

News

News Briefs

Positive Image seminar topic

Beth Josi known for her Positive Image Building Seminars and Country Hoedowns, will come to Clackamas Community College May 20 and 27 from 7:30-8:30 p.m.

The first session will be to learn to say, "I can!" The second session will "Turn your dreams into...reality!"

Josi has shared her seminars with women's groups throughout the northwest. She also has written a book entitled; "Give yourself a second chance."

The cost of the seminars will be $15 per person. To register call Beth Josi at 655-0672.

Nursing reunion to be held

The 20th year celebration nursing reunion will be held in the Fireside Lounge, Community Center, CCC, Saturday, May 16.

All former nursing students (both LPN and RN) are invited.

The agenda is tours from 4-6 p.m., Social Hour from 5-6 p.m., Dinner 6-7 p.m., a program "A look at the past 20 years" following dinner.

The cost will be $8.50;

Wine of course

Appreciation for fine wines and ability to recognize qualities of Oregon's Natural Wildlife in Northwest Scenic Wine Country is the subject of a short course offered by the John Inskeep Environmental Learning Center on Saturday May 23 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Cost of the all day tour is $25 for non-members and $22 for ELC Members.

Go cruisin'

Sunday, June 7, 1987 the John Inskeep Environmental Learning Center is offering Willamette "River of Life" cruises with natural history, wildlife, and pioneer history overviews on a specially outfitted shallow water jet tour boat from Willamette Falls to Lake Oswego. The tours will depart at 1 and 3 p.m. Sunday from the grounds of the riverside mansion of McLean House and Park in West Linn.

Cost of the cruise is $22 for ELC members and $25 for others. For further information and registration please call 657-8400 x351 Tuesday through Friday.

Answers from p.6

- | | |
|------------|-----------|
| #1 Crab | #7 Urn |
| #2 Tea Bag | #8 None |
| #3 Itch | #9 Pork |
| #4 Sweat | #10 Bank |
| #5 Dock | #11 Skate |
| #6 Blush | #12 Ton |

Editor positions filled

Dean Grey steps down as Print Editor while Heleen Veenstra retires as News Editor and prepares to take Dean's place.

by Dean Grey
Editor

The new Editor-in-chief of The Print, Heleen Veenstra, was officially selected May 7.

The selection committee was made up of five people: Linda Vogt, advisor of The Print; Paul Kylo, Student Programs Specialist; Emily Orlando, English Instructor; Dean Grey, current Editor-in-Chief and Bret Hodgert, current Design Editor.

The two applicants for the position, Veenstra and Christopher Curran, were interviewed by the committee. Following the interview was some discussion and a selection was made.

Heleen Veenstra, 19, a Holland native who has been in the United States for two years, received a phone call at home and was informed that she would take over as the Editor-in-Chief next year.

"I was really excited. I hoped to get the job and when Linda called I got nervous because I didn't know if I would be it or not. When she told me that I was the Editor I was very elated," said Veenstra.

Veenstra came to America in July of 85 and settled in Wilsonville, close to where her father works. She finished her senior year at Canby High where she was active in The Paw Prints, their school newspaper. From there she came to Clackamas Community College where she became involved in The Print as a staff writer. From there she moved up spring term to News Editor and then the next year's Editor-in-Chief.

"I thought that Chris and I both had a fifty-fifty chance because Chris would have made a good one too. I just went to the interview feeling like I would just do my best and I'll just tell everybody what I think I should do next year on the paper," explained Veenstra.

Along with the new Editor, the committee selected the new Design Editor. Curran took that position for next year in addition to his Sports Editing position. "As Design Editor I think I'm going to be able to do the job and expand on what Bret has already done this year," stated Curran.

One of the first things that Curran will do is to change the name plate of The Print. He also wants to follow through on some ideas that Bret had but never got instituted.

At first losing the Editor-in-Chief made Curran "damn mad, but after a nights sleep and I worked out the aggression I realized that Design Editor was not a step down."

A graduate from Clackamas High, Curran felt "good" about the new position.

Chris Curran doubles up this fall by taking on Design Editor in addition to his present Print position as Sports Editor.

New ASG officers elected

by Sherri Michaels
Staff Writer

This past weekend the newly elected and appointed officers spent time getting to know each other, planning goals and setting the executive cabinets philosophy.

The philosophy reads as:

The members of the 1987-88 Associated Student Government are a link between the students and staff and are responsible for student rights and interests. By being accessible to the ASCCC we will develop the goals of the students and produce effective activities. Unity within ASG, being vital to this cause, will be accomplished by keeping communication open. We encourage students to become involved by keeping ASG informed of their needs and interests.

This along with some short term goals were the main accomplishments of the weekend. The new officers also spent time "getting to know each other and getting to know how each person works both individually and in a group" said Anna Haller, the new ASG Administrative Assistant.

Other new officers are Dana Dumolt, ASG Assistant to the President; Becki Blumenkron, ASG Entertainment Coordinator; and Scott Officer as ASG Entertainment/Senator.

They will be planning longer range goals for the summer and fall June 24.

Maybe there is a substitute for experience.

After you're done with school, you face one of the hardest lessons in life: Without experience, it's tough to get a job. And without a job, it's tough to get experience.

At The Wall Street Journal, we recognize that experience is something you don't start earning until after graduation.

But while you're waiting, we can give you a head start by providing some of the same competitive advantages that experience brings.

For instance, our wide-ranging news coverage gives you a clearer understanding of the whole complex world of business.

Our tightly focused feature reporting prepares you for your more specific ambitions—whether in management, accounting, finance, technology, marketing or small business.

And our in-depth analysis helps you formulate your ideas in a sharper and more persuasive way.

Call 800-257-1200* Ext. 1066 or mail the coupon—and start your subscription to The Wall Street Journal at student savings of up to $48 off the regular subscription price.

That's a pretty generous offer. Especially when you consider what it actually represents. Tuition for the real world.

To subscribe, call 800-257-1200* Ext. 1066 toll-free.

Or mail to: The Wall Street Journal, 500 3rd Ave. W., Seattle, WA 98110.

Send me one year of The Wall Street Journal for $66—a savings of $48 off the regular subscription price.

Send me 15 weeks for $26. Payment enclosed.

Bill me later.

Name _____

Student I.D.# _____ Grad Month/Year _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

School _____ Major _____

*Three prices are valid for a limited time. See coupon for details. ©1986 The Wall Street Journal. All rights reserved. The Wall Street Journal is published daily except on Saturdays, Sundays and public holidays.

The Wall Street Journal.
The daily diary of the American dream 2622

*In Pennsylvania, call 800-222-3380. Ext. 1066. ©1986 Dow Jones & Company Inc.

The Student Center.

Going to McDonald's® is almost as much a part of school as going to class. You've made us the place to meet, to talk, to have a good time, to celebrate your victories and help forget defeats.

You've made McDonald's more than just another place to eat. And that's why, at McDonald's, we say...

IT'S A GOOD TIME FOR THE GREAT TASTE

CCC Students

Show your student body card and receive regular size fries FREE! A different food offer each month (with purchase of any large sandwich).

©1984 McDonald's Corporation

McDONALD'S No. 7189
1450 MOLALLA AVENUE
OREGON CITY, OR 97045

May 13, 1987

