

Big kids out

Working moms dressed up for the traditionally "kids" holiday- Halloween.

Photos by Julie Church

This year, Halloween wasn't just for kids. Many teenagers went to Clackamas Town Center for the Jaycees haunted house, while working mothers dressed up at work. There were many college dress up parties and local townspeople made their yards into a Halloween graveyard. When people asked you why you still dress for Halloween at your age, you can now proudly say "Halloween isn't just for kids anymore."

Raggedy Ann poses while at her cash register at Hilltop Thriftway.

