

briefs

Business series set

Security for the Small Business is the topic of a four-part series to be offered at Clackamas Community College Tuesdays Oct. 26 through Nov. 16 at 7 p.m. in the Community Center room 117.

A $12 registration fee will be charged for the seminar which will cover shoplifting, bad checks and credit cards, employee theft and embezzlement, burglary and robbery. Information about the Small Business seminar is available from the college's business education office, 656-2631 ext. 261.

New vets act

"The Veteran's Education and Employment Assistance Act of 1976" was passed by Congress Oct. 1 and signed into law by President Oct. 19.

For veterans attending Clackamas Community College, this will mean an eight percent increase in their education benefits to be paid retroactive to Oct. 1. This increase could be reflected in most of the November checks.

Another provision of the new law, which will have an important effect of CCC veterans, is the extension of the basic entitlement of 36 months to 45 months for Chapter 34 and 35 payees.

The new bill also eliminates prepayment of benefits as of June 1, 1977. This means that instead of receiving a check at the first of the month, the veteran will get his check at the end of the month.

Former student travels abroad

"The population crush may be the hardest cultural difference to get used to," according to Beverly Jorgenson, a former Clackamas Community College student living in Holland with her husband Pete.

"The Dutch thrive on closeness unlike many Americans, whose sense of privacy makes them very uncomfortable in crowded situations.

The Jorgensons have lived in Holland for almost a year. Pete is working as an engineer and they expect to remain for at least three years.

They have traveled extensively throughout Holland, Belgium, Germany, France and Scandinavia and are currently living in an old farm house in Voerendall, Holland. It is in a very popular, forested, moor-like region near Zundert, where Van Gogh was born. The Jorgensons consider themselves very lucky that the house faces fields and cows rather than masses of row houses.

They were astonished at the "naivety" of the Dutch people concerning the Prince Bernard-Lockheed scandal. The people refused to believe it until faced with irrefutable proof. After the story was confirmed the Dutch people were in a state of shock. This was surprising considering the reputation they have as shrewd businessmen.

During a springtime visit to Weggis on the Vierwaldstattersee (Lake Lucerne) Switzerland, the Jorgensons cruised the lake on elegant, old steamers and enjoyed the alpine view during a ride to the mountain peaks on cogtrains.

Also, if the veteran desires an advance payment at the beginning of the term, he and the school must send a written request for it to the Veterans' Administration. However, if he does this, he would not receive another check until the end of the second month of the term.

This bill establishes the "Chapter 32 - Post-Vietnam Era Veteran's Educational Assistance Act" which is a voluntary contributory plan for persons initially entering the service after Dec. 31, 1976. Also, on Dec. 31, 1976, the Chapter 34 program will be eliminated.

Other provisions of the new law include an increase in the VA education loan to $1,500 and increases in tutorial payments.

For more information, contact the Office of Veterans' Affairs in CC 115.

Farm management

An introductory class on Farm Business Management for working farmers will be offered in two sections on Oct. 25 at Clackamas Community College.

The first session will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. in Clairmont Hall, room 135. The second will be from 7 to 10 p.m. in Clairmont Hall, room 150.

Information about the orientation session is available from Jack Thorsen, 656-2631, ext. 341.

President to teach

Dr. John W. Hakanson, President of Clackamas Community College, will conduct a seminar on community colleges beginning Oct. 27.

The seminar series will be eight, one-evening sessions held once a month from 7-10 p.m. Three Oregon State University graduate credits can be earned by paying a $39.00 tuition fee. Those not wishing to earn credits can attend for free.

The first session, to cover the history and philosophy of the community college will take place Wednesday Oct. 27 in room 101 of the Community Center Building.

Election tally

The following is the final tally of votes cast in last week's senate elections:

Maureen Kearney (69), Debby Griffin (67), Kitty Sellman and Ken Roberts (66), Marsha Kunkel (64), Deborah Schwab, Debbie Bottorff and Lea Ranck (63), Don Bixler (55), Brian Peters (53), Michael Ralls (51), John C. Umbras and Larry Granger (50), Thomas Blethen (47), James Cooper and Candayce Schwabauer (45), Jim Welter (44), Susi Mills and Etta Blethen (43), Howard Burke (41), Barbara Dikty (39), and Earl Diment (37).

Each of the following students received one write-in vote: Harriet Kitchen, Curt Albright, Darlene Walter, Jim Hammer, George Hunt, Michael Ayers, Larry Smith, Kerri Larson, Becky Schumaker, and Trudi Rau.

Write in votes for non-students were not counted.

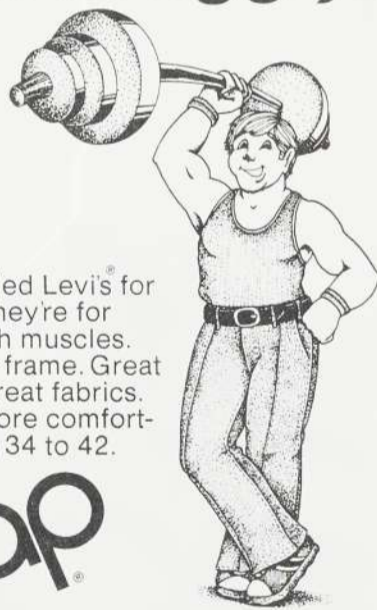

No. 9 discussions

Ballot Measure No. 9 will be the subject of a presentation at Clackamas Community College Friday, Oct. 22 in the Fireside Lounge.

Bob Pollard, a former member of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission will be the featured speaker.

The presentation is part of a series sponsored by the Associated Student Government to provide students and the community with information about issues on the November ballot.

Levi's for big guys.

They're called Levi's for Men. But they're for anyone with muscles. Or a bigger frame. Great styles, in great fabrics. But now more comfortable. Sizes 34 to 42.

the gap

LLOYD CENTER

© The Gap 1976

