

Art schedule foresees little time for rest

The Clackamas Community College Art Department will be very active this spring with exhibits and activities the instructors have planned.

Molalla Community Education Center will continue a pottery exhibit in the Clackamas Community Center Mall which began April 4.

Paintings, ceramics and water colors by Alan Brunk and Mike Jones from the Three Seasons League Art will be displayed April 18 in the CC Mall.

CCC's Leland John will have a display May 9-20 of his paintings, drawings, and water colors on campus.

The Art Department will be showing a variety of different mediums by students from May 23 until the end of the term.

A display by the Oregon Water Color Society will be in the mall June 6.

Many of the instructors in the Art Department will be doing interesting activities to expand their knowledge of art.

Pottery instructor Nancy Traub is going to the Institute Allende Miguel de, Allende, Mexico, to study pottery.

Leland John is going to England to visit a former CCC student at Oxford. Then to Louvre in Paris, which is a great museum that has housed many famous works.

Sculpture at Summer School will be taught by Les Tipton.

Norm Bursheim will be spending one month on Nimpton Lake, British Columbia this summer. He said plans to read and study art. Beautiful surroundings and a Bald Eagle near the house will set the scene there.

From the sounds of things, spring term will hold little time for rest in the Art Department.

Rhythm section invited back for spring event

The Rhythm Section will perform for Clackamas Community College's spring term Big Band Ball Saturday, April 23, at 9 p.m. in the Community Center Mall.

The band was such a hit at the winter term ball that it was invited back for the spring fling.

The Rhythm Section is composed of Portland area musicians, including Clackamas Community College music department chairman LeRoy Anderson, and performs big band tunes from the '30's, '40's and '50's.

The evening begins with dinner at 8 p.m. and the cost is $10 for couples and $6 for singles for the dinner/dance combination and $3 for singles for the dance only.

For ticket information contact the student activities office at Clackamas Community College, 656-2631, ext. 340.

Circus to perform

The NewMime Circus, a Eugene theatre ensemble will perform "Two Intimate Plays Inside the Mind Zone," Friday and Saturday, April 8 and 9 on the fourth floor of the Pythian Building, 918 SW Yamhill. Actors' warm-ups will begin at 8 p.m. and curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

The two plays, which will be performed both evenings, are Vanya Franck's "Strum of One" and "Sing to Me." "Open Windows," by Arthur Koestler's "Strum of One" is an intimate play originally written for voices, dealing with three aspects of a woman, her intellect, sex and her soul. Their struggle is enacted in one person and is enacted with music, vocalization and electronic music.

This program is jointly sponsored by a grant from the Oregon Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Admission to the performance is free. Tickets may be purchased from the Pythian Company of Dancers, at the Pythian Building 918 SW Yamhill, or reservations by calling 226-0348.
