

Below: Karen Bardsley shows classmate leaf samples. Bottom right: Five ferns were pointed out by instructor Florence Lee along with other ground coverings of moss and mushrooms. Bottom left: Terry Knowles checks for the bats of the "Hollow Tree", a giant Western Red Cedar. Left: Steve Dorgan and Alan Knoop add Douglas Fir to a growing collection of names in their field notebooks.

Photos by Lorraine Stratton

Thursday, October 21, 1976

