

New instructors join CCC Family

New instructors joining our staff are, left to right: Jeanne Whitbeck, Small Business Management; Wayne Austin, Autobody; Allen Widerberg, English and Mary Craven, Basic Skills.

College satellite network links up CCC nationally

by Michelle "Mitch" Walsh
Staff Writer

"The College Satellite Network is a program of interaction of teleconferences beamed via satellite (across the U.S.)," said advisor Paul Kylo, "It's usually a two hour discussion including colleges from across the nation." The network approached CCC about getting hooked up, and the company essentially "sold it to us," according to B.J. Blumenkron ASG Entertainment Coordinator.

Kylo hopes that students will "stop, listen, and give it some thought," when watching the live discussions. Blumenkron added that she "would like to see students participate because it would be a good experience."

A two hour live entertainment program or concert follows the discussion.

CCC has taped copies of the program for 30 days so instructors, groups or high schools may borrow the video tapes.

One problem - most programs are on East Coast time, hence, the West Coast will be watching a pre-recording or it will be broadcast here at 5 p.m. Kylo mentioned that he has been asking the company if some shows could be broadcast for West Coast time.

The screen is set up in the Community Center Mall.

ELC class offered

The ELC is offering a class in edible landscape design, available with optional PSU credit, and taught by Vern Nelson, a master gardener. Classes will be held Tuesdays, 6-10 p.m. starting Oct. 13. Cost: $35-45 and an additional $54 for PSU credit.

Haynes to speak

Local writer and author J. Dana Haynes will visit Clackamas Community College next Wednesday night to discuss the recent publication of his new novel, "Bishop's Gambit, Declined."

Haynes, who is a staff writer for the Lake Oswego Review, will speak at 7 p.m. in McLoughlin Theater as part of The Humanities Experience course. Haynes is a past editor of "The Print," and created a local setting for his mystery novel that is a combination of Clackamas Community and Lewis and Clark colleges.

Students are welcome to attend the event, which is also open to the public. There is no charge.

News Briefs

Rhapsody wants you

Your chance to see your name - and your poem or short story - in print is coming soon!

"Rhapsody," the college's literary supplement to "The Print," will first be published Oct. 28. Editor Judy Singer is accepting student submissions until Oct. 23. If you would like to contribute a poem or short story, type it double-spaced and leave it in her mailbox in the Student Publications Trailer B.

One-woman play opens

"After such pleasures," a one-woman performance taken from the works and the days of Dorothy Parker, opens with two performances only on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 9 and 10 at 8 p.m. in the First Congregational Church, 1126 S.W. Park Avenue, Portland.

Tickets for the performance are available through Friends of The Multnomah County Library, P.O. Box 3261, Portland 97208, or by calling 777-0236.

Women: tips for time

Bring a brown bag lunch and hear Sharon Hartsell talk about "Time Management for Women" from 12:30 - 1:30pm. -in CC 101, Oct. 8. For more information contact Donna Ford, 657-8400 ext.266.

PIO hires reporter

Clackamas Community College has hired Nancy Baker, a former newspaper reporter, as its News Service Coordinator.

Most recently, Baker covered education for the Charleston Gazette in Charleston, West Virginia. Before that she covered education and city government for the Chandler Arizonan, a daily newspaper in Arizona.

Baker, 30, replaces Ken Koopman, who resigned from the position in June. She will serve as a liaison between the college and area newspapers, radio and television stations.

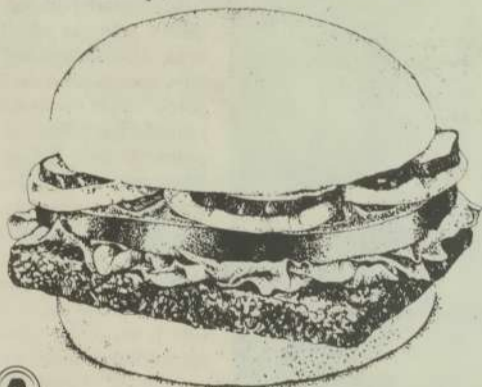

Board meets tonight

CCC Board Meeting

The Board will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Barlow Hall Board Room. For more information call 657-8400 ext. 405.

Now Wendy's
Quarter Pound
Singles are just 99¢

(Sorry, McDonald's.)

The best burgers
in the business.

Cheese and tax extra.
Offer good at participating Wendy's.

*Net weight before cooking.
© 1987 Wendy's. All Rights Reserved.

STUDENT LOANS ARE LOOKING GOOD AT FAR WEST

So Daddy's not Chairman of the Board and Mom's not a rock star. You still deserve the money to continue your education.

Well give yourself some credit. Get your Guaranteed Student Loan at Far West.

Far West does it faster and easier than anybody. And even half-time students have it made! You can qualify for the full amount with just half-time enrollment.

To get your Student Loan, drop by your school's financial aid office to make sure you qualify, then come to Far West. You can get the loan yourself, too, no co-signer is necessary, even if you don't have a credit rating. And you don't have to have an account with Far West either.

See? Told you it was easy— even if Mom can't rock-n-roll.

HILLTOP
360 Warner Mine Rd.
Phone 656-7776

OREGON CITY
67 Oregon City Shopping Center
Phone 656-0314