Bookstore deadline

The last day for students to receive a full refund on text books purchased for spring term is Friday, April 15, according to Doug Shannon, Clackamas Community College bookstore manager.

"Students must have the sales receipt in order to receive a full refund," said Shannon. "Books not turned in by this date must be held until the end-of-term buy back which begins June sixth," he continued.

Phi Beta Lambda

Clackamas Community College's Phi Beta Lambda chapter of Phi Beta Lambda, the business students club, received 12 individual awards and two chapter awards during the State Leadership Conference in Coos Bay, March 31 to April 2.

The Clackamas chapter was selected for Best Community Project and a second place trophy for Largest Chapter Membership.

Howard W. Burke of Beavercreek was elected state vice-president of Phi Beta Lambda.

Individual award winners included Dave Broyles, Oregon City, second place in the Mr. Future Business Executive competition; Marjorie Patrick, Clackamas, second place in Ms. Future Business Executive; Dick Bonwell, Dale Holland, and Sharla Blodgett, all of Canby, Mike Burke, Beavercreek, and Marjorie Patrick for second place in Parliamentary Procedure team event; and Debbie Sipe, Oregon City, Donald Ashby and Betty McClean, Gladstone, Raymond Roy, Mulino, and Howard Burke for third place in Parliamentary Procedure team competition.

The winners will advance to the National Phi Beta Lambda Leadership Conference in Denver, July 5 through 9.

Miller wins

Jim Miller, a senior at Tigard High School, has received a one-year tuition scholarship from Clackamas Community College's music department for being selected as the outstanding musician of the college's recent high school stage band festival.

Miller, who was also selected outstanding musician at Clark College's jazz band festival, will be competing in the state high school soloist contest. He placed third in the Wilco League competition on the trombone and baritone horn and won the district competition for the trombone.

PAC meeting

Parents Action Council (PAC) will hold a meeting and brown bag lunch, April 13 at noon. The meeting will be held at 19241 S. Beavercreek Rd.

PAC is a group of low income people who would like to be better informed about what can be done to help themselves, and what laws and social services pertain to them.

People who are on welfare or are in the low income bracket are often lost in a maze of agencies when seeking help for a particular problem. Frequently one link is missing that will bring people and services together in a productive way. This is the object of PAC.

PAC will also help form another group called Project Independence, which will deal with the role of the single parent and the problems that he or she faces.
