.m. in the Community Center. After the dinner there will be a performance in McLoughlin Theater of the original play by former student Joette Rose titled "Nuptials." Tickets for the evening are $15 but admission to the auction is free.

Included in almost 100 auction items are Trail Blazer tickets, a beach house weekend for four, chauffeured evening out in a Bentley, an afternoon sailing adventure, hot tub and massage, mountain hideaway weekend, front-end alignment and gourmet dinner for four in which one of the College's students will prepare a four-course meal in your home. For those collectors will be a commemorative bottle of Mohammed Ali Grenadine.

A complete list of items will be available before the auction. A majority of the items have been donated by staff members, Faddis said, along with support from off-campus businesses.

Music from the Big Band era will be featured Thursday, May 30, at Clackamas Community College's Annual Big Band Ball.

The College's award-winning Jazz Ensemble will perform in concert from 9 p.m. to midnight in the Community Center. Tickets are $5 for general admission and $4 for senior citizens with reservations. The band will play hits of Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey, Harry James, Artie Shaw and Glenn Miller.

For more information, call the Music Department at ext. 434.

The Jazz Ensemble won a first place award April 13 at the Fullerton Jazz Festival in California.

The 16-piece student band earned top honors in the two-year college division. More than 170 jr. high, high school and college jazz groups competed in the 13th annual event in Southern California.

Clackamas Community College's Theater Department's spring production of "Nuptials" will open May 30 at 8 p.m. in McLoughlin Theater. The play is an original script by former Clackamas student, Joette Rose.

The two-act play features community members and students in preparation for a wedding ceremony. Things don't go as planned, which brings out the best and worst of the characters.

Performances will be May 30-31, June 1 and June 7-8. Curtain time is 8 p.m. except for the June 9 production which begins at 2:30. Tickets are $3 for general admission, $2 for students and free for seniors with reservations.

The May 31 performance is a reserved seating dinner-theater benefit for the friends of Clackamas Community College. Advance tickets for the special performance and dinner are $15 and may be reserved by calling the College, ext. 405.

Audience members on opening night are invited to attend an opening-night party at Papandrea's Pizzeria after the show. For more information, call the Theater Department at ext. 356.

Tim Matteson and Tom Paterson prepare work for the student art show. Displays are located in the upstairs lobby of the Art Center and the Pauling Gallery through June 4.
