

PHOTO ESSAY

photos by Julie Church

Monday February 15, over 1,000 paid spectators were seen lining the streets of Oregon City's 7th Avenue to take part in a parade scene of a new Whoopie Goldberg movie. From the early morning to late afternoon paid spectators, and parade members, along with Oregon City High School's band, cheerleaders, dance team and nationally recognized girls' basketball team, was involved in acting out a parade scene that took over 10 hours doing the same parade until it was just right.

