

School children provide hope for tomorrow

Estacada Middle School at noon-time recess (below) was an interesting sight. One grade-schooler found himself a comfortable seat perched a top a playground tire as fellow classmates amuse themselves (bottom) on various equipment on the playground. Amy Short found a friend, and a safe haven from her ensuing male counterparts, in Amanda Eggleston, a CCC journalism student.

Photos by Brian Snook

