DAVE AND NOL'S OUTSTANDING RECREATIONAL REVIEW

Movies:

Dracula ***

Dave: I want to euck your blood....

Nol: Yeah, I get the picture. Mega outrageous movie. The special effects were great. Well, all except for the scene where that dude fell from the carriage into the canyon; that looked kinda phoney. On the other hand I was a tad bit disappointed because I was kinda hoping for something more romantic. You know more kissing and less impaling and chopping and skewering, etc.

Dave: Let me see your neck....

Nol: Yea, whatever Dave.

Sarafina *

Dave: This is one of those cultural movies that Nol goes to see. I missed it.

Nol: Actually this movie was a real bummer. Whoopie Goldberg was pretty cool in it and it was a socially enriching movie portraying the atrocities of South African apartheid. But wow man, did I leave that auditorium feeling depressed. That and I was not quite sure where the odd Broadway musical type clips came from, which seemed to be randomly thrown in.

Candyman **

Dave: I must apologize to our readership, I did not see this movie either. Sorry guys! Ohh, and Gale!

Nol: I took my little brother to see this trite, sorry excuse for a horror flick. I mean lets steal the oldest hook man story in the book and try to spice it up a little with lots of special effects and a little smut. But yea, it did make me jump in my seat, so it couldn't have been all that bad.

Sneakers ****

Dave: I would have to say that this is one of my favorite movies of the year. There is just so much talent in this movie and all the actors are performing at peak levels. Ben Kingsley is the chief villain. Robert Redford, Dan Akroyd, River Phoenix are just some of the other actors in this killer flick. I've always liked spy-type movies and this one is one of the better ones. Speaking of spies, did you know that Nol kind of looks like the younger Sean Connery of the old James Bond movies?

Nol: The premier post cold war movie of the season. I liked it. I have always revered Robert Redford as a godlike actor. Dan Akroyd has always been a personal favorite of mine also, even if his part in this work of art was minor. An all around good movie. Best Redford film since Havana.

Hero ***

Dave: Haven't seen it yet dude.

Nol: Hey, nice all around feel good movie. I mean it deals with my favorite side of humanity. This flick deals with the idea that we all see people at their worst, and occasionally everyone is seen at their worst. A movie every should go to see.

Singles ****

Dave: Seen the movie? Hell no! I live it! No, ha, ha, just kidding, I would actually like to see this flick. I just haven't gotten around to doing it yet. I hear it takes place in Seattle though. Which reminds me of a joke that I heard the other day. Hey Nol, why is it that a real football team will never play for the city of Portland?

Nol: I don't know, why?

Dave: Because then Seattle will want one too!

Nol: Hey, this movie emulated my life exactly in many ways....cool music too. Hey must see this one. do not wait for video, do not pass go. I'm waiting for it to hit the second run theaters, like Milwaukee Cinema so that I can see it at least eight more times.

Last of the Mohicans ***

Dave: Best movie I have seen this year. No doubt about it! The best date movie a guy could bring a gal to. It has romance and love scenes as well as action and battle scenes! A movie with something for everybody!

Nol: Yea Dave, and I bet your date would love that "tomahawks in the back" scene. But yea, definitely a powerful movie. Don't miss this one.

Other Recreational Pursuits:

Zoo

Dave: I haven't been there in a long time. But what could change at a zoo? You always have wild animals who used to be free, but are now imprisoned in a large cage, never to know the feeling of a true rain forest, or prowling a gazelle on the African veldt. Besides, you always have overpriced food, high admittance fee and screaming kids. They do have a cool train though.

Nol: Hey man....it is all happening at the zoo. I was just there last week and it was a blast and a half. Almost all of the newer exhibits are fair from cages man. Looked like a rain forest to me but then I suppose, but that is because I've never been in one.

Japanese & Rose Gardens

Dave: I haven't been there for a long time. But I do remember it as a beautiful place that is very peaceful, nice place to go for peace and quiet.

Nol: Not just beautiful Dave, but an excellent place to take a date. The Japanese Gardens are an especially gratifying experience at any time of year.

Sauvie's Island

Dave: Nol and I went swimming there practically all summer with our friends. It was a blast! It's really neat when a large barge comes by and you can swim in it a wake. Only two things put a damper on it this summer for me, having my arm re-locate while swimming and getting really sick after accidentally swallowing some water. But hey, I lost 10 pounds in one week because of it!

Nol: Dave and I have found Sauvie's Island to be a truly excellent play ground for recreational pursuits. As Dave said, we spent a good deal of our summer there with two of our outstanding female friends (Bub & Heidi). Hey two excellent babes. We also played some fabulous Nerf football there too.

Rocky Horror Picture Show

Dave: I liked the movie, but I've never been to the live play. Nolan seems to enjoy it a lot though.

Nol: OK, so I am considered part of the regulars crowd there. Seeing it live is the only way to go. It is played every week at midnight, in the Clinton Street Theater. By far one of the stranger experiences that you will ever have, but well worth it.

Silver Creek Falls

Dave: A beautiful place to go, there are paths and trails everywhere! A great place for a picnic.

Nol: There you go under rating things again Dave.

Dave: What do you mean....that was positive, wasn't it?

Nol: Yea, but you forgot the pretty falls and didn't mention how Silver Creek Falls is the best place to bicycle. Hey way cool place.

Galleria

Dave: No thanks, I prefer to stay away from this yuppie hell.

Nol: See Dave...you're being negative again. The Galleria has some incredible places to eat. Bogart's is a personal favorite of mine, not to mention the Slovak Stop and that awesome little ice cream place.

Lloyd Center

Dave: Never been there.

Nol: You've never been there? Well, OK, I know your not the mall rat that I am Dave. But you should take one of your dates ice skating there. I like the new theaters there.

Gamee People Play

Dave: If you have money and time to waste, than this is the place to go! They always the newest games and the price to get in is reasonable, considering that once you pay the entrance fee of about $5, all the games are free!

Nol: Hey where else can you battle fierce warriors, shoot terrorists, and crash expensive sports cars, all for just $5.

Der Rhinelander

Dave: I ate there for my girlfriend's birthday just a few weeks ago, and it was awesome! They serve authentic German food there and it is really good tasting! Everybody should have the experience of eating there at least once. Or twice....or thrice....

Nol: I haven't even been there once man.

24 Hour Church of Elvis

Dave: I've seen it once when I went to the Saturday Market. It was kinda weird. But cool.

Nol: I got married there Halloween night. It was fun. Hey the king lives on.

Portland Saturday Market

Dave: I really like going there. The live entertainment, the arts and crafts, the intermingling of cultures and my favorite, the FOOD! I have only one complaint about the place. I spend my money too fast! Oh, well I guess that's my fault, huh?

Nol: I like to go and feel the cultural atmosphere, smell the food cooking, hear the music....ohh and I like to buy Bahas there, the ultimate college apparel.
