

been trying to get these for three years.

According to the police report, there was no sign of forced entry. The radios are believed to be in the Oregon City area.

"I think in order to have a crime, you have to have a motive, a means, and an opportunity. Whomever committed this crime obviously had all three," said

Photo by Lane Scheideman High winds for the last three days have caused much damage on campus and throughout Oregon.

Incoming telephone calls could also be patched through to the security radios.

The theft occurred sometime between 10 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. on Dec. 20 according to police reports. Johnson said the radios ad just been taken out of their boxes and placed in chargers that morning. On duty security guard Robert Funkhouser was touring the campus when the thefts occurred.

> term." Currently, the only improvement made to outdoor smoking facilities have been the addition

> "From my standpoint, I would have liked to have provided some-thing more for the smokers," Keyser said.

> Debate over the smoking is-indoors

Campus to remain smoke free

by Jim Titus Editor-in-Chief

The Clackamas Community College Board of Education unani mously approved a motion Dec. 13 to continue the indoor smoking ban on campus while making ome improvements to outdoor smoking areas.

According to the minutes of the meeting, Board Member Mimi Urbigkeit said she "thought enough time had been spent on the issue, and that Board action represented a reasonable compromise." She also stated that "education dollars should be spent on education

Agreeing with Urbigkeit's comments, Board Member Ross

Smith added that "if the issue resurfaces, the Board will not be so generous.

College President John Keyser spoke at the meeting in support of a memo he had written to the board concerning the issue. The memo summed up the history of the ban, which began on a one-term trial basis this fall. Two forums were held to discuss the issue, and a campus-wide opinion poll was taken near the end of last term

The poll showed 26 percent in favor of continuing the ban while upgrading outdoor facilities, 30 percent in favor of continuing in-ban without change, and 40 per-cent favoring an indoor smoking

Keyser's conclusion regarding the poll was that the majority (56 percent) of those polled were in favor of continuing the ban and upgrading outdoor smoking areas. Keyser had previously rec-ommended to the President's Council that Public Safety be relocated and Trailer A be converted into a "smokers' lounge." The The council vetoed this proposal due to concerns over ventilation and security of the Public Safety trailer.

area

Keyser stated that, with construction plans for new facilities under way, "there may be more improvements (to outdoor smoking facilities). There may be a way to provide something more longof picnic tables.

sue may not yet be over, however. Keyser explained that a recent court case had decided that whether or not to allow indoor smoking is a "condition of work," and thus subject to bargaining by labor groups If an upcoming meeting with the college's three labor groups leads to a reversal of the ban as a contract condition, student smokers will also be affected.

CCC bad weather closure policy set

Lane Scheideman Staff Writer

In the event of bad weather, hazardous driving conditions, or other emergencies, the Dean of Instruction Lyle Reese, decides whether the classes and events at Clackamas will be open, closed, or delayed.

Prior to 5 a.m., the Public Safety officer on duty will consult various weather stations If the Public Safety officer feels that the weather conditions are so extreme that the college should be closed the officer will be taken. Reese will then make the final decision of whether or not the college will be closed.

recommend to Reese that action

If Reese decides to close the college the various news agencies will be informed. Blinking lights and "college closed" signs will be put up at the Molalla and Beaver-creek entrances, and also at the Tri-Met bus stop. If the college's opening is to be delayed the procedure will be the same as if the college was to be closed, with the exception that signs, stating the time the college is to be open, will be put up along with the "college closed" signs. There is a possibility that the day classes will be cancelled and the night classes still be held. Reese will make this decision, if necessary, before 2:45 p.m. Nearly all of the radio stations will announce the status of the college prior to 7 a.m. for day classes and prior to 3 p.m. fo evening classes. KATU TV(channel 2), KOIN TV(channel 6), and KGW TV(channel 8) will also announce the status of the college. The current guideline for college closures does not give much information about the Harmony Center. Stan Johnson, chief of public safety, feels that this is one area that needs to be reworked.

The weather is one of the hardest things to predict. There have been times, according to Johnson, that the college has been closed because of too much snow and by noon the sun is shining and all the snow has melted away.

come to attend.

Voter drive slated

ASG and the friends of CCC are holding a voter registration and information drive on the up and coming levy elec-

The drive will be held on Jan 17 and 18 from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m

For more information contact Carol Hunserford at 652-1404.

Donate books

The CCC Library is asking for people to donate their used books to the Library for their Valentine's Day sale Proceeds go to help improve the Library

Join the team

Join the CCC Bowling team! The bowling team is looking for people to sign up. League play starts Thurs. at the Firebird Lanes in Salem at 2 p.m. Deadline

nears

The last day for complete refunds from the bookstore is Fri Jan. 19. When returning books you must have your receipt.

Bookstore hours are from 8-8 Mon. through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday.

