

DAVE AND NOL'S

OUTSTANDING RECREATIONAL REVIEW

UPCOMING MOVIES

Dave: Well, check it out, it's already the end of the year and this is our last column till fall. (Editor's Note: THANK GOD!!!)

Nol: Hey man, did you ever notice that nearly everything in the world is owned by car and cola companies?

Dave: Bummer. But the cinema industry is totally booming!

Nol: Yeah, but I'm sick and tired of all the 3's and 4's of these movies, a simple sequel would be sufficient.

Dave: Well, I liked "Lethal Weapon 3." But I see what you mean. Anything for a buck, huh? Well, anyway, check out all the new flicks coming out this summer.

Nol: Um, yeah. I don't know about a couple of these though, like "Honey, I Blew Up The Kids." The first one was pretty heinous.

Dave: Well, dude, I liked the giant ant. Anyway, this summer looks very promising with movies such as "Batman Returns," "Cool World" and "Patriot Games."

Nol: Man, I gotta see that, Harrison Ford looks awesome in that.

Dave: No doubt! I've read the book by Tom Clancy several times and it's a heavily superior novel. I like suspense flicks, and this one promises to take the cake. The film continues the character of CIA analyst Jack Ryan from "The Hunt for Red October." "Patriot TOYS!

Nol: Dave, what do you think the meaning of life really is?

Dave: Nol, that's easy. Whoever has the most toys when he dies, wins. I work at "Toys 'R' Us" and that is a daily philosophy for me.

Nol: I like "Toys 'R' Us," I find it heavily superior compared to the toy section of "K. Mart" where I work. Especially their selection of water pistols and other water-spewing apparatus.

Dave: Excellent! We got all sorts of neat stuff at "Toys 'R' Us," such as the "Super Soaker 200," a humongous, Arnold Schwarzenegger-type squirt gun. It retails for about 30 bucks.

Nol: Dude, I think that place has got you brainwashed!

Dave: Long live Geoffery! No, just kidding! Hal

Nol: I really don't like "Kay-Bee" toy stores that much. They have too many little kids toys. I personally was through with toddler toys in the 6th grade.

Dave: No doubt, "Kay-Bee" sucks. I mean, check this out. They have dinky stores, they always have toys torn out of the boxes and lying around, and they have outrageous prices! I once went in there, and I just had to laugh!

Nol: Freddy's ain't bad. But it's nothing heavily superior.

Dave: Yeah, dude, toys are what makes the world go 'round.

Dave and Nol: Go Blazers! Castrate the Bulls! Excellent!

"Games" is about Harrison Ford's character going to Merry Olde England on vacation with his family where he foils a terrorist plot to kill the Prince of Wales and the repercussions of his actions.

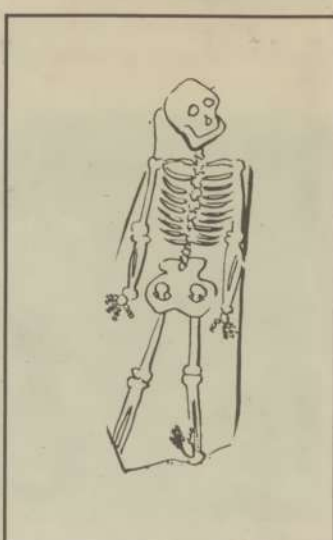

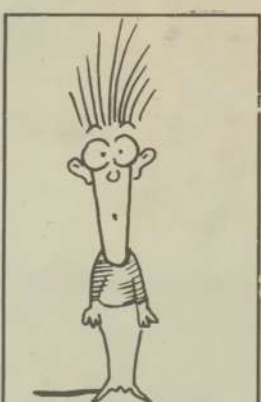

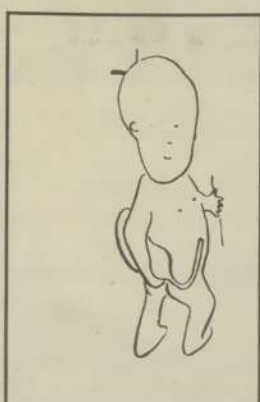

Nol: Sounds like "Indiana Jones" turns "James Bond." I saw "The Hunt for Red October" and I still think there is a Soviet Nuclear Sub lurking in the waters of the Willamette.

Dave: Most excellent, Comrade.

Heidi, Hey Hubble! I'm so glad we became such close friends! You are an absolute blast! I am sad that I must leave you for that big Portland school, but I look forward to many more memorable moments, like those on 5th and Salmon.
Love ya stud, Brenda

To my great friend Bubba - I love ya dearly. Thanks for making my first year of college such a blast. You are an awesome stud.
Friends always, Heidi

Mom, It was so much fun having you in class this term. Thanks for all of your support always. I love you! Let's watch for the wheel-chair!
Love, Bub

Jennifer - Thanks for all the rides to and from school this year. It was lots of fun! Good luck in the future!
From, Heidi

Nathan and Randy, you guys are the best Economics partners a girl could ever hope for. I wish you guys the best at PSU & WOSC. I already miss ya.
Julie

Heather Cline, Thank you for all your hard work and encouragement! I'm excited to work with you next year -- In whatever office we choose.
Cheron

To a tough little "Meat Muffin," You're a great pal! Thanks for the shopping lessons. We're all in for a great summer, and we're hot, and we're ready. CCC champs storm onward, Yea!
Ace

CONGRATULATIONS Brenda Hodgen! All your hard work has paid off. I am extremely proud of you! You deserve the best!
