Tests for nurses

Screening tests for working Nurse Aides interested in taking "Practical Nursing for Employed Nursing Assistants" will be conducted at Clackamas Community College weekdays (except Fridays) through Dec. 22.

The winter term course will be taught Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 10 p.m. beginning Jan. 4.

Information about the tests for the course is available from the counseling office, ext. 266 or from the nursing office, ext. 209.

Camping for credit

Clackamas Community College students interested in recreation may get a chance to go camping for credit.

A class to train Outdoor School aids will be offered spring term if enough students show interest in participating in the program.

Students in the class will be trained as counselors for the sixth grade participants in the Outdoor School program and will receive three credits for taking the class and three credits for counseling for a week.

The class will be limited to an enrollment of 30 students. To reserve a space in the class stop by Orchard 125 or contact John Bohan, ext. 348.

Marijuana seized

Less than an ounce of marijuana was confiscated from a male student last week by Clackamas Community College security guards. The student was referred to the Dean of Students.

There were seven traffic tickets given out in the past week, two were for running a stop sign; two were for parking on the grass; and three were for parking in the handicapped zone.

Christmas jobs

For those in need of a job during the Christmas break, Marv Thornley, Job Placement Counselor, advises looking in the phone book. "Look in the yellow pages," he said, "under Employment."

Temporary help agencies are the places to go to for jobs. Two in particular, Manpower and Employer's Overload, are particularly glad to get college students.

Another way to get a job is to walk in and ask. "Even during the peak season there is some store turnover," said Thornley. "People get tired of their jobs and just get up and quit."

Officers elected

The Clackamas Community College Foundation recently elected its officers for 1977.

Mary Sharp, Molalla, was elected president; Dennis D. Skinner, 1st vice president; Arnold Thomas, 2nd vice president; Helen Hood, secretary; and George Nickles, treasurer.

The Foundation's main purpose is to assist the college with election needs and to assist deserving students with financial support.

Last year the Foundation awarded eleven scholarships to outstanding high school seniors of the CCC districts.

Road conditions

Road and weather conditions for Mt. Hood and the surrounding ski areas were reported as fair with no snow last week.

Marv Turner, Oregon City Police business department, said, "No ski areas have been closed. The road conditions are reported as clear bare pavement with spots of ice."

Motorists should take caution because of icy spots, but otherwise the road conditions are good, Turner said.

For further information the number for road and weather control is 238-8400. The telephone number for Mt. Hood Meadows Snow Phone and weather report is 227-SNOW or 227-7669.

PSU transfers ok

It's not too late to transfer to the State University for winter term. The line for application is Dec. 31, but students are urged to start the process as soon as possible.

Students interested in transferring send all official transcripts from previously attended colleges to the PSU Admissions Office, P.O. Box 751, PSU, Portland 97207.
