Dinner and dancing "At the Hop" style is being presented by The Friends of Clackamas Community College at the Monarch Motor Inn Friday, Oct. 27, 6 p.m. to 11:30 p.m.

"We've sent out about 850 invitations to community members in education, business, government, and all the staff, of course," said member Kim Faddis, "I don't know that we've sent any invitations to students, but we're certainly not turning them away if they show up at the door."

Tickets are $20 in advance, or $25 at the door. Several contests will be held throughout the evening including the Limbo, the Twist, Hula Hoops and costumes.

Fifties attire is optional, but encouraged.

A no-host bar will begin at 6 p.m., with dinner at 7:15 p.m. and dancing beginning at 8:30.

Friends of CCC is a political action committee organized by community business leaders to raise funds and direct campaigns for CCC's elections.

"Our current levy expires July 1990," explained Faddis, "so we'll need to start campaigning in March for another operating levy. This really is our kick-off event. Our goal is $25,000, and we will be having other events such as a dinner theater March 8 and 11."

Tickets for the upcoming dance can be purchased at 291 Portland Avenue in Gladstone or call Diane Quick at 771-7445.

The ASG will sponsor a blood drive for the American Red Cross Oct. 25.

The drive will be held in the Fireside Lounge from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"I'd like to sign up 300 people," said Assistant to the President Ken Ingram. "There's always a big need for blood." With the recent hurricane and the holidays approaching, Ingram believes the need is even greater now.

To be eligible to donate blood, a person must be healthy, weigh at least 110 pounds, and be between the ages of 17 and 65. A person must wait 56 days from their last donation before giving blood again.

"We think it (the blood) goes for a good cause," said Ingram. It's also a way for us to show support for the community which supports our school."

Persons interested in donating may sign up in the Student Activities Office in the Community Center, Ingram said.

Women to attend Motherlode gig

An evening of women's music is this term's cultural event for the Focus on Women program.

The group is now taking registrations for the Friday, Nov. 3 concert, which will feature Motherlode, a four-woman group from the Northwest, and Betsy Rose, a singer/songwriter from the Bay Area. The concert is in Salem; participants will travel by bus from the Clackamas campus, attend the concert, meet the performers and return to campus by about midnight.

"This is an opportunity for women to hear a variety of music - songs of humor, songs about making our way in the world as women," said Ellen Burbridge, a Focus on Women coordinator.

Betsy Rose, who is from Berkeley, has recorded several albums and has toured nationally. She will do several solo numbers, and then will join Motherlode for a portion of the concert.

Two members of Motherlode - Kathleen Fallon and Nan Collie - performed at last spring's Focus on Women Retreat at Camp Westwind.

"Their spirit and energy really added a lot to our weekend," Burbridge said. "We're excited about the opportunity of making their music available again to women from the Clackamas community."

Women interested in attending the concert may register for WKS 1-03; cost is $12, which includes the concert and transportation. For more information, interested persons may contact Maureen Jones at ext. 489.
