Valentine's Day

Valentine's Day has its roots in the Roman fertility festival of Lupercalia, celebrated on February 15. Medieval Europeans celebrated the day because it was thought to be the beginning of the mating season for birds.

The sending of Valentine's cards dates back to the 16th century. By 1800, handpainted copperplates were produced to meet the large demands. It is possible that Valentine's Day cards were the first greeting card.

There has been a very special student attending classes at CCC. Mostly he has been studying English as a second language because he is from Costa Rica. His name is Mauricio Calderon and he has been a real inspiration to me.
Unfortunately, Mauricio will be leaving Feb. 13 for home and I would just like to take this time to say goodbye and I will miss you. Also I would like to say good luck and I hope to see you again soon. You are a very special person and I wish you the best.

Take care and love always,
Patty
