The Clackamas Community College men's basketball team will carry a 17-5 record into Randall Hall tonight when they play host to Mt. Hood Community College at 8p.m.

The team is coming off two big wins in the last week. Saturday they defeated Chemeketa Community College their first loss in league 65-57. Terry Newton scored 22 points and Pete Newlin added 15 to help Clackmas post the win over the Chiefs, who were number one in the Northwest last week.

Wednesday they crushed Portland Community College by a 92-79 margin.

"We keep improving and getting better," said head coach Royce Kiser, whose Cougars were ranked eighth in the Oregon-Washington Jaycees.

Clackamas hosted Linn-Benton Community College Saturday, Jan. 17 and came out winning impressively 91-68. "We played a real good ball game," said Kiser.

The Clackamas scoring attack was lead by wing Todd Harris, who poured in 24 points off the bench. Pete Newlin, the Cougars' leading scorer, added 21.

Continuing the scoring was Jeff Stein with 11, Eric Christen 9, Russel Livingston 8, Terry Newton 6, Steve Whitely 4, Tim Field 3, Darren Parra and Rick Flemmer 2, and Clark Nichols 1.

In addition to the scoring, Christen had 13 rebounds and Livingston had 8, and Stein dished out 10 assists.

On Jan. 16, the Cougars fought it out with Lane Community College in a tight contest which turned out in a 84-83 overtime loss.

The Cougars had four players in double figures in that game. Livingston scored 20, Newton 16, Newlin 15, and Christen with 12. Also on the board were Harris with 9, Stein adding 7, and Whitely who scored 4. Livingston pulled down 10 rebounds, and Stein had 6 assists.

Women's basketball

Tonight the Clackamas Community College's women's basketball team hosts Mt. Hood Community College in Randall Hall at 6p.m.

Saturday the team was defeated by Chemeketa by a score of 60-51. Three players scored in double figures. Karla Tiano had 15, Niki Beiser 14, and Anna Schlegelmilch had 11.

The Women's Basketball team here at the college has had its ups and downs this season. With their trip to Hawaii behind them, they are currently concentrating on getting into the playoffs.

So far, the season record for the team is 3-15 and 1-5 in league play.

Anna Schlegelmilch, according to coach Phil Garver, has proven to be one of the team's most consistent players. Also progressing are: Teammates Niki Beiser, Bobbi Crenshaw, and Karla Tiano. In a game at home against Umpqua Community College on January 9, Crenshaw racked up 30 points.

The Lady Cougars consist of all freshmen this year except for one sophomore, Teri Boling. Their defense play has been exceptional, it's their offensive play that seems to lose them games. They've been shooting around 30%.

"We've got a very young and inexperienced team," coach Garver states. "With a lot of talent though," he adds.

Support for the basketball team has been very good. Taylor has only two home games this year, and they are always exciting to watch.

Taylor wins first in Wrestling Classic

William "Junior" Taylor won first place at the Oregon wrestling classic at Portland State University last weekend.

Taylor also won in the Doc Peterson Open Wrestling Tournament in Chico, California the weekend of January 10.

WILLIAM "JUNIOR" TAYLOR - Hopes for career in child counseling.

Clackamas Community College was the only junior college with a full team. According to coach Norm Berney, all other participants were Universities and four year colleges. There were 32 wrestlers in Taylor's weight class (150) at the Doc Peterson tournaments.

Taylor expressed that winning this tournament made him very proud "...because I had not wrestled in a year, and I beat two tough guys." Taylor said that one of the tough guys he defeated was the Canadian Olympian Dave McKay, who placed sixth.

Taylor started wrestling when he was ten. Taylor said Roy Pittman got him and his brother Andre started. "My father was in the barbershop to get his haircut. Roy asked if my father had any boys, and my dad said yes, he had two, Junior and Andre." Pittman told Taylor's father to bring his sons up the Pennington Park at Portland Blvd, and both started wrestling there. Taylor wrestled there for four years, said Taylor.

Taylor wrestles now for USA Oregon Athletic Club. His coach is Marc Sprague. Taylor claimed it costs $500 for him to travel to wrestle there.

Taylor commended his parents: "My mom and dad are very supportive." He said he has been at every match he has wrestled.

Taylor's future goal in wrestling is to participate in the 1988 Olympic Games. Forecauld confidently, Taylor should make the 1988 Olympic team. He also forecauld however, that after 1988 he would quit wrestling: "I'm retiring '88."

Taylor's plans for school are to get an associate's degree from Clackamas Community College, then go to a four year college and graduate with a Bachelor's degree in child counseling. He said he would like to "...help young kids who aren't as fortunate to have family support as myself." He is succeeding in an area in the life of their choice.

Taylor talked of his hobby, "I love fishing and water skiing." He also likes to dance and spend time with his family because he has to travel a lot. He pointed out, "I like to meet people, but I'm shy."

Taylor answered the question about what he'll be doing in years from now with: "Probably will be married, with a boy and a little girl."
