

News Clips

You can eat a burger and support the college tonight at a benefit for the Targeted Learning Center, to be held at the Clackamas Burger King, 11590 S.E. 82nd, from 4 to 8 p.m. During those hours, the TLC will receive 20 per cent of all purchases. TLC staff will be working at Burger King; stop by for dinner!

Three student produced one-act plays will run today and tomorrow. "Graceland" takes place today at noon. "The Marriage Proposal" will play tomorrow at 12:30 p.m. At 7:30 p.m., these two plays, as well as "Graceland," will play again.

Leslie Winnop of the John Inskeep Environmental Learning Center will be giving a Live Owl Program at the Friends of Tryon Creek Park. A talk will be given by Winnop about the behavior and physical characteristics of owls, among other things. Two live owls will also be on hand, and hands-on activities will follow the presentation. For more information, call 636-4398.

Representatives from the local small business community will meet representatives from the education community to discuss issues of mutual concern in a special panel discussion titled, Meeting the Future. The meeting will take place today from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in the Gregory Forum. For more information, call Don Gerel at ext. 3118.

For $5 you can participate in Baptist Student Ministry's Broom Hockey game at Clackamas Town Center March 12 from 10 p.m. to 12:15 a.m. Those interested can call Ken at 657-5659.

CCC's Art Instructor Susanna Lundgren has two paintings displayed at an invitational group art show at Gallery 114, 114 S.W. Third in Portland. The exhibit will run through March 28.

Students looking to meet new people, save money and help the environment can pick up an application for The Carpool Connection. Applications are available through April 9 in the Student Activities office. Applicants will be matched with the commuters in their areas with whom they could share rides to and from school. Matching begins March 12. For answers to questions concerning the carpool, contact Shirley Hewitt in ASG at ext. 2598.

Two women poets, Kate Gray and Paulann Petersen, will be reading their work today at noon in the Gregory Forum. Both are published authors with a broad literary background.

The bookstore will begin its end of Winter Term book buy back on Monday. The bookstore will also be open during spring break daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Musical group
Motherlode

will perform on Friday in the Skylight Room from noon to 1 p.m.
The group includes local female musicians.

Affair w/ Hair-Student Nail Special

Gladstone

657-7860

Full set
$25Fill-ins
$15

New Customers subject to (one time only) $3.50 file fee

The Clackamas Print

Editors-in-Chief:

Melissa Freels, Robert A. Hibberd

News Editor:

Nolan C. Kidwell

Feature Editor:

Heidi Branstator

Sports Editor:

Daphne Hartt

Copy Editors:

Jason Eck, Paul Valencia

Photo Editor:

Anjanette Booth

Business Manager:

Scott Morris

Staff Writers: Hafidha Acuay, Melissa Baughman, Frank Jordan, Jeff Kemp, Zach Kreinheder, Daniel J. Mala, Tina McFarland, Tyson Morrow, Tracey Roozenboom, Staci Smith, Claudia Smulders, Eric St. Anthony's, Nicole Turley

Photographer: Sandy DeBarbieriAdviser: Linda Vogt

The Clackamas Print aims to be a fair and impartial newspaper covering the college community. Opinions expressed in The Clackamas Print do not necessarily reflect those of the college administration, faculty or advertisers. The Clackamas Print is a weekly publication distributed every Wednesday except for finals week. The open advertising rate is $4.13 per column inch. Clackamas Community College, 19600 S. Molalla Avenue, Oregon City, Oregon; 97045, Barlow 104. Telephone: 657-6958, ext. 2309 (office), ext. 2577 (advertising, news), ext. 2578 (features, photos, copy, sports), ext. 2576 (Editors-in-chief).

'Secrets' teaches facts on AIDS

Photo by Anjanette Booth

by Staci Smith
Staff Writer

"Secrets," an educational play developed by Kaiser Permanente to increase young adults' awareness of HIV and AIDS, was performed Wednesday in the Gregory Forum for Tri Cities Alternative High School.

The play follows several stories, but is based around the character Eddie who decides to get an AIDS test because he "shared a needle with a kid in school and one with the soccer team in Seattle."

Eddie's girlfriend Monica, his father and a couple of other characters connected to him all witness his journey from the possibility of being infected to the positive test result.

There are five characters in the play; the father, a young girl who gets engaged named Denise, Monica who is Eddie's girlfriend, the student who shoots up with Eddie, and Eddie, all who end up being infected with HIV because of careless interaction between one another.

The characters in the play are to be positive role models and to show the audience how to have good decision-making skills when it comes to AIDS prevention by stressing that, "communication is the most important thing."

The play runs 45 minutes and contains original music and high-emotion drama.

The play is followed by a 15-minute question and answer session. The actors return to the stage and open the floor up to students to ask any questions concerning AIDS and HIV.

Dave Johannes, who plays Eddie, stated, "We go through extensive education to be able to answer all the students' questions."

The actors all spoke with Kaiser doctors, AIDS counselors, people with AIDS, and attended a Multnomah County outreach program and went to an AIDS hospice, all for a month and they are still required to read all articles pertaining to HIV and AIDS.

"We're out there educating people that abstinence is the only way to be 100 percent safe and we want to encourage people involved in high-risk activities to get tested," Johannes concluded.

Problems addressed by task force

by Jeff Kemp
Staff Writer

A group of about 15 students and staff members, established by Assistant Dean John Hooley, will make up a new team called the Public Safety Task Force.

The main objective of the task force is to inform people about some of the different topics that affect everyone involved with the college.

The group met for the first time on Feb. 22. The scheduled agenda included questions directed toward Director of Public Safety Jim Brouillette and Public Safety Supervisor Jim Wiseman, regarding the efforts of the public safety unit. The task force was supplied with some prep handouts so that they could familiarize themselves with some of the basic laws that are enforced by public safety. It also included a brief history of the role and accomplishments of the Public Safety Department.

One of the biggest concerns that the Public Safety Task Force has to deal with is the parking issue. The second meeting, that was held on March 1, directly addressed many of the students' and faculties' concerns regarding this popular issue. The information discussed in the meeting was contributed to the task force through the efforts of the Research and Planning Department.

Melissa Banks, a coordinator of the Student Issues Survey, reported that most of the difficulties regarding parking resulted on the main campus. The survey identified where students park and how often they do so. It also allowed students and faculty to give their impressions of the problem, if any, they saw with parking. The results of the survey concluded that of the people asked, about half of them said that parking was a problem while the other half didn't see parking as posing a serious predicament.

The Public Safety Task Force is scheduled to meet on March 8 at 2 p.m. in the Dye Learning Center Rm. 126. The group will consider the question of reserving parking for those who work late. They will also discuss the need to educate the college community about what Public Safety does. Another topic that will be looked at is the continued association of the Public Safety and Criminal Justice Departments to facilitate the use and training of cadets. Banks will also be on hand to answer questions about the Student Issues Survey.