

Spring training underway: coaches, athletes prepare for upcoming season

With spring baseball training underway the only thing hampering practice is the "bad" weather. Periods of sunny and rainy spells have made things unpredictable, forcing the athletes to practice indoors at times. However, when the athletes are caught in one of the sunny days, Gene Cusick (above) readies his protective gear in anticipation of Bob Simirl's fast ball (left). CCC baseball coach Gene Peterson (below right and opposite left) confers with a fellow coach as he oversees the practice session.
