

After finishing ninth in tournament play... Cougars hope to rebound after rough week

Tisha Chevron (#7) looks skyward as Tara White (#9) and the rest of the team attempt to return the ball. The Cougars prepare for a battle against Linn-Benton this evening.

Linn-Benton is in town tonight to face the Cougars for what should be an easy victory for Clackamas' volleyball team after a rough week at Mt. Hood.

The Clackamas ladies can focus on tonight's battle as an easy win considering they've already beaten Linn-Benton once in Albany during league play this season. In a sentence, Cougar Coach Kathie Woods sums it up.

"I never want to say this, but I think we should sweep them."

A win tonight would lift the team's spirits, and prepare them for another weekend of tournament play as they travel to Salem this weekend for the Chemeketa Cross-Over.

"I'm really concerned about our tournament play," explained Woods. "We do extremely well during league play, then we get to the tourneys and we just don't play with the same intensity and concentration. It worries me because our goal is to make the playoffs, but if we don't turn around our tournament play, we won't do what we want once we get there."

Last weekend's Mt. Hood Classic was one of those tournaments. Friday, the ladies ended their pool 0-4 including defeats from Highline Community College as well as Chemeketa Community College whom they defeated just one week before. Then, Saturday, they lost to Yakima Community College but beat Clark Community College in three. Yet, they still placed fifth in their pool which "shows how poorly we played earlier in the tournament," added Woods. They went on to defeat Centralia Community College to finish ninth in the tournament.

Last Wednesday was, on the same token, a loss to Mt. Hood 10-15, 10-15, and 13-15, however, according to Woods, the ladies played an excellent match.

"We played a good game even though we lost. There were a lot of long rallies and a lot of side outs, but we just couldn't get the points to fall our way," she explained.

Tara White led the team with 10 kills and 20 digs; Debbie Asboe was there with nine blocks; and Team Captain Tisha Chevron was a key player with 13 assists and 16 digs.

"We can let Mt. Hood go because they're undefeated, so no one's getting any wins off them," explained Woods. "We need to concentrate on the rest of the season and our tournament play. I think we need to just look at our tourneys match by match, and take one game at a time."
